

NO GENERAL INDUSTRIAL UNREST HERE

S. R. Parsons Tells C. M. A. Things Are Not So Very Bad.

INTERNATIONALS TO BLAME FOR STRIKES

Still Working for More Uniform Legislation on Commercial Law in Canada.

Quebec, June 8.—Denial that general industrial unrest existed in Canada as claimed in some quarters was made this morning at a session of the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, by S. R. Parsons, Toronto.

The convention was considering the reports of its industrial relations committee which made a reservation to the growth of the "open shop" movement in the United States.

Mr. Parsons asked where was the great gulf they sometimes heard about between employer and employee. Only here and there could be discovered evidence of trouble in industrial plants. Yet they heard that from one end of the country to the other there was disquiet. There must be some reason for this circulation of incorrect information.

Mr. Parsons suggested that "the great army of men engaged in running labor movements would lose their jobs if they were not engaged in disseminating propaganda of this sort."

Great Mass Unorganized.

Mr. Parsons, continuing, said that unorganized labor had no voice in running the country, that the great mass of labor was unorganized. Why had the open shop movement obtained such a headway in the United States? It was clear from the utterance of labor leaders. When Mr. Compens, president of the American Federation of Labor, was in Toronto, he referred to the U. S. steel corporation as the "autocracy of industry."

Mr. Parsons said he himself had no brief for the steel corporation, but he could remind them that it had fifty thousand of its employees amongst its shareholders and had spent $70,000,000 in welfare work. He would like to know about the autocracy of labor and its tyranny. He would like to know about the causes of the printers' strike in Toronto and other places. He had heard that printers who had gone on strike had stated that they had nothing to do with the hours of work or salaries.

International To Blame.

They had gone on strike on orders from Washington. Mr. Parsons reminded his audience that only Greece had carried out the conventions passed at the labor convention in Washington in 1919.

Mr. Parsons said he believed that the Roman Catholic union had done much to stabilize labor conditions in Quebec and in other provinces.

In conclusion Mr. Parsons said that the attitude of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association toward the labor question was that it recognized all men had the right to organize. It also recognized that all men had also the right not to organize. As employers they had to do right things by all the men in their plants, no matter what organization or church he belonged to or if he belonged to none at all.

After Uniform Legislation.

The legislation committee reported that it had continued its efforts towards obtaining uniformity of legislation on commercial law throughout Canada, and added that the plethora of legislation annually produced was making the paths of the law more bewildering.

The remedy was in codification and the passing of fewer acts. The report of the transportation committee which was also considered during the morning claimed that high operating costs, high rates and declining rates of materials cannot continue without serious results to both the railway companies and shipping public.

A revision of the cost of operating the report stated, might be expected in the very near future.

Takes Exception To St. John Man's Claims

Woodstock Claims to Have the Checker Champion of New Brunswick.

Armostock Junction, N. B., June 8.—The St. John Standard published last week news of a checker match between two St. John players, and announced that the winner would play J. H. Letimer, the acknowledged champion of New Brunswick. Mr. Letimer is a little premature in claiming this title, and it is understood that an amount of anything from $100 to $1,000 has been offered on Frank McClymont, of Woodstock, to play Mr. Letimer for that title, and Mr. Langley, C. P. R. champion, is of opinion that Frank (Zeze) McClymont is undoubtedly the one who has best claim to the title of champion.

A Curio. In one hall of the great Museum was a steel case with heavy bars protecting the glass front. Inside the case rested an ordinary business statement.

"And what is this?" we asked the Guide. "That is the rarest document in the Museum," replied the Guide. "That is a Doctor's Bill that was paid on the day after it was presented!"

Dogs are mentioned 49 times in the Bible and usually with contempt. The first reference to the dog occurs in the story of the bondage of the Israelites in Egypt.

German Junkers Urging Pogroms

Would Also Wipe Out the "Vulgar English and Treacherous French."

Berlin, June 8.—A violent anti-semitic campaign, being run by ultra-nationalist hot heads and anti-semitists, bulked largely in the jubilee anniversary celebration throughout the country, many speakers indulging in open incitement to Jewish pogroms. Not a few meetings were conspicuous for threats against the Government, menaces of another Kapp coup, homage to the ex-kaiser and praise for the war criminals. Such sentiments were loudly applauded by large gatherings all over the country. Another "day" inavariably was joyfully hailed as certain to come.

Berates English.

Admiral von Trotha, ardent Kapp supporter and notorious for the part he played in the plot to sink the German fleet in Scapa Flow, declared at a Berlin meeting that he "looks forward to the day when a new Kaiserly fleet will wipe out the vulgar English and the treacherous French."

Forwarder demands the arrest of a trial for high treason of Petty Officer Nissen, who, at the same meeting, advocated the overthrow of the Government by means of another Kapp coup, and added:

"In no circumstances should a single English witness be allowed to leave Leipzig alive."

The stupid treacherous should be hanged by the neck, and the stupid dupes who listen to and believe them, but the Government runs serious risks in allowing dangerous fools to go about urging equally scattered-brained persons to cause serious trouble.

Trouble Brewing In Vladivostok

Blame Japanese for Anti-Bolshevik Gov't Which Has Been Set Up.

Tokyo, June 8.—Military operations against the anti-Bolshevik elements which have established the new government in Vladivostok are threatened in a note from the Far Eastern republic, says a Harbin despatch to the Nichi Shimbun of this city.

The note declares that hostilities will begin if Japan does not agree to permit the Far Eastern republic to suppress political disturbances in Vladivostok and if Japan does not recognize the authority of the militia elements in the maritime provinces and restore arms which were confiscated.

The government of the Far Eastern republic is said to have made a general accusation that the Japanese army had arranged the coup d'etat in Vladivostok and to have supported the anti-Bolshevik element in the movement.

The note is declared to have asked whether Tokyo sanctioned the action of the army in this matter, and also whether Japan has any sincere intention of opening friendly relations with the Far Eastern republic.

Hun U-Boat Sunk In Lake Michigan

Chicago, June 8.—The German submarine U-91, was sunk yesterday in Lake Michigan, some 20 miles off Chicago, by the four-inch guns of the U. S. S. Wilmette.

The U-boat, with a known record of seven Allied ships sunk, was destroyed in accordance with provisions of the treaty of Versailles.

KILLED BY THE FUMES MEANT FOR THE CAT

Trying to End Sufferings of Sick Animal He Inhaled Vapor.

FOUND UNCONSCIOUS ON GROUND BY WIFE

Died Three Hours Later Without Regaining Consciousness—Cat Escaped.

Philadelphia, June 8.—Overcome by fumes of chloroform while he was attempting to end the life of a cat yesterday, Frank Souders, 60 years old, of Central avenue, Paoli, became unconscious and died within three hours. Just before he succumbed to the fumes, the cat escaped from his grasp and scampered away.

The cat, which had been a family pet for twelve years, recently developed distemper, and upon the advice of a veterinary Souders decided to end its misery by chloroform. He waited until his wife and two daughters left the house and then took the animal to a back shed.

Inhaled Fumes. Soaking a large rag with chloroform, Souders placed the rag over the mouth of the animal, which scratched and struggled. Determined to go through with the disagreeable task Souders bent over the cat and thus inhaled the deadly fumes.

When Mrs. Souders returned a short time later she found her husband lying unconscious on the ground. She summoned neighbors, who carried him into the house, where he died without regaining consciousness. Mr. Souders was an engineer on the Schuylkill division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Two daughters also survive him.

Fire in Dublin destroyed the tax records. At least the Irish have something to be thankful for.

Roundly Condemns Capital Punishment

Rev. Wilfred Gaetz Has Nothing Good to Say for Death Penalty.

Hamilton, June 8.—Capital punishment for convicted murderers was roundly condemned in Centenary Methodist Church last night by Rev. Wilfred Gaetz, of Woodstock, who, as spiritual adviser to the late Norman Garfield, witnessed the execution of the latter last Thursday morning.

"We say that method is necessary because it restrains crime. I say that if a method so ghastly as that restrains crime, why let us go back to the thumbscrew and other forms of barbaric torture. We justify the gallows because it was only by a barbaric king. This is man's way; but I hold that it is not God's way to serve justice. I never knew justice to be served by a rigid application without untempered Christian mercy. We cannot have justice tempered with Christian mercy so long as we erect scaffolds and make men walk to them to meet their doom," concluded Mr. Gaetz.

Mr. Gaetz was for some time pastor of Queen St. Methodist Church in this city.

WILL OBEY NEXT TIME

Brookville, Ont., June 8.—Robert S. Woods, a farmer of Elmshelm, Ont., disobeyed the signal of a flagman at a level crossing and drove in the path of an approaching train.

He escaped injury, but was fined for his action. Complaint was laid by the railway police. The conviction was the first of the kind ever made here.

Hundreds See Pistol Battle In The Street

Failed in Attempt to Hold up New York Jeweler Bandit Fights Hard.

New York, June 8.—Hundreds of men and women saw a pistol battle which started last night on 6th Ave., just south of Forty-second street, and ended with the capture of the bandit in the sub-basement of the Knickerbocker warehouse in Forty-second street, just east of Broadway. The running fight followed an attempt by a masked man and a masked woman to hold up Morris Sapo, a jeweler, in his shop on the second floor at 729 Sixth Ave.

The woman disappeared into the crowd, which scattered in all directions when the shooting began. One bullet, apparently fired at the bandit by a policeman, lodged in the thigh of Ira Holmes, who was seated at his desk about five feet behind the plate glass window of the Consolidated Ticket Office at 116 West Forty-first street, where he is employed.

According to reformers, short skirts should be no longer.
