PARTY HAD SPENT SUNDAY HOL IDAYING AND WERE RETURN-ING WHEN SQUALL CAUSED THE BOAT TO CAPSIZE-WERE THROWN INTO TWENTY-FIVE FEET OF WATER.

Chatham, July 4.-Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McDougall, Mrs. Howard and Miss Faricoll, four of a party of eight Wal. laceburg people, lost their lives early this evening, when a gasoline launch in which they were returning from Algonac capsized in the St. Clair River a short distance from the Michigan city. The party had spent the day holi-daying and were on their way back to Wallaceburg when the fatal accident occurred. The launch was travelling at a rapid rate when a sudden squall caused it to capsize and precipitate its passengers into about 25 feet of water.

The strong current at the spot swept the struggling people almost out of reach of another boat that witnessed the mishap and at once put to the rescue. By quick work the occupants of the second craft managed to save four members of the ill-fate; party, But Mr. and Mrs. McDougall, who were married only recently, Mrs. How. and and Miss Faricoll perished.

At 10 o'clock to night the body of Mrs. Howard only had been recover ed. The sourch for the other bodies is still being maintained.

HAMILTON DOCTOR

KILLED IN OFFICE Hamilton, July 2.- Hepworth Holmes, believed to be a resident of Grav nhurst, today shot and killed Dr Harry Williams and immediately turned the weapon on himself with fatal results.

The generally accepted theory of the murder is that the motive for the crime was the doctor's refusal to treat Holmes for advanced tuberculosis, the former having told his sister that treatment was useless.

The police, however, are now work. ing on the theory that there may have been another motive, which they decline to divulge.

Holmes died to-night without regaining consciousness. When found, he was lying on the floor with an automatic revolver from which four shots had been fired, three of them evidently in the office, near his hand.

SPIES IN ITALY

How Austrian and Bavarian Tourist Amused Themselves.

Talk of spying along the Italo Austrian frontier apparently is justified by the refuted disovery of a carefully-planned espionage system developed by Austrians and Germans, especially in the Garda region and along the Adriatic coast, says a despatch from the Italian frontier Every summer many Austrians and Hungarians have visited the towns, villages and fishing hamlets, finding lodgings in hotels and the homes o peasants. Most of the men amused themselves, it is said, by drawing painting and taking photographs while the women cultivated friendly relations with the natives who wer their temporary neighbors. It is now believed that many of these visitors were in the secret service of the Teu tonic empires.

There is reason to believe also, the authorities declare, that large adver tising signs erected along the railway lines, especially near important junc-tions, really were intended to provide directions for airships or warships by means of a secret code. Buoys anshored off the coast are believed to have been designed to serve as range. tion—the standard rifle shell for all factories are starved for orders while finders for naval artillery. It is asserted that it was one of these prearranged plans which enabled an Austrian warship at Senigallia to fire with such accuracy as to strike a re-volving railway bridge at Ancona, 16 miles away. A transport was passing when the shell struck and eight soldiers were killed, while several other

Ottawa, July 3.-Finance Minister To which Major-General Hughes re White's explanation that Canada plied that thirty-two dollars was loesn't get as many war contracts reasonable price and that the British from the British Government as she might because exchange is against us in New York is the subject of a great deal of amusing comment at the capital. It is about as reasonable as saying that the law of gravitation doesn't work because Bob Rogers is going to run in Carleton County or that the moon has ceased to influence the tides pecause Premie: Borden gets his feet wet when he waters the garden. Finance Minister White's explanation does not explain why Canadian manu facturers with a pull get contracts which they have no plants to fill, while anadian manufacturers with plants which could fill the contracts in a hurry have no pull with the Purchas. Committee, stationed in New York, which has the sanction of the Canadian Minister of Militia and does line of business calculated to make even Bob Rogers jealous.

This Purchasing Committee, which has been on the job ever since the war started, consists as far as can be learned, of two colonels-one real or Tipperary colonel and one honorary-and an honorary major. honorary officers are both of Major-General Hughes' appointment and one of them, the colonel, is chairman of the committee His name is John Wesley Allison, a fine name for an ambush. Colonel John Wesley Allison is an expatriated patriot, an old pupil of the Major General, who was once a schoolmaster, one of the per-fect flowers of his teaching and influence and therefore to be trusted with large sums of money. Of course all the Major-General's old pupils are not built that way-for example Honorary Major McQuarrie's foot slipped -but a fair percentage of them are evel-headed men and can be relied on not to make bad breaks. In times of peace Colonel Allison is secretary of a New York sleeping car company but in times of war he wakes up and is at least twenty-five per cent more

The other colonel on the committee s named Morgan. He is the genuine article, imported from the old coun try and his name is one which suggests stirring adventure on the high seas. Honorary Major Thomas, the other member of the Committee, is also a find of Major-General Sam's He is a transportation expert and he sprang into fame by going over the same ground as Honorary Major Thomas Russelle another of Major General Sam's proteges, and saving half the money Major Russell had found it necessary to spend in the first wild scramble for armored cars motor trucks and things like that.

This New York Purchasing Com mittee was formed with the definite object of protecting the British War Office which is supposed to chafe if ley-he couldn't if he would and he it comes into direct contact with the manufacturers. To prevent the second of Government is waking up and is second necessary to throw up a screen of middlemen. Which, as the Majoring a special commissioner, D. R. Thomas, over to ask about it. The manufacturers. To prevent this it is ingly. From that day to this the New | fault seems to be that the New York York Purchasing Committee has never faltered in its heroic work for Can ada and the British Empire

During the last session of Parlia ment its operations came under scrut iny from Dr. Pugsley who asked if the American factories being glutted seventy-five million rounds of Mark Seven Point 303 small arms ammuni.

GERMAN HATE A TONIC

The Right Hon. Sir George Reid, sknowledging as High Commissioner of the Commonwealth of Australia, said that twenty years of German friendship would have been more fatal their asphyxiating gas, which seemed the last word in diabolical cowardice; while twenty years of German hate would be quite a healthy, bracing tonic. One of the painful asbracing tonic. One of the painful astoniahments of the war was the strange ferocity so suddenly developted in the average German. It seemed to justify what some said of him—that from the cradle to his grave he was such a creature of authority that him to do.

Glen Cove, N. Y., July 4.-Frank Holt, the former Cornell University instructor, who attempted to assass inate J. P. Morgan, at East Isle, Mr Morgan's summer home, near here vesterday, has confessed that he was the man who set the bomb which exploded in the United States capitol at Washington last night.

Mr. Morgan, the victim of the bull ets which Holt fired on Saturday morning, was said by specialists at his bedside to be resting well to-night No vital organ, the physicians announced, had been involved in his

One of the sticks he stuck into his pocket along with two loaded revolvers, for use, if necessary, in his mission at the Morgan home. It was not used, but was found when he was locked up. At first the police thought the dynamite played a minor role in his plane to assassinate Mr. Morgan. RUSSIANS CONTINUE TO RETREAT IN GALICIA

Von Mackensen's Forces Swinging North in Daring Endeavor to Split the Grand Duke's Armies.

London, July 4.-10.40 p.m.-At rate estimated at five miles a day Gen, Von Mackensen's forces are still winging northward in Galicia and Poland in a colossal and daring endeavor to drive a wedge into the Russian centre, and dislodge the Russians from the Vistula River and force them back over the Bug, thus splitting the Grand Duke's forces into two sec tions, with thousands of acres of swamp and marsh land between them.

If the Austro-Germans can continu their progress another week, even the British press admits the Russians will have to give up Warsaw, and with it the whole line. In the meantime the Germans are massing more troops in the Baltic provinces, and the recent encounter in the Baltic seems to suggest that they contemplate co-ordin ate naval action, but it is possible that the sea operations were only a In southeast Galicia the Russian that a great sufferer from chronic dyspeps a made to a celebrated phys. cian. The physician had a hugh emp ty punch bowl at his elbow. Presently he butler entered and poured a cock tail into the bowl. As the patient talk ed he saw the butler put one article after another into the bowl. When he had finished, the bowl was half full; it held oysters, bread butter salted almonds, soup, fish, cucumbers, celery, two or three vegetables, chicken, champague, bonbons, assorted fruits, cakes, ice cream, cheese and coffee.

When the patient had come to the end of his own aches and pains, the physician gravely led him to the bowl and said, "This is your stomach after a full dinner; can you wonder that it is often uncomfortable, and finally rebels against you?"

It would be well if every so-called 'good liver" thought more of the burden he puts on that long-suffering and faithful slave, his stomach. Such a man is a good liver only in the sense that he eats good food—in many cases the very best that can be had. But he eats far too much and too often, and he mixes his food unwisely even reck lessly. Although he may long seem to be free from any ill results, the reckoning will surely come.

This is especially true of those who insist on a rich and copious diet and neglect to take enough exercise to keep the body free of its waste products. Healthy persons who live much in the open air and who follow regularly some form of physical exercise that obliges them to breath deeply S. E.
