Miss Lillie Blackburn, Athens, is visiting at H. E. Eyre's. The members of the Y. M. P. B. A. of this vicinity, visited friends here last week.

FRIDAY, Aug. 13.—It is said that our young cheesemaker and blacksmith went down to the house of a friend in the eastern end of the village on a pleasant Sunday evening not long ago, and were graciously entertained by the young ladies of the house. They all occupying the parlor and having such a good time that the hours sped by so quickly that they had no idea that the length of their visit was extending into the "twelve hours."

The head of the family commended to his daughters the keeping such his, or rather such early hours, and endeavored to induce his better half to go down and give the young men a hint that it was high time to be jogging.

Not meeting with that ready response that he considered due to his request, he suddenly arose from bed and in evening dress, appeared in the doorway and gently but firmly bade the young ladies seek their rooms and the young men the protection of their ma's.

The ex-barber is busy, when not engaged in agricultural pursuits, in smoothing down any little unpleasantness that may occur in his neighborhood.

The rain of the past few days has rendered harvesting operations very difficult. Everything is very quiet around the corners since James attended several matters in dispute in his own peculiar way.

The why tank is not such an object of interest as it was before it was set up on stilts. The fishery inspector's business is quite as the extra net set last spring caused a great depletion in the quantity of fish left for summer use.

FRONT OF YONGE. MONDAY, Aug. 15.—There is some trouble over the will of the late John Esley, of Lake street. The contention by some of the heirs is that the said J. Esley was not in his right mind at the time of framing the instrument.

Echo Lodge is a large summer house or hotel not far from Rockport, and run and managed by Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Potter. This is a beautiful spot on the Canadian shore of the river St. Lawrence.

Mr. Peter Andrew and wife, of Mallorytown, visited the residence of his father-in-law, Mr. Alexander Tennant, of Junetown last Saturday.

The lady who can carry with one eye a funeral and with the other observe the defects in an other lady's bonnet most generally be in a very happy state of mind.

Mr. William Ferguson, who is agent on the G. T. R. at Darlington, has returned to his post after a ten days vacation among his relatives in Caintown.

The honorable Edward, before leaving Ireland, was in all probability completely reconciled to the two great parties in said country, which has been the base of the nation for the last 100 years.

Mr. Samuel Avery, of Junetown, will erect a silo this summer. We are informed that it is not good fishing on the St. Lawrence nor Charleston Lake during wet weather.

Now, whether or not this is caused by the fish hiding under rocks and old logs to keep out of the wet, or that sportsmen are similarly inclined, is not stated.

James Cain is raising cats for the world's fair. They are as fine a lot of the feline species as ever had a record.

BLUE MOUNTAIN. FRIDAY, Aug. 12.—A correspondent on Blue Mountain says that the blueberry business is something immense.

It is said that the berries that have grown here within the past 2,000 years would make a mound higher and bluer than the mountain itself.

In searching for berries in the recesses of this remote region, one soon finds himself as good as a hundred miles from anybody and any place.

Many a strange adventure, hair-breadth escape, and thrilling incident have these wild scenes witnessed. Long ere the white man's foot pressed the flowery moss that once carpeted these ancient rocks, then overshadowed with pines, lofty and majestic. Even now, it is no uncommon thing for one to lose his way for an hour, nor is one apt to feel worse for lying out over night; but in such cases, as one stands on a high rock, scanning the interminable ledges and gloomy ravines, twilight rapidly advancing, and the rugged beauty is truly stern and wild, and as he retires to his calico or igneous rocky couch, new sensations come creeping slowly on, and he gives up the idea of pressing to his diaks for blueberries in particular.

Recently a party of seven, in pursuit of the blue on the mountain, were caught in a drenching rain for many hours. They found their way finally back to the hospitable farm house where they had left their team, and where four of the ladies were accommodated with a change of clean, dry apparel, and all were refreshed with a comfortable tea.

Instead of the second day, as promised, the clothes were returned on the eighth day after in a pitiable state of untidiness. The young lady (a girl) was alone with her work on the farm and felt, no doubt, that the parties would be courteous enough to return the articles in as good condition as when loaned. She made no remark, but it was evident that her feelings were hurt.

The vicinity of Gananoque enjoys the distinction of furnishing these unique citizens. Even the big bear, who was on a visit to the summit of Blue Mountain, when he heard of it, shook his head and growled ominously. W. S. H.

THE SUPREME COURT

changes in the constitution. The election of officers on the second day of the meeting excited considerable interest. With the exception of the High Chief Ranger, Bro. Rev. A. McGillivray, all the elected officers had keen contests.

The officers elected were duly installed by Supreme Chief Ranger Oronotaktha. The proceedings of the largest and most successful High Court ever held in Ontario closed at 1 a. m. by the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen." The meeting next year will be in Sarina.

Brockville Cheese Board. Special to the Reporter. THURSDAY, Aug. 11.—The offerings on board were somewhat smaller than usual to-day, which may be accounted for in the fact that no cheese was sold up very close by many salesmen who disposed of the balance of July make a week ago, and did not feel inclined to let August goods go to-day.

The actual offerings on bulletin board were 4,800 boxes, but the outside deals which some thirty factories have entered into for 6,500 boxes; of these, fully 4,000 would be colored goods, the balance white.

Before the board business regularly opened, President Singleton and Auctioneer Murphy made short speeches for the good of the order, respecting order and decorum, which is very necessary in every line of business.

A letter of thanks was read from the family of the late F. H. Warrington, of Montreal, in acknowledgment of the resolution of sympathy passed by the board a short time ago.

The Liverpool special cable quoted 46/6 for white and colored goods. When the auctioneer commenced the sale, 9/6 was the first offer for colored goods, which was soon carried to 9/6, and sold to Mr. Bate. This figure was looked upon as an extreme price, and it did not hold long, as 9/6 became the ruling figure for white and colored. A few lots were sold one or two points below that figure. The goods were all sold to-day to Brockville buyers, who had plenty of orders in hand for the entire offering.

Unconformable People. One of the worst pests with which the newspaper men have to contend is the fellow who is continually wanting somebody "roasted"—the fellow with a grudge against numbers of his fellow men which he would like to have expressed at no cost to himself by getting some newspaper friend or acquaintance to give the object of his wrath a "ripping up the back." In fact, such chaps seem to think that one of the main purposes of a newspaper is to "roast" persons and things.—Athens Express.
