is a positive cure for all those painful ailments of women. It will entirely cure the worst forms of Female Complaints, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements, and consequent Spinal Weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the Change of Life.
It will surely cure.

Backache.
It has cured more cases of Female Weakness than any other remedy the world has ever known. It is almost infallible in such cases. It dissolves and expels Tumors in an early stage of devel-

Duels With Pistols.

Discussing pistols as duelling weapons, the Paris Figaro sought the views of a man who had the reputation of an expert on the field of honor. He at once began to rail at duels with pistols.
He could not bear even to speak of them. The fact was that he had once himself at an encounter of that kind received a ball in the shoulder.
"Then you disapprove of them simply because you were defeated?"
"Why, I was not defeated."

"No; I was a second. You may well believe that I promised myself never to mix again in affairs of that sort.
However, one day I had to accompany a friend on the field. He had asked it of me as a personal favor. I could not refuse. But I insisted upon one condition."

"What was that?"
"That I should climb a tree during the firing."
"A good scheme."
"You think so? Well, I was wounded again. My friend fired in the air!"

SELECT YOUR MEDICINE WITH CARE

In debility and weakness medicine should be mild and far reaching.
Many pills and purgatives are too harsh, are drastic instead of curative. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this, Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Mandrake & Butterbur seed to mildly increase liver and kidney activity, flush out the elementary canal, tone and regulate the bowels.
Thus Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the system from the body, restore clearness to the skin, bring strength and that sweet restorer of health, sleep. Best medicine on earth, 25c.
per box at all dealers.

Soldiers in Battle.
"It is important to be cool and self-possessed at the beginning of a fight," writes one who has commanded men in battle. "As soon as the first shot is fired men become nervous and go into action with a calmness which is most impressive. High explosive shells, with their deafening noise, make the most impression on young and unexpe-rienced soldiers, while sharpshooters the old soldiers the most. Those who imagine that it is possible to see a heroic look on men's faces at a decisive moment are completely mistaken.
Their faces are pale and have a hard look about them. The struggle which is going on within them betrays itself by the nervous haste of their firing."

Preventions, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when taken at the sneeze stage.
Preventions are toothsome candy tablets. Preventions dissipate all colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventions are thoroughly safe for children, and as effective for adults.
Sold and recommended in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes by
C. H. Gunn & Co., Chatham.

A Myman Reception Echo.
In the afternoon the chief witness wrote Edgely Jeffreys, a young barrister, identified with organization work before and during the campaign. Jeffreys professed lack of knowledge of any campaign fund. Incidentally, was brought out the rather amusing fact that Hon. Mr. Hyman had contributed to the expense of holding reception in his own honor.

ON STRIKE

Frank Kingsburg Gets Awful Beating By The Rioters

MISTAKEN FOR MAYOR

Buckingham, Que., Oct. 20.—Defective Picard, who was wounded in last week's strike riot here, was the principal witness at the inquest yesterday morning. He said that he was shot by Hilaire Charette, one of the prominent rioters.

F. Smith, another witness, swore he saw Alexander MacLaren firing a revolver, but that was not until after the strike had begun to fire. He saw rifles brought to the scene of the riot in a buggy and distributed among the strikers. The strikers began the firing, he stated.

Beliff Cummings was the first man stretched out. He was hit with a club.
Chief of Police Kinsman, stated on Wednesday that Cummings fell back into his arms when he was hit, but Smith yesterday swore Cummings fell on the ground.

Some of the evidence is very contradictory. The inquest was adjourned owing to Picard feeling faint.

Louis Renaud, one of the witnesses, swore that the police fired fifteen or twenty shots before the strikers opened fire, while other evidence had gone to show the reverse.

Albert MacLaren, one of the proprietary of the mill, could not say who fired first.

Mistaken For Mayor, Is Beaten.

The finding of Frank Kingsburg in an unconscious state near Masson Station Thursday night created considerable alarm among Buckingham people, and the impression went abroad that strike hostilities were not yet ended.

The supposition is that Kingsburg was mistaken for Mayor Vallee, manager of the MacLaren Co., on account of his driving outfit, and was attacked by strikers, who have greater fear for the manager than they have for the MacLarens.

Kingsburg is employed as a yardman for W. H. Kelly, a Buckingham lumber manufacturer. He went to meet his employer, who was coming from Ottawa by train. When Mr.
Kelly reached Masson he found his horse and buggy waiting alone. He looked around for the driver, and discovered Kingsburg lying on the road in a helpless state.

Kingsburg was cut about the head in several places, and was unable to tell what had happened. Kelly could not gather from him whether or not there had been a runaway, but that seemed unlikely.

Even after several hours, he was unable to explain the curious incident, saying that he remembered nothing from the time he drove down the hill.

FRENCH CABINET RESIGNS.

Vatican Apprehensive That Church and State War Will Be More Bitter.

Paris, Oct. 20.—At the Cabinet meeting yesterday morning, Premier Sarrien officially informed his colleagues that he had transmitted his resignation, on account of ill-health, to President Pelliere, whereupon the Ministers resigned in a body. The session lasted only 20 minutes. Foreign Minister Bourgeois wrote a collective letter, which all present signed, joining their resignations to that of their chief.

Vatican Apprehensive.
Rome, Oct. 20.—The resignation of Premier Sarrien and the resignation of the French Cabinet have caused a feeling of apprehension at the Vatican, where it is feared that the conflict between the church and state in France will become more bitter if M.
Clemenceau assumes the premiership.

Baptist Education Day.

Peterboro, Oct. 20.—Yesterday was education day at the Baptist convention and most encouraging reports were presented. Rev. J. C. Sycamore of Hamilton presented the annual statement of The Canadian Baptist and the book room department, and Rev. T. B.
Brown of Sherbrooke, the reporter of the Grand Sierra Mission. Chancellor MacKay's report showed the enrollment at McMaster for the past year to have been 155 in arts and 41 in theology. At Woodville College, there were 159 students, and at Mount Allison university, the library now had 15,000 volumes.

Hit on Head by Robber.

Chatham, Oct. 20.—A daring hold-up was made by a stranger at the Teomash House Thursday night, a result of which a former named Parks, who lives in Raleigh, is minus a watch and a considerable amount of money. Parks was knocked in the head when he was leaving the hotel, and before he regained his senses the robbery was committed and the robber was out of sight. The police have been notified.

Ask For Banwell's Release.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—A petition is in circulation, asking that a pardon on a parole be granted to young Banwell.
He is now in Kingston Penitentiary, with about three years' confinement ahead of him.

For a Serious Assault.

Norwood, Oct. 20.—George Stevens, dealer in ashes and junk, was placed under arrest here yesterday charged with attempted criminal assault on an old lady. He was later released on bail.

Junk Dealer In Trouble.

Brockville, Oct. 20.—Jacob Bronstein, a junk dealer, is under arrest, charged with stealing 400 pounds of brass from the G. T. R. The brass was found secreted under weeds on his premises.

Youth "Down" For Four Years.

Stratford, Oct. 20.—Matthew Granger, aged 17 years, was sentenced to four years in Kingston Penitententiary for passing a forged note.

MODEL CONSUL SYSTEM

BRITISH SERVICE ENJOYS CON- FIDENCE OF THE WORLD.

Energetic and Constant Protection of British Commercial Interests Everywhere Chiefly Due to Devotion to Duty and Ability of the Consular Corps—Admission Depends Upon Personal Examination.

The career of Sir Ernest Mason Sat-ow is illustrative of the British consular service as well as of the diplomatic abilities of the man. When 19 years old he was student interpreter in the Japanese service, when 21 years old he was promoted to interpreter and at 24 years he was secretary of the British legation in Tokyo, in which capacity he served nineteen years. In 1891 he was made agent and consul general at Bangkok, and in the following year he was promoted to the office of Minister resident. After three years' service at this station he was transferred in the same capacity to Montevideo, where he remained until 1893, when he was appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Morocco. In the same year he was given the post of British Minister in Tokyo, and shortly before the trouble broke out in China he was ordered to exchange places with the Minister to China, Sir Claude Macdonald, at Pekin.

It goes without gaining that the British consular system enjoys respect and confidence not only in the British Empire, but all over the world. The energetic and constant protection of British interests in the most remote parts of the world as well as the tremendous extent of British commerce are chiefly due to the ability and devotion to duty of the British consular corps. Reports of British consuls, which are not hidden in obscure collections of official publications, but are immediately after receipt published as nominal charge—unless diplomatic reasons intervene—enjoy in business circles as well as among national economists the world over a large degree of popular favor.

The admission to the paid British consular service is not dependent upon certificates of higher schools or universities, but depends upon personal examination. Hence the members of the various callings, some were originally physicians, merchants, journalists.
Former army officers are numerous, and still more numerous are men who started in life as clerks in some con-sulate or mission and subsequently passed the consular examination.

Conditions for admission vary according to the preference of the applicant for the East Asia or Oriental service or for service in other countries.
To the examination for the consular service in the Orient and East Asia only Englishmen are admitted. They must be 24 years of age, single, and have no marriage or other ties. Conditions for the Oriental service (Turkey, Persia, Greece and Morocco) are: Penmanship, orthography, arithmetic, English, French and German. The applicant must also pass in geography, Latin, French and German, and in the principles of criminal, commercial and administrative law. To the examination for consular service in other countries men of all nationalities are admitted. They must be 24 years of age, single, and have no marriage or other ties. Conditions

Story of a Lion.
That the lion is not always the roaring, tearing beast of legendary description may be seen in the following extract from the diary of a young Englishman who is at present, says The Field, serving his country in Northern Nigeria: "I had just topped a long incline, and was walking my pony, when, on coming round a corner of the road, hidden by some trees, I saw, 70 yards in front of me, backing in the sun on an open patch of burnt grass, a magnificent full-grown lion. The sun was not strong, and he was very, very lazily flicking his tail from side to side.
He had a short mane, and his eyes were a lovely amber red in the weak sunlight. My first sensation was one of astonishment, profound amazement and delight at seeing such a fine beast. He was a beauty, and it seemed impossible to realize that he was really wild as he lay on his side, looking at me with his head raised as a dog does when he hears his master's footsteps. He was as fat as butter, sleek-coated and gloriously content. It was not until I was actually passing him, which I did within 20 yards, that I realized that if the lion took it into his head to pounce on a white man I should be unable to dispute him right. After I had proceeded some 60 yards the lion got up leisurely and followed along the road behind me, but after going about 100 yards he turned into the bush at the side of the road."

The Bishop's Reason Why.
The following is an impromptu thesaurus of London delivered during the very rainy church congress in London of 1897:

The rain, it raineth every day Upon the just and unjust fellow; But chiefly on the just, because The unjust takes the just's umbrella.

The lines caused much amusement to the clerical gathering mentioned.

WOMEN STREET CLEANERS.

A Spotless Town in Munich Swept by Fair Sex—Does Not Now Cause Any Surprise.

A mild sensation is caused from time to time when the newspapers announce that the women of some town, tired of living on filthy streets, have taken to give the municipal authorities an object lesson in the art of street cleaning. But the streets of Munich, that famous old Bavarian art, musical, dramatic, and educational centre, are cleaned year in and year out solely by women, and no one wonders at it except the newly-arrived foreign student or tourist, says Ernest Sauer.

The street cleaners of Munich have been women for so long that if someone were to ask the worthy burgomester when they first began to sweep the thoroughfares of the city he undoubtedly would first have to consult the municipal records in order to give an unimpeachable answer. But if he were to be asked, "Is it not strange to have women engaged in such work?" his reply in all probability would be what the reply of many a burgher of Munich has been to this very question:

"Is it not honest work and do not all men and all women have to work in order that they may live?"
— In a land where it is not considered the style for women to do as little physical labor as possible, where the woman working in the field is met with constantly, where she frequently takes the place of the beast of burden, no one thinks it extraordinary that women should clean the streets of Munich. It is work, it is honest work, the women like to do the work, so it is well. And there you are.

As the average Canadian pioneer to this ancient seat of learning is at his first sight of skinned street sweepers, his wonder soon give way to a feeling of admiration for the work that the women do. For Munich's streets are among the cleanest in the world without a doubt. It is a city of order, of cleanliness, of neatness, yet walk where you will, you will not come across even a side street that is not worthy of comparison with the traditional neatness of the new plan.

A century ago they were popular.
To-day people want something to apply, certain in results, and above all, a clean liniment. When Nervine is applied aches and pains disappear as the pores absorb its soothing, healing properties. Nervine penetrates to the seat of the pain, eases instantly, and leaves no oil, bad smelling memory behind.
Good to take in, capital to rub on,
and five times more powerful in destroying pain than any oily liniment.
Don't fail to get a large 25c. bottle.

France as a World Banker.

Among other results of the Algeiras conference France has come to a consciousness of her real power in the world at large. An English financier has already said that if the French people continue to live on the principle "Where you have four sous spend only two," they will end by having in their possession all the coined gold in the world. The great portion of it, which they already possess, and the distress caused to German finance and industry by the patriotic refusal of the united French banks to allow their gold to be drawn until peace was secure had a great and probably decisive influence in the happy termination of this entangled affair of Morocco. The flooding of the latest Russian loan has since compelled to show yet further the riches of France, to which tourists alone, it is estimated, add 2,000,000 francs in gold each year. This money power and the money need should tend to the keeping of European peace more than all the theories of the pacifists who clamor for a disarmament impossible to obtain. In favor of France should also be added the unwieldiness of Parliamentary Government in case of sudden war—Stoddard Dewey in Atlantic.

Foiled.

"Did you hear about Samuels?" asked Mrs. Graymire's husband.
"No, I didn't hear about Samuels," the lady answered. "When you have anything to tell, why don't you tell it?"
"Yes, dear, well, Samuels was going home the other night when a footpad shot at him and the ball hit a latchkey in Samuels' vest pocket, and his life was saved. So you see, what good a latchkey."

"Indeed! If Samuels had been going home at a reasonable hour he would not have met any footpad. Secondly, he carries $1,000 insurance, payable to his wife, and if it had not been for that latchkey she would be a rich widow now. So if you are hunting round for a latchkey you will have to bring back a better story than that one.
That's all. I'm going to bed now, and if you want to read you'll have to go to the kitchen, and don't waste the coal!"—London Express.

takes the place of the beast of burden,
well. And there you are.

is at his first sight of skinned street
sweepers, his wonder soon give way
tional neatness of the new plan.

A century ago they were popular.
To-day people want something
soothing, healing properties. Ner-
oil, bad smelling memory behind.
Good to take in, capital to rub on,
and five times more powerful in destroying pain than any oily liniment.
Don't fail to get a large 25c. bottle.
