ST. THOMAS COLLEGE

The growth of this institution during the last two years has been wonderful. The attendance has been doubled on account of the thorough course of training which we give. One of our young men is now drawing a salary of $1,800 a year; another $900; others from $400 to $800. Within the last month two of our students have gone direct from the College to positions paying $500 a year. WE QUALIFY OUR STUDENTS TO FILL THE BEST POSITIONS.

Young people are foolish to spend the best part of their lives learning Latin, French and the dead languages, when a few months spent in our Commercial or Shorthand Department will fit them to earn salaries like the above.

Spring term begins April 1st. Enter and complete a three months' course before mid-summer.

Eighty-seven per cent. of all our students who have written on the examinations of the Business Educators' Association of Canada this year have been successful.

BILL OF THE PLAY.

May Irwin is planning a trip around the world, chiefly for pleasure.

Joseph Jefferson celebrated his seventy-second birthday a short time ago.

Augustus Thomas is writing a new play, "Colorado," which will be produced in New York in November.

Sarah Cowell Le Moyne is said to be the only American actress who ever broke bread with Queen Victoria.

John Here, the English actor, said recently that he was about to retire from the stage for an indefinite time if not permanently.

Rostand is at work upon a new play to be called "The Theater." Coquelin is to have the principal part, that of a broken down actor.

There is talk of an all star production of "The Merchant of Venice," with Richard Mansfield, John Drew, Julia Marlowe and other notables in the cast.

Marie Tempest has announced she will appear as Becky Sharp at the Prince of Wales theater in London before long. Her play is a new version of "Vanity Fair."

This would have been Mary Anderson's "silver" year as an actress had she remained in active service in the profession.

Her first appearance was made Nov. 27, 1875, in Louisville in the character of Juliet.

Byron in the theater will be decidedly a novelty to our generation. Yet Sir Henry Irving is to risk the experiment.

At the final curtain call of his Lyceum season he announced for the coming winter the production of "Manfred."

A company playing "A Pair of Tramps" were recently quarantined in their special car at Monmouth, Ill., the negro cook of the company having developed smallpox. The members of the company were vaccinated, and then the quarantine was removed.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The Duke of Connaught has been gazetted grand master of the Order of the Bath.

It is said that Prince Charles of Denmark, the second son of the Danish crown prince, will probably hereafter live in England, as both he and his sister prefer that country to their own.

Queen Alexandra is the obstacle that stands in the way of Prince George of York inheriting the title prince of Wales. She was devoted to her eldest son, the deceased Duke of Clarence, and has a sentimental feeling about her husband's title going to any one else.

It is a rare privilege to be permitted to visit any of the Kaiser's palaces. He thinks he is entitled to at least as much privacy as the lowest of his subjects, and his orders in regard to visitors are strict.

As the Neues palace is regarded as, above all others, a haven of rest, few tourists are permitted within its precincts.

King Edward VII is one of the oldest of parliamentarians. As a member of the house of lords since 1892 he has seen nearly all the peers of today take their seats.

As Duke of Cornwall since his birth he has possessed a peerage for a longer period than any living man except Lord Nelson, who succeeded in 1835, and Lord Dufferin, who succeeded to a peerage of Ireland in 1841.

THE JEWEL CASKET.

A lady's watch in plain black enamel and brilliant is a striking and elegant object.

"Tooth" ring mountings are used for some very large diamonds for men's wear. They display the stone with great effectiveness.

Pretty little clips of gold wire in heart shape are useful accessories in the evening toilet. They are set with pearls and turquoises.

An adjustable bracelet adapts itself to any size of wrist. It is constructed on the tulle pattern and contracts or expands after the fashion of the familiar iron gate.

Foreign fashion budgets tell us that the scent ball is to be the novelty of the coming season. This is a hollow sphere pierced with small holes and holding a bit of sponge saturated with perfume.

In simple silver trifles or elaborate gold affairs adorned with diamonds or other stones it affords an attractive accessory for chateau, chain or bracelet.

See Fifty Dollar Purchase.

"Goodness knows," said a Detroit woman who lived several years in New York city, "how many mistakes are made here every day in the sale and delivery of goods, but it was just awful in New York. In my own experience there I cannot number 1 of them and I suppose other people could tell stories of carelessness not much different or fewer than mine."

"On one occasion I bought a $50 rug from a big department store where I was known, and the bill was to be sent in on the 1st of the month. It was not sent, however, and I waited for another month. Still no bill, and at the end of four months I called to see about it. It had not even been charged, and the result of my call was that some one was dismissed for negligence and I paid the $50."

"I should never have said anything about it, and I was sorry I had, because my $50 did not add greatly to the profits of the store and lost some poor fellow his place."

That Lovely Gorge.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson held an "at home" at their house in Manchester on the occasion of their return from a winter tour on the continent. They were very proud of the trip, and Mrs. Dawson was continually asking her husband if he remembered this, that or the other glorious bit of scenery.

"And, oh, the gorge at Andermatt!" she exclaimed. "You haven't forgotten that lovely gorge, have you, Fred?"

"The gorge at the Grand hotel?" drawled Fred wearily. "By no means. I'll remember that gorge to my dying day. Why, bless me, it was the only square meal we got in Switzerland!"—London Answer.

Escape Impossible.

Jack—I wish I could get out of marriage here.

Fred—Why don't you tell her she is too good for you?

Jack—I did, but it wouldn't work. Not she wants to marry me to reform me.

A grain of sand in the eye can cause excruciating agony. A grain of sand in place of the grain of sand intensifies the torment. The pain is not confined to the organs affected. The whole body feels the shock of the little irritating particle. It is so when there is any derangement or disorder of the delicate womanly organs.

The disorder may seem trivial, but the whole body feels it. The nervous system is disordered. There are fretfulness, irritability, sullenness and depression of spirits. HE WRITES OF CALIFORNIA

Pictorial Visitor to the Sunny South Writes of His Experiences—Has Relatives in Chatham.

The following interesting letter was received from Dr. D. H. Platt, of Pictorial, Ont., who is travelling in California. Dr. Platt is a brother-in-law of Mrs. A. Patterson, Lorne Ave.

San Diego, Cal., April 2nd, 1901.

Dear Friends: I said goodbye to the Phoenix on Feb. 20, and after a day and night ride through the mountains of Arizona, reached Southern California. In San Bernardino they nearly did me up, I was induced to try their hot mineral bath; took the plunge but soon scrambled out; water too hot; felt my hair and found it didn't come out but in other respects I was nearly parboiled. After-effect, bad cold, near pneumonia; concluded San Bernardino was making it too hot for me, and moved on to Riverside where I met several old Pictorial boys, among them Mr. Chas. E. Wood, a genial good fellow is Charles. He never tires of the beauties of Riverside and its surroundings. He has a fine orange and grape fruit ranch and gave me enough to start a fruit stand. Found Mr. Walter Clark, wife and baby well and nicely settled; Mr. Wilson Hubbs, well and looking quite robust; Mr. E. L. Eggleston showed me a fine yoke of bulls gypsy wagon and camping outfit complete he had just purchased and intended going south 150 miles where he has secured a job. He is lively as ever and invited me to go along and help manage the bulls, one of which has long horns and ring in nose, the other a mooly, otherwise well matched except in size.

San Diego is the most southern city of California and is a beautiful place of 20,000 population; is nicely situated on rising ground from the harbor, one of the largest and best in the world. It is a city of protected coast, fine bathing and fishing. Hotel del Coronado on the beach is a great place for all sport, sea bathing is indulged in by young and old. I haven't tried it yet but I am a little shy, good accommodation for tourists at reasonable rates, daily excursions into old Mexico and other places of interest near by. The Orient-Express Steamship Co. have a line to China and Japan, tramp steamers call here for supplies. Good fishing is to be had off the piers which extend well out. Jewfish, baracopa, yellowtail seabass, leopard-shark, etc. abound. Jewfish weighing 300 lbs. will do some pulling. I hooked a leopard shark that nearly pulled a Mexican and me off the pier, we managed to get his head out of water, he broke loose, saved the hook. There is very little change of climate here, 'tis hard to tell where winter comes, in weather is now like our June and I regret to leave this place of paradise, but will as soon as I have to go deep in my pocket to find anything more than my return ticket. Goodbye.

D. H. PLATT.

A Domestic Disagreement.

They had been married three months and were having their thirteenth quarrel.

"You only married me for my money," he said.

"I didn't do anything of the kind," she retorted.

"Well, you didn't marry me because you loved me."

"I know I didn't."

"In heaven's name what did you marry me for then?"

"Just to make that hateful Susan Miller you were engaged to cry her eyes out because she had to give you up."

He fell down on the white bear skin rug at her feet and rolled over in it till he looked like a huge snowball.

"Great Caesar, woman," he shrieked, "what have you done? Didn't you know I married you just because she threw me over?"

"At the time dinner was ready her loving young hearts were once more so full of sunshine that we were absolutely necessary."

An Artist's Excuse.

Lady (who has pestered artist with questions for hours)—All your marine pictures represent the sea as being calm. Why don't you paint a storm once in a while?

Artist—We painters in old can't paint a storm. I have often outlined a storm on the canvas, but as soon as I begin to spread on the oil colors the waves subside, and the sea becomes as calm as a duck pond.

Lady—Yes, I've read about the effect oil has in calming the waves, but I had no idea it was so effective as that.

Strategy.

Smart—I don't suppose you want to borrow $5 or $10?

Lamb—No; fact is I'm unusually flush just at present.

Smart—Isn't that nice? By the way, I suppose you can accommodate with a twenty? A twelve is good to have met you.

Entitled to Half Rates.

Beggar—Please give a poor old blind man a dime.

Citizen—Why, you can see out of one eye.

Beggar—Well, then, give me a nickel.

Umbrellas are rarely seen in Porto, Peru. It is the driest spot on earth. The average interval between two showers of rain is seven years.

What has become of the old fashioned woman who made her children's nightgowns out of floor sacks?—Aitchison Globe.

"What a hideous hat Hilda has on!"

"Why, that's the latest style."

"Oh! Isn't it sweet?"
