

bounden duty to do. Conscience, deeply conscious of many imperfections and failings, and feeling that I owe everything, and every talent to that God who has so mercifully watched over and protected me both in prosperity and adversity.

My dear brethren, my sincere thanks for your very handsome and munificent gift, and COLONIAL. KING'S COLLEGE, WINNIPEG, NOVA SCOTIA.

This institution was founded fifty-five years ago, and originated with four clergymen in the city of New York, of whom the Rev. Dr. Dring was the first Bishop of Nova Scotia.

The local legislature granted a sum of money to purchase a site for the College, and gave £100

PROGRESS OF EDUCATION. In 1852, there were in Nova Scotia proper 420 schools, containing 11,771 scholars.

In 1851, there were 916 schools, with 20,561 scholars, being in the proportion of one pupil to every 81 of the population, a proportion usually regarded as denoting an adequate supply of the means of elementary instruction. This is not satisfactory.

UNITED STATES. INDIANA.—January 27th, the bishop visited the parish of St. Paul's Church, La Porte, and preached in the evening. On the 28th, he visited the parish of St. Paul's Church, Winkona, and preached in the morning and evening, and conferred with the clergy.

On the 30th, he visited the parish of St. Paul's PRESENTATION TO THE REV. R. A. CANNON. On Monday last the members of the Orange Association of the District of Quebec, presented the Rev. R. A. Cannon with a purse containing Forty Sovereigns, in appreciation of his valuable services as Chaplain of the Lodges in this city, and the faithful discharge of his duties as a minister of the Gospel.

REVEREND SIR & BROTHER.—We, the Orangemen of the District of Quebec, conscious that your separation from a congregation to whom you were endeared as a diligent pastor, and faithful and able expounder of the doctrines of Divine truth, through which it has secured the bond uniting you and your many brethren, may yet have tended to diminish your

My dear Friends and Brothers.—Upon an occasion like that which is the subject of this letter, it is of course expected that some reply should be made by me, and I trust you will not regard my answer as a letter as more empty expressions, but as the words of one who is deeply sensible of your generosity.

I am very glad you have alluded to the kindness of the University of Oxford, together with its sister institution, have ever been, from the days of Wycliffe to the present hour, the fountain-head of every reformatory movement in the English Church.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. We have received a communication from the Grand River, signed 'A Layman.' We must, however, decline inserting it, as the subject is secretly one that comes within the scope of our

DEATH OF BISHOP WILLIAM CAPERS. We are pleased to announce to-day the death of Bishop William Capers. This sad event occurred at his residence, on Monday morning, the 17th inst., at 10 o'clock

THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD. The University of Oxford, together with its sister institution, have ever been,

from the days of Wycliffe to the present hour,

the fountain-head of every reformatory movement

THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD. The University of Oxford,

together with its sister institution, have ever been,

from the days of Wycliffe to the present hour,

the fountain-head of every reformatory movement

THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD. The University of Oxford,

together with its sister institution, have ever been,

from the days of Wycliffe to the present hour,

the fountain-head of every reformatory movement

THE UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD. The University of Oxford,

together with its sister institution, have ever been,

from the days of Wycliffe to the present hour,

the fountain-head of every reformatory movement