

Flanders And France Re-Visited

Delightful and interesting Travelogue Address Delivered by Mrs. E. Atherton Smith Last Evening.

The hall of the Natural History Museum was filled to capacity last evening on the occasion of the travelogue address, "Flanders and France Re-Visited," delivered by Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, who made a journey to these places in the spring of 1920. The speaker's program was under the auspices of the Local Council of Women, and the meeting was presided over by Mrs. R. J. Hooper. The audience listened with great attention to Mrs. Smith's address, which proved to be one of the most interesting ever given to a local audience. At the close of her address a hearty vote of thanks, moved by J. Fraser Gregory, was tendered to the speaker, who was also made the recipient of three beautiful bouquets.

In opening her address, Mrs. Smith told her audience that it had been her greatest desire since the ending of the armistice, to make a pilgrimage to the scenes which commemorate the heroic deeds of those brave men who now lie in France and Flanders. Plans were made accordingly and, with the Melita sailed for Liverpool in March, 1920, among those who took passage were Mr. and Mrs. Smith, together with a large party of St. John people who were on their way to visit the Old Country. The voyage was a splendid one from all angles, and the party enjoyed every minute of it. Arriving in Liverpool, the party spent a few days in that city before proceeding to London.

The speaker described the country through which they passed on their way to the English metropolis as a country which to see was to love, and she incidentally mentioned that it was her intention to give another travelogue talk at some future date on the subject, "From London Through the Heart of England, by Auto." At the time the party arrived in England the country was threatened with a general strike of the railroad systems on account of a general strike, and they decided to proceed immediately to the continent before a paralysis of transportation lines occurred.

It was like time and, as they went down to Dover to take passage for France, the country presented a most extraordinary appearance. The party passed through Ghent, and spent a short time in Folkestone, through which 4,000,000 soldiers were transported on their way to France during the war. The army of occupation was just returning to England at that time and were being held in Folkestone in readiness for mobilization should the need develop to such an extent as to warrant the need of soldiers.

Mrs. Smith briefly dealt with her first impressions of France and Belgium upon her arrival there. She told of visiting Ostend, famous for the stirring episode which occurred at Zeebrugge during the late war. The first auto trip which the party made in this country was taken to Zeebrugge for the purpose of viewing the world famous mole, the immense sand dunes which the Belgian army had fortified. From there a visit was paid to Bruges, a quaint old town and the real liner submarine base of the German navy, and a trip was also made to Ghent, the last Belgian town to be liberated before the armistice. Mrs. Smith said that she scarcely saw any smiling on her pilgrimage through war-torn Flanders.

After passing through war-torn fields and scenes of devastation, they finally came to St. John's. The Canadian troops covered themselves with glory, and where a permanent Canadian memorial will soon be erected on grounds set out by the Belgian Government, just east of Passchendaele, another scene of Canadian gallantry during the war.

The speaker described vividly the scenes around the Tyros salient, the last resting place of thousands of British heroes, and the place where the greatest battle the British Empire has ever had to fight was waged. On the itinerary the party passed St. Kemmel, Arras, Ypres, Passchendaele, and other places of historic interest, and all the way, in view, were German dug-outs and miles of barbed wire. They travelled to Brussels by rail, and visited Malines, Antwerp, Louvain, and the field of Waterloo, among other places of interest.

Central Choir Sacred Concert

Large Audience Greatly Enjoyed Programme Given Under Direction of Professor J. U. Brander.

Under the direction of A. U. Brander, the choir of Central Baptist church gave their fifth concert last evening and the programme proved delightful throughout. Special mention might be made of "The Cherub Hymn," a fine example of unaccompanied music of the Russian church, "By Babylon Wave," written by Gounod at the time of the German occupation of Paris in the seventies, and "God is Watching Over All," sung by the Central Ladies Chorus, and rendered with exquisite finish.

Mr. Mathewson, suffering from a severe cold, delighted his audience with his rendition of "The Ninety and Nine," and Mr. Thomas gave a fine interpretation of "Like a Tree in the Wind." Mr. Mathewson was heard with pleasure in John Priddle Scott's "The Voice in the Wilderness," and Miss Drown's solo, "All in an April Evening," was sung with the devotional spirit that was so in keeping with the text. Miss Bertie Campbell was to have sung Gounod's "Oh Divine Redeemer," but was obliged to cancel same, on account of a severe cold.

This concert marked the appearance of Miss Nan Powers, and Miss Julia Crawford, two talented readers, whose work was greatly enjoyed and who were obliged to respond to accolades. Miss Beryl Blanch presided as organ, and her sympathetic accompanying added greatly to the success of the evening.

The programme is as follows: Anthem—Sing Oh Heavens Sullivan; Mr. Mathewson and Choir; Tenor solo—Ninety and Nine; Douglas Mathewson, Canto; Reading—The Signal; Miss Nan Powers; Anthem—Cherub Hymn; Tchaikovsky; Central Choir; Tenor solo—The Voice in the Wilderness; Wm. Mathewson; Ladies' Chorus—God is Watching Over All; Central Ladies' Chorus; Bass solo—Like as the Hart, Alliston; Douglas Thorne; Reading—Nuncius; Miss Julia Crawford; Anthem—Sanctus (St. Cecilia Mass); Gounod; Alto solo—All in an April Evening; Diach; Miss Nita H. Brown; Anthem—Babylon Wave; Gounod; Central Choir; Miss Beryl Blanch, organist.

WAS TROUBLED WITH HER LIVER FOR OVER 4 MONTHS

When the liver becomes slow, stagnant and torpid it is not working properly and does not supply sufficient bile to thoroughly act on the bowels and carry off the waste products of the system, hence the bowels become clogged up, the bile gets into the blood, constipation sets in and liver troubles follow among which are, sick or bilious headaches, nervousness, water-brush, jaundice, itching spots before the eyes, pain under the right shoulder, coated tongue, bad breath, yellow eyes, etc.

MILBURN'S LAX-LIVER PILLS quickly remove the secretions, clear away the clogs and waste matter by acting directly on the liver, and making the bile pass through the bowels instead of allowing it to get into the blood.

Cases Dealt With In Police Court

Lemon Extract Case—Second-Hand Store Dealers Fined—Other Cases Heard.

In the police court yesterday afternoon, two liquor cases were taken up, and both postponed until Monday afternoon. Roukes Tobias, charged with keeping liquor for sale on his premises, 71 Erie street, on Saturday, pleaded not guilty and case was set over until next Monday. Irvine Appleby, charged with selling lemon extract for beverage purposes, on April 6, pleaded not guilty, but afterwards withdrew his plea. J. A. Barry appeared for the defendant on Saturday and case was set over until Monday next.

Two by-law cases were dealt with in the police court yesterday morning. Isaac Williams and Joseph Gilbert pleaded not guilty to the charge of keeping their second hand stores open after nine o'clock on Wednesday evening. Sergeant McLeese, and Policeman Dykeman and Coughlan testified that they had entered both stores shortly after 9.30 o'clock on the evening in question, and had found the defendants in their respective places of business with the lights on. The defendants were each fined $30.

May Dobson pleaded not guilty to a charge of wandering about and not giving a satisfactory account of herself. Policemen Dykeman and Coughlan testified that they saw her with her brother-in-law, James Dobson, at about 11.30 o'clock on Saturday night. The witnesses said that the man was drunk, and that neither could give a satisfactory account of their actions, and were locked up. The defendant was remanded.

Eight men and one woman were charged with drunkenness, and the men pleaded guilty to the charge, but the woman said that she had had nothing to drink. Policeman O'Neil told of seeing her go into a cafe about 9.30 o'clock on Sunday night, and of seeing her staggering down the street at about 11.30 o'clock. She was placed under arrest. All the defendants were remanded after being warned that they were liable to fines of from $200 to $250 each.

Dr. J. C. Dore returned yesterday from St. Stephen where he was on a visit to relatives.

GERMAN ENVOY TO U. S. WOULD FORGET PAST

Dr. Wiedfeldt Wants to Deal Only With the Problems of Today.

Berlin, April 10.—Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, the new German Ambassador to Washington, told The New York Herald correspondent today that the recent speech of Alanson H. Houghton, the new American Ambassador to Berlin, tallied exactly with his views on German-American relations. "Not only was his speech inspired by a spirit of justice," said Dr. Wiedfeldt, "but also was proof of extraordinary clear sight. Mr. Houghton's opinion of the necessity of putting aside war guilt meets my whole-hearted approval. "As a manufacturer I would put aside the questions of the past and concentrate my attention upon the problems of the present and the future. My attitude means no tacit acceptance of other stand on the question of war guilt. It is inspired merely by the feeling that the past, about which volumes could be written, would only hamper the spirit of straightforward business which it is my intention to represent in America. Dr. Wiedfeldt hopes to meet Mr. Houghton in Berlin before sailing for Washington at the end of April.

AT THE HOSPITALS

Cyril Creary, an electrician of 377 Main street, who was removed to the General Public Hospital yesterday morning after sustaining a cut over the eye and injuries to the back by being struck by the arm of an electrical crane on which he was working at the Sugar Refinery, was reported to be fairly comfortable at an early hour this morning. James Gibbs, of the C. G. M. M., who was admitted to the infirmary some few days ago suffering from pneumonia, is reported to be in about the same condition as when admitted. Michael L. Barret, who is being treated at the infirmary for injuries received in a railway accident at the Union Depot, Saturday night, is reported to be improving.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT

St. Mary's Band gave a very enjoyable concert, last evening, to the inmates of the Provincial Hospital, Fallville, and their programme of musical selections proved a rare treat to the audience. At the close of the concert, refreshments were served to the members of the band. The band are planning to visit the Boys' Industrial Home on Thursday evening of the week, where they will give a concert.

LIQUOR CASE

An interesting case, which concerns the legality of the sale of liquor in New Brunswick for shipment into the United States, will be argued before the full bench of the Supreme Court, appeals division at Fredericton today. It is the case of the King vs Ritchie, ex parte Percy Hand. The case arose over the seizure of a truck load of whiskey, said to have been the property of Pope D. MacKinnon, by local liquor inspectors, after which Mr. Hand was charged with illegal sale. The defendant took out an injunction against the chief inspector to restrain him from holding the liquor and the matter was argued before the Supreme Court, which referred it back to Magistrate Ritchie, but upholding the decision made in some of the other provinces that liquor could be sold for legitimate export purposes. The magistrate, however, found that it was not a bona fide sale for export purposes and gave his decision against the defendant. An order for certiorari was granted by the Supreme Court returnable today. Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C. and W. M. Ryan, will appear on behalf of the police magistrate and Dr. F. K. Taylor, K. C., on behalf of the appellants.

THE HIGH 'VITAMINE' ICE CREAM IS PURITY

PURITY HEATHIZED ICE CREAM is known as the "High Vitamine" Ice Cream because scientific experiments have shown that Heathization protects the precious vitamins which exposure to the air destroys.

Don't overlook the importance of vitamins. And don't forget that science has proved that exposure to air reduces and often destroys the vitamins in foods.

Vitamines are the mysterious elements of food which promote growth and health. The greater the supply of vitamins the stronger and the healthier you are.
