Arrangements Well Under Way For Big Boxing Bout

Pete Scott of Hamilton Will Oppose Jimmy Conway of Scranton, Pa., in Ten-Round Encounter at the Opera House.

Arrangements have practically all been completed for the staging of the ten round bout between Pete Scott, of Hamilton, and Jimmy Conway, of Scranton, in the Grand Opera house on the night of Friday, November 3. It is so long since the sport lovers of the city have enjoyed a boxing treat of this nature that there is every reason to believe it will draw out a packed house. The bout really deserves a large patronage for it is easily the best ever offered Brantford folk.

Scott is confidence personified. Only a week ago he met Jimmy Duffy, the Lockport machine, in a ten-round bout and although outclassed from the standpoint of cleverness, is back again ready to clash with the best boys available in the welterweight ranks. In selecting Conway, the promoters have chosen a boy who will make the Hamilton Indian show the best he possesses to win. He has victories over such boys as Al Dewey, Young Hickey, of New York, Frank McCann, Silent Jack Martin and a host of others even more prominent. Only last week he went ten fast rounds to a draw with Johnny Riley, of Rochester, N.Y. This showing alone entitles him to a match with Scott or any other boy aspiring to the welterweight title.

Scott has met Riley twice and is credited with having a draw and a decision in the two clashes. But this same Chap Riley is reported to be greatly improved since he last met the Indian, and for this reason Conway must be a comer to hold his own with him.

Already the bout is attracting great interest in Brantford and among the fistie devotees of Hamilton. High-class preliminaries will be put on that are bound to make the night's entertainment one that will prove extremely palatable.

St. Louis Well Represented

Every club in the National League at present is carrying at least one ballplayer who at one time was a member of one of the St. Louis teams. In all there are thirteen players now on the reserve lists of other outfits who at one time were with St. Louis clubs. Of this number ten are ex-Cardinals and three of them ex-Browns.

Of the total, five of them are pitchers, although one of them is just coming up for another trial. They are "Wheeler" Dell, with the Superbas; Harry Salter and "Toll" Peritt, with the Giants; and Bob Harmon and Phil Redding, with the Pirates. Redding was given a try-out with the Cardinals in 1912, but found wanting. Callahan is going to give him another chance.

The players turned loose by the Browns now with National League clubs are Charley Deal, landed by the Cubs in the draft from Kansas City; Bill Killefer, star catcher of the Phillies; and Bill McKechnie, with Cincinnati.

Ed. Koney, Braves; Mike Mowrey, Brooklyn; Ivy Wingo, Reds; Bobby Byrne, Phillies; and George Whitted, Phillies, are the other tossers who at one time or other drew salary checks from the Cardinals.

With a little strengthening in several positions these cast-offs would make quite a ball club.

Leaders Made Too Many Trades

A general protest has been made by the weaker clubs of both the National and American Leagues over the wholesale trades and deals for players which were made in the past season after Aug. 1. In the National League, especially, several teams were stripped of star players by the more prosperous clubs to the disadvantage of the second division organizations. The case of the New York Club is held up as an example of the abuse of the trading and purchasing practice late in the season. In landing Zimmerman, Herzog, Salter, and McCarty it is pointed out that the clubs selling these players were weakened.

As a result of these protests, it is very probable that the National League, when it meets here in December, will draft a new rule prohibiting the sale or trade of a player after Aug. 1. In fact, some of the clubs will make a fight to prohibit sales after July 15.

Will Train in the South

Boston, Oct. 25.—The Boston Nationals and the New York Americans will prepare for next season's campaign in their respective leagues by a series of games in Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas. Secretary Walter E. Haggood, of the local club, announced yesterday. The teams will train as usual at their Spring camps, Boston at Miami, Fla., and New York at Macon, Ga.

Clymer May Lead Pirates

Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pirates, is said to be looking for a new manager to succeed Jas. Callahan. In sending in his reserve list to National League headquarters Dreyfuss has omitted Callahan's name. As all managers must be reserved from year to year, it is assumed by baseball men that Callahan will not lead the Pirates in 1917. Dreyfuss already has denied the report that Fred Clarke will come back. Clarke retired from baseball a year ago, but it was said recently that he wanted to return to the game. Hans Wagner is not a candidate for the position, according to his friends. William J. Clymer, who handled the Louisville champions in the American Association this year, may be regarded favorably by the Pirates' owner. It is said that Clymer has been strongly recommended to Dreyfuss by several prominent National League men. Callahan had some trouble with the Pittsburgh players last summer. He suspended Pitcher Mameaux for a breach of discipline. Perhaps the players have been using their hammers.

Grants Will Play Tigers

New York, Oct. 25.—Something new in exhibition tours was announced yesterday by the management of the New York National League Baseball Club. After the close of their Spring training season in the South the New York and Detroit clubs will travel in a special train. Manager McGraw, of New York, said that he regarded such a tour as better practice for both clubs than playing minor league clubs in the South.

Investigate M'Graw's Word

New York, Oct. 24.—"The McGraw case will be handled by the Board of Directors of the National League when it meets here on the second Tuesday in December," says President John K. Tener of the National League. There will be no investigation held by Mr. Tener before that time, although the head of the league and President Hempstead of the New York club held a long conference at the Giants' offices.

Before President Tener went down to the Giants' offices, Manager John J. McGraw was also a visitor, and had a long talk with President Hempstead. He left, however, a short time before President Tener arrived.

LONDON'S WELCOME TO BAND OF FRENCH REPUBLICAN GUARDS
 Striking scenes were witnessed in London as the representatives of France's glorious army marched to London, and tremendous crowds cheered them on their way through the streets to the Mansion House for dinner with the Lord Mayor. Photo shows members of the band entering the Mansion House.

Pitchers Pick Their Catchers

They're a suspicious lot, those Red Sox pitchers! That's why they insist on having certain catchers work with them whenever they're assigned to the slab.

Even Manager Bill Carrigan has been stung by the superstition bug. The master of the world's champions would rather concede defeat than send any backstop other than Forest Cady into the line-up the day he picks Ernie Shore to pitch.

Shore, by the way, is a difficult hurler to catch, because of the freakish dip on his fast ball. The gaunt Southerner positively demands that Cady catch him. Other catchers have handled the string bean of the Boston staff, but Shore never seems at all steady as when Cady is his receiver.

By the same token Dutch Leonard always insists that Manager Carrigan work behind the plate the day he pitches. Bill's throwing arm is trouble with the Red Sox. He is long on the steady "bull" which he always brings into use the instant Leonard exhibits symptoms of wavering, and this is one reason the southpaw wants his boss on the job.

Carrigan is one of the smartest maskmen in the business, and Leonard figures that his handling of every situation that arises offsets any handicap that his glass arm may give the enemy.

Chester Thomas always draws the "grabbing" task when Mays or Ruth are doing the curving. Mays, with his peculiar "subway" delivery, is a hard guy to catch, and no one else seems to do the job as well as Thomas.

PANAMA OPENS A NEW PORT

Mandinga Is Located Some Eighty Miles from Colon.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 25.—The Republic of Panama has opened a new port on the Atlantic coast, about 80 miles from Colon and begun construction of a government building there. The port is named Mandinga, and is located on Mandinga Bay in the Gulf of San Blas. It has an excellent harbor with deep water, and is only a short distance from important Maganese ore mines owned by an American syndicate. Nearby is the site of a town to be named Nicuesa to be developed under a government concession granted to an American who has long resided in Colon.

Port Angeles' capital has taken over the Sidney Canning Co. It is likely that Sunday trading will be suppressed in North Vancouver.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How To Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no yawning, sniffling, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer needs. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable.

NEW YORK WOMAN

Says the Russian General, Brusiloff.

Is None Other Than Sir Hector Macdonald.

One of the New York papers publishes the interesting but highly improbable theory that General Brusiloff is none other than Sir Hector Macdonald, who is generally supposed to have committed suicide years ago in Paris. This theory is based on information given by a Mrs. Taylor of New York, a distant relative of the British general. It will be remembered that in 1903 Sir Hector, then a brigadier-general of the British army, a Knight Commander of the Bath, and a member of the Distinguished Service Order, was charged with immoral conduct in Ceylon. He appealed to Lord Roberts, in London, to order the charges dismissed, pleading his entire innocence. Lord Roberts refused to interfere, and ordered him back to Ceylon to stand court-martial. He started off on his journey, but got no farther than Paris, where he was reported to have shot himself. A coffin supposed to contain his body was brought from Paris to Edinburgh and there buried.

Mrs. Taylor now declares that all this was make-believe. She says that cousins of Sir Hector live in London and Canada and Australia, and she knows that they have been in communication with him. She also says that Sir Hector was recognized in the Russo-Japanese war as the commander who led the Japanese to Port Arthur and made possible the Russian defeat. She is now certain that Sir Hector, under a new name is the man responsible for changing the ignominy of Russia's early defeat to a victory to which nothing done by the allies on the western fronts is comparable. She adds:

Sir Hector was a small man, stockily built. General Brusiloff is of the same figure. In his character of a Russian general, Sir Hector has grown a moustache, but it does not make his features unrecognizable. Many people who did not know of Sir Hector have commented on the queer and extraordinary circumstances connected with the rise of the Russian commander. It is odd, to say the least, they point out, that a man in supreme command of one of the greatest offensives of the war should be of a previous history totally unknown. "Brusiloff" is not a real Russian name, anyway. And the photographs of the general show he does not look like a Russian.

It is an interesting theory, and one illustrating once more that romance, like hope, springs eternal in the human breast. There are many people who still refuse to believe that Lord Kitchener is dead. But unfortunately such romances occur more frequently in literature than in real life, despite the fact that truth is stranger than fiction.
