

The Philadelphia Underwriters' Association has issued instructions to its block inspectors to pay particular attention this year to accumulations of hay, straw, waste paper, packing boxes, crates and rubbish in general in basements, underneath cellar gratings, on roofs of buildings and in yards, so that by the removal of such material a possible fire started by fire-crackers or other fireworks may be avoided. The Fourth of July fun and frolic has already begun, and a species of free-cracker which will do murder, yet is seen on the streets. A rough model of a ship, split in two is loaded with a firecracker, and then set, the cracker being lighted meanwhile. When the cracker explodes the ship is "rent asunder from within," the several pieces, funnels, masts, etc., flying in all directions. Of course, the model is that of a Spanish ship.
