HALIFAX STREETS.

In compiling the following list of Streets with the only available information respecting the origin of their names the publisher would claim the indulgence of patrons as the field is a new one, and the reliable information is at present only limited, much of it being dependant on tradition.

The first division of the city was made by Col. Morris, the then Surveyor General, into blocks and named after the captains of the Militia as Forman's Division, Galland's Division and so on.

Then the streets were laid off and named from some circumstance connected with its situation or name of some distinguished individual connected with the early settlement such as Water Street, being along the line of water. Hollis Street supposed to be an imitation of a street of that name in Boston. Cornwallis street after the first Governor and founder of the settlement.

It will be our object in future editions to endeavour to correct the list and render them as complete and correct as possible, and therefore corrections and additional information is respectfully solicited.

AGRICOLA STREET—This street is presumed to be named in honor of John Young, father of the Sir William Young, who published a series of letters on Agriculture in the Acadian Recorder, during the years 1822—3—4, over the signature "Agricola."
