Annapolis.

Annapolis, May 3.—Doupheney, alias Drake, who was arrested charged with stealing clothes and money frem on board the Monticelle, came up for trial on Wed-nesday before Judge Savary and was given two years in Dorchester with hard labor. A. M. Bishep is running his planing mill in full blast, and new has thirteen men employed and is leeking around for more. R. W. Hardwick will also build a mill during the summer, and will have fifteen men employed. This will make about twenty-five men that Mr. Hardwick has in his employ. Times are looking excellent, and there are better prospects for plenty of work than for many years.

Halifax, May 4.—Counsel has been retained by thirty-three of the crew of the steamer Newfoundland, who allege that Captain Farquhar refuses to pay them the amounts due as their shares of the sealing trip. They say Captain Farquhar states that the value of the skins has greatly deteriorated owing to their being kept on board the steamer so long. The men claim that they should not be made to suffer as a consequence, alleging that the captain should have landed the catch seener.

A resident of Bridgetown sends $50 to Harry Way, grocer of this city, accompanied by a note saying: "This money is rightfully yours, I will explain at another time." The sender of the money at one time kept a shop in Halifax, and in some way wrongfully obtained the money in question. After leaving Halifax he connected himself with a Bridgetown church, and has since led a Christian life.

A fire tonight on Granville street badly damaged two wooden buildings, one ewned by George Flawn, restaurant keeper; the other by Mr. McKay, of Truro. Flawn's insurance was $4,700, and McKay's insurance is unknown. McKay's building was eccupied by Mrs. Brocking as a bearding house. She had no insurance, and will lose heavily.

There is a good chance of an interesting legal fight over the Queen hotel. Some time ago the mertgage of $45,000 was foreclosed, and the building was bought by the bendsmen. A. B. Sheraton occupied the building as a tenant of the Queen Hetel company, now in liquidation. The bondsmen, after the purchase, offered to sell to Mr. Sheraton, without success. They refused to rent him the building and ordered him to vacate the premises. This he refused to do. Since May last the bondsmen have had a balliff in the hotel as a representative of their ownership, but Mr. Sheraton also remained. The bondsmen had made up their mind to eject him today. But Mr. Sheraton forestalled them by obtaining from the supreme court an injunction restraining the bendsmen from laterfering with him in his tenancy. A squad of police were in front of the hotel to preserve order in case of possible hostilities. They were withdrawn and the next move will probably be an argument of the injunction in court.

HALIFAX, May 6.—Judge Graham was engaged Saturday afternoon hearing the argument on an injunction asked for by A. B. Sheraton, of the Queen hotel, to restrain Donald Keith from attempting to eject him. The bendamen contend that if Sneraton had a lease it expired April 30th. Sheraton claims that his lease dees not expire till November 1st. There is a large array of counsel. The argument is adjourned till Tuesday.

Seven vacancies en the Halifax police force were filled Saturday evening by the commission. There were thirty-five applicants. John McDonald, aged 24, escaped from his keeper at Mount Hope asylum yesterday and drowned himself in the harbor in front of the asylum grounds.

and in this case present an admirable and vivid picture with realistic surroundings of a phase of duty which never fails in interest. The scenic effects and thrilling situations are worked up to powerful climaxes and are made doubly impressive by the perfection of detail attained in setting the stage. The play has action, interest and character; it holds the interest of the audience by its intense dramatic power and its rapidity of movement. It pessesses some good comedy and is good and pure in tene. The fire engine scene is without question one of the most inspiring and spirited scenes ever put upon the stage. Those famous trained horses, Bucephalus and Pegasus, are still with the company, which is headed by that excellent actor and St. John favorite, Will S. M. B. Curtis, after two years of tragedy in'real life, has reappeared on the New York stage in Sam'l of Posen, the Jewish drummer, brought up te date. Curtis was enthusiastically received, and his play bids fair to replace the fortune he used up in defending himself against a charge of murder in San Francisco. He was tried three times. The first jury disagreed; the second trial was cut short by the death of a juryman, but the third resulted in his acquittal. Miss Eleanor Barry is playing Mile. Celesta in Sam'l of Posen at the Standard theatre, New York. The Mercury pronounces her work excellent, while Chas. A. Byrne, in the Morning Journal, says, "She seemed to give minute attention to every detail, particularly in her assumption of the French accent, and her dressing is most becoming and rich." Mile. Rhea played a successful engagement at the Grand Opera house, Toronto, last week, preducing the New Magdalen, Josephine, Camille and La Gioconda. Rhea, like Medjeska, possesses that rare histrionic talent, ability to revivify and perfect old types in new lights, without obliterating their fundamental characteristics. As Josephine, Empress of the French, Rhea's beauty as well as genius is joenspicuously shown, while W. S. Hart, her leading man, has made a great hit as Napoleon. The thir zenth game of the match was begun at three o'cleck yesof the match was begun at three o'cleck yesterday. Lasker having the first move, epened with his favorite Ruy Lopez. The defence to this opening, recommended by Steinitz in his chess works, is P—Q 3, but evidently he has lost faith in this line of defence, as he abandoned it for the more usual one of P—Q—R 3. On the sixth move Lasker offered the exchange of queens, which Steinitz accepted, and the game continued pretty evenly balanced until the adjournment at six o'clock.
