Planning ahead ...

INTERESTING MARRIAGE ARRANGED — The arrangement of a marriage of wide interest to many friends and acquaintances in the Maritimes was suddenly announced yesterday by the bride's father, Aintit A. Shame, of Lower Southwest Port Mutton. The marriage of Omy Shame and Donald Deadbeat, son of Captain and Mrs. Weer Deadbeat, was held at St. Anne de Sackville Cathedral yesterday, conducted by Rev. William Tell. Shortly after the marriage the happy couple left hurriedly on their honeymoon trip to Halifax. The above picture shows Mr. and Mrs. Deadbeat Viewing the sights of Halifax.

BOOTLEG BUNNIES BEAR PLAYBOYS

Playboy, the American magazine banned in Nova Scotia last fall, is being smuggled into the province, The Gazette learned yesterday.

RCMP and City police refused comment, but it is understood the authorities are extremely worried by the smuggling outbreak, which one source suggested, is reminiscent of the old rum running days.

A private source last night disclosed some of the methods used to introduce the magazine into the province where it is selling at bootleg rates of $2.50 a copy. Fast boats leave New York with cargoes of Playboy and six or seven 'bunnies' to distribute them. The boats are believed to land the bunnies with their quota of magazines along the south shore and then the magazines are taken to secret hideouts in the woods.

The 'bunnies', barely clad for the climate, move into the cities and towns and the magazines are sold under the counter in certain stores.

We interviewed one 'bunny', who almost popped out of her fur when she described the efforts of one policewoman to take advantage of her figure to uncover the smugglers.

Popping Off

"It was unbelievable. She was just popping out in the wrong places. The wolves took one look at her and ran," she chortled, daintily sipping a carrot cocktail made from carrot juice and vodka.

Police admitted this particular attempt had been a failure, "but where can we find a potential bunny who won't defect to the wolves?" a spokesman wailed, a ball.

hurredly pushing a copy of the latest edition of Playboy under his blotter.

Meanwhile some religious leaders were urging swifter action to protect the morals of Nova Scotians. Rev. F.B. Woodrock told The Gazette he was considering making a trip to New York to visit the Playboy club and save a few bunnies, but his congregation wouldn't let him go in case he was overcome by a bunny and didn't return.

It seems unlikely that the smuggling will be halted for some time to come. Huge profits are being made -- liquor bootleggers are complaining they are being put out or business because "no one wants booze when they can get bunnies" -- and the bunnies are having a ball.

JOHN CAUSES FALL OF HALL

The new addition to Shirreff Hall will have to be torn down, due to a serious error in its construction, John Smurd, construction engineer, announced yesterday.

Smurd revealed to the Gazette that, being masculine (questionable), he automatically placed stand up lavatories on all the floors instead of the conventional (for women, that is) sit down variety. The girls at the Hall have decided to go on a sit-down strike until the error is rectified.

Smurd appeased the feminine members of Shirreff Hall (the males weren't too pleased as the decision will destroy their now perfected method) by informing them that all the male johns will be removed. This, Smurd stated, "will nethethitate the grounding of the Hall. The entire building will be torn apart because of a pithy little error." Smurd added, trying to de-emphasize his lisp as much as possible, that "the chief rethult of the entire operation will be a delay in the opening of the new wing. The opening wath thceduled for the fall of thixty-three but will not be put off for at leatht a year."

The new sit-down type toilets have been ordered from Dinky Toilet Inc. and these lavatories will arrive shortly. Until that time, the men working on the project at the Hall will be able to handle things as usual but when the new johns arrive, reconstruction will start.
