

Set the Day.

A great help to the accomplishment of any task or pleasure would be found in the three words of our title. How many beautiful things we all plan to do sometime? And how the years go by without their ever being attempted?

Mr. Anytime is a most deceptive friend and counsellor. You do not mean to deceive yourself. You only ask Mr. Anytime to jog your memory. He is a good-meaning fellow, too, and does not in the least intend to thwart you. It is only that he does so love to wait for a "convenient season." These are Bible words, and may perhaps remind you of a certain Governor, Felix who once used them. Just stop this minute, and hunt up his interesting story. How strange it seems that any one can read it, and then say of any good deed he means to do, "By and by, when it is convenient." The clock hands point to that hour about once or twice in a life time.

The truth is, most things worth doing are not easy. The minute you plan to do a thing, there are half a dozen reasons for not doing it. "I wouldn't start for school to-day. It looks like rain!" Did you ever hear anybody say that? There is another word in that list of excuses which whippers countless silly suggestions just like that. "Well, let it rain!" you say at least, I hope you do—and go on with your preparations. "Spill your milk!" says the tempter. "Wear your old one, then!" you fling back at him. "Your history lesson isn't half-learned either! Stay at home!" "No, I won't!" you answer flatly (if you are the right minded young person I take you for) "I'll go and fail, if I have to, and then I'll take care to have a gilt-edged lesson next time. But I won't be a sham and give into make-believe excuses!"

You see, in even a little matter like that, liable to come up any dull feeling morning, the right thing isn't quite easy. You have to brace yourself to a bit of an effort. Seeing that this is so, it will not do to say "I'll do it sometime." There are terrible chances that you never will. The "convenient season" is only a beautiful marriage. It never comes any nearer than the painted clouds.

"What is to be done?" Why, "grit" your teeth, square your shoulders, and "set the day." Arrange for success. Fix things so that at some definite time in the future you can write over against the thing that should be done the canceling label "DONE." Divide your tasks into two portions, a resolution, and the living up to it. You need the resolution, as a rower needs some tree or rock for a land mark. He fixes his eye on that, and then gives arms to the oars. You must have a resolution to steer by. A drifting boat is one of the saddest sights in the world to me. It goes nowhere, is bound nowhere. What is a man or a boat good for that only minds the wind and weather?

Oh, how easily you might change all that! You do not need to let your will drift one more day. Blot that word "sometime" out of your dictionary. Decide exactly when you will do this good thing you are promising yourself. Let it be the earliest possible time it could be done. A life is so short when all its days and weeks are counted. Remember that for some things God has set the day; and there is only one time—NOW!

Blacks That Are Blacks.

Three Favorites of the Diamond Dyes.

The Diamond Dye Blacks are scientific success that are everywhere appreciated by the ladies.

Diamond Dye Past Black for Wool stands ahead of all other wool dyes for fullness and depth of color.

Diamond Dye Past Black for Cotton and Mixed Goods is the only black in the world for dyeing cotton and silk-mixed fabrics.

Diamond Dye Past Black for Silk and Feathers is a triumph of the chemical art, and surpassed the world.

A clock in Esterberg has sixty-five faces, indicating simultaneously the time at thirty different spots on the earth's surface, besides the movements of the earth and planets.

There is no merit in being agreeable to disagreeable people. Try it on disagreeable, crooked, perverse folks. That is a good way to "shine."

Rheumatism?

South American Rheumatic Cure is a universal liberator. Enter in six hours! What a glad release to the pain-racked, bed-ridden, despairing sufferer from rheumatism's cruel grip—and this is a fact, borne out by volumes of evidence, for this greatest of pain-killers.

Rheumatism is curable—South American Rheumatic Cure is an absolute specific, and radically cures the most stubborn cases in from one to three days.

Miss Willard's Tribute to Lady Henry. The following has been published widely by the press of this country, and while we speak upon the same subject, we feel sure that white-ribboners will like to read what Miss Willard has to say:

"Lady Henry Somerset has given twelve years of constant activity to the Temperance reform. I do not believe that any other woman ever laid so many gifts upon its shrine.

"My half day's work is done. And this is all my part. To give a patient God's My patient heart."

"But we will not permit ourselves to think that she will be no more among us; other and better days may dawn, and meanwhile it comforts me to know that I but express the loyalty of her American countrywomen in writing this little characterization which they will accept as richly deserved by one whom they have learned to love so warmly."

Trade in Corkscrews. It is surprising to find the president of Princeton University speaking at an alumni banquet—if he is correctly reported—that "Prohibition will not stop drinking in Princeton; it will only increase the trade in corkscrews."

Moderate Drinkers. Dr. Grant is paying too great a price for the personal liberty to drink alcoholic liquors when he insists that the licensed bars, and the licensed shops, with all that inevitably follows, shall remain open in our Dominion.

Great Britain's Drink. The appalling influence of the drink in Great Britain appears like a nightmare every year to London. An article in a London paper asserts that in one of the centres there are seventy-two public houses, nineteen hotels, thirty-nine restaurants, and thirty-five dining-rooms, in an area of less than a quarter of a square mile.

Scraps for Odd Moments.

First Roster—What's your hurry? Second Roster—If my wife isn't in by 10 o'clock my wife'll be lying for me.

It is peculiar how suddenly a man awakes when his wife awakes over him on the way to the kitchen to make a fire.

Minards Liniment is the best. It is necessary to know though hope should be always retained, for hope fuels in happiness, and its frustration, however frequent, are yet less dreadful than its extinction.

Talkative Lady to Fireman—And what is that strap that goes under your chin when you're out? Fireman—This strap, madam, is given us to rest our chins when our jaws get tired of answering questions.

Minards Liniment Cures LaGrappa. Anxious Mother—And so you and your husband have a great many differences? Weeping Daughter—No, only one; but that keeps us nagging and quarrelling and fighting from one week's end to the other—how, how, how?

Klondike Courtship—"Maria," called the old gentleman from the back of the stage, "is that young man down there yet?" "Yes, papa," replied the truthful maiden.

The auctioneer was trying to sell an old hand organ, and to that end was grinding out the music (alleged). In sport, the crowd around the rostrum began to throw coppers, when a bystander remarked: "Six, you ought to have a monkey."
