THE BROKEN VASE. BY ANNA SMITH. The fragile beauty has perished!

'Tis broken in twain; buds, ye never may blosson Within it again. Violets, ye never within it May open your eyes, Tinged with the glorious beauty
Of God's sunset skies. Lily, you ne'er may unfaster Your dainty green cloak, Showing your delicate white robe To earthly born folk ;

Your beauty and grace. Held in the guardian class of My beautiful vase. 'tis a tenantless ruin, To nothingness brought Into whose heart would have glided This desolate thought! Would ye not rather have looked that The frail buds should die, ner than this, their rare casket In ruin should lie? ossibilities hover in Future to-morrows;

ness its gloomiest tinges
From brightest hope borrows Troubles are vailed from our eyes til Our gladness is done; See we not death till its struggle Lifeless, we seem but a ruin-A tentantless vase; Where we may find not the faintest Dim shalow or trace Of the rare, wonderful life that It's loved guest hath been Of the strange beauty of thought that Once blossomed within.

The fragile beauty that Art once

So patiently wrought, Now lies a tenantless ruin. To nothingness brought; Into whose heart would have glid d
This desolate thought! Five-Year-Old Boy's Perilous Feat [From the loston Herald.]

In Fall River on Saturday noon a little son of John Davis of that city, not five years old, got out of an open window into the gutter of the house, which is not more than three inches wide. In this narrow space, leaning probably upon the sloping roof, and at a height of thir.ytwo or thirty-three feet from the ground, the little fellow walked almost the entire length of the gutter on the north side of the block, and rounding the corner, pro-ceeded a few feet further on the east side until he reached another window, which he tried to enter, but not being able to open it, he undertook to turn around and he fell headlong to the ground, striking principally upon the left side of his head and cheek, and staining the ground with his blood. Within eight or ten inches of where he struck was an iron sink, and about the same distance on the other side was a pile of stones, and had he struck upon either he would probably have been instantly killed. A little girl who saw him fall ran and told his mother, and wher she came down and placed her arms under the prostrate, and, as she at first feared, the dead body of her little son, he faintly murmured, "Mother."

It is not known that any of his bones were broken, though those of his cheek may be injured to some extent. Not withstanding his severe injuries, the little fellow is up and moving about home. MOWING MACHINES!

Grateful Thousands proclaim VIN-GAR BITTERS the most wonderful Inigorant that ever sustained the No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkan-sas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Ro oke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive de-rangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a pow-erful influence upon these various or-gans, is essentially necessary. There no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the powels are loaded, at the same time bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus form armed.

f a system thus fore-armed. Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitatation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symp-toms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee Scrofula, or King's Evil, White
