

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 11, 1918.

Editorial Brevities.

We wish to tender our sincere thanks to those who in response to accounts sent out during the past week or two have sent in the amount due THE ACADIAN for subscription. This money was needed and its receipt was greatly appreciated by the publisher who finds the task of financing no light one at this time of increasing prices in everything that goes into the making of a newspaper. There are still many whom we have not yet heard from and we would respectfully ask that notice be taken of the bills sent out. A great many of these cover a number of years and settlement must be made at once. It is our intention to hand these accounts over for collection at an early date unless some provision is made for their settlement. The price of THE ACADIAN is now $1.50 per annum when not paid strictly in advance.

Noted Woman Visits Wolfville.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, Ont., for twelve successive years the honored president of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union, was a visitor to Wolfville this week, and on Tuesday evening delivered an address at St. Andrew's church under the auspices of the local organization. Owing to numerous other attractions the audience was not so large as it should have been but those present enjoyed a 'feast of good things.' Mrs. B. O. Davidson, the president of the Wolfville W. C. T. U., presided. An enjoyable feature of the evening was a delightful vocal solo rendered by Mrs. Sutherland. 'The Call of the Hour' was Mrs. Wright's subject, and she earnestly and eloquently outlined the responsibility resting upon the women of Canada at this time of world's crisis. Mrs. Wright is a most attractive speaker and she is thoroughly conversant with women's work. She is a sister of Hon. Newton W. Rowell, formerly leader of the Liberal party in the Ontario legislature and now a member of the cabinet in the Union Government. At the close of her lecture, at the request of Mrs. Davidson, she spoke briefly of the work of the 'Associated Kin of Soldiers,' of which her husband is the president. This organization is one that more will be heard of in coming days. It is doing a wonderful work in the interests of our soldiers and their families throughout Canada. Branches are to be organized in the Maritime Provinces in the near future. Mrs. Wright has four sons in the army fighting for King and country and is an active participant in all patriotic work. Rev. Mr. Miller spoke briefly at the close of the address voicing his appreciation of the splendid character of the lecture and also Rev. Dr. Gates, who spoke of the good work that had been done in Wolfville and elsewhere by the W. C. T. U. In response to Mrs. Wright's appeal a number of those present handed in their names for membership in the local union.

The Boy Scouts.

A special reorganization meeting will be held at 7:45 this evening. The older boys are particularly asked to attend. The first game of the indoor baseball league will be played between two of the patrols while the others will take up work on scout tests and competition for the all round scout prize. A rehearsal of the play will take place at 9 o'clock. Money to loan on mortgage securities. Apply to E. S. Crawley, Wolfville.

Masters-Pitt Wedding.

On Wednesday evening the Cathedral was the scene of a very pretty and largely attended wedding when Miss Lola Marie Hilda Pitt, daughter of Mrs. and the late Mr. Hilton A. Pitt of 'Undercliffe,' Pembroke, became the bride of Mr. Clarendon Hugh Masters, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Masters, of 'Clarendon,' Pembroke.

The ceremony was set for 8 o'clock and long before that hour the relatives and friends of the bride and groom began to fill the church. During the arrival of the guests the Cathedral organist, Mr. A. M. Parcell, rendered several selections on the superb organ.

The chancel had been tastefully decorated by friends of the bride with roses, golden glow and fern and presented a very pleasing appearance. Very shortly after 8 o'clock the bride, exquisitely gowned in white satin and tulle and carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses and fern, entered the church leaning on the arm of her cousin, Capt. Charles F. Pitt, A. P. M. She was preceded by Miss May Tucker as maid of honour who wore a most becoming dress of white net embroidered in yellow. Her bouquet was of golden glow and fern. As the bridal party proceeded up the aisle the strains of 'The Bridal Chorus' from Lohengrin resounded throughout the sacred edifice. The bride was met at the chancel steps by the groom, who was attended by Mr. Eric Critch as best man. The Rev. Canon Henry Marriott conducted the wedding ceremony which was choral, the Cathedral choir being in attendance. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Hilton A. Pitt. The ushers were Mr. Stewart Pitt, Mr. Eugene Hutchings, Mr. Gordon Montague, Mr. Orritt Whitney and Mr. Stanley Howe.

At the conclusion of the ceremony and during the signing of the register the hymn 'O Perfect Love,' was sung by the choir and congregation, after which the newly married couple posed smilingly down the long aisle to the crashing strains of Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March'. Directly after the ceremony at the church a reception for the relatives and younger friends of the bride and groom was held at 'Undercliffe' and there the many valuable and useful presents were very much admired. 'The health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Masters was proposed by the Rev. Canon Marriott and Mr. Masters replied in a few well chosen words. A toast to the maid of honour was also proposed by Mr. Pitt. An orchestra was in attendance and many of the guests enjoyed dancing on the spacious verandah. Refreshments were served and were enjoyed by everyone during the evening. About 10:30, followed by many expressions of good will, the happy couple drove off for Palmetto Grove, Harrington Sound, where a short honeymoon will be spent after which Mr. and Mrs. Masters will take up their residence at 'Undercliffe,' Pitts Bay. The Colonial and Daily News joins with their many friends in wishing them the best of health and every happiness in their new sphere of life.

(The above from a Hamilton, Bermuda, paper refers to a young lady well known in Wolfville. My friends will join in best wishes.—R.)

Germany's Way.

John D. Sandford, chief of motor transport for the American Y. M. C. A. in France, writing home a visit to Chateau Thierry, says: 'I do not believe there is a house which has not been hit, but the worst of all is the ruthless destruction done by the Germans. Every room was ransacked, every mirror and piece of glass or china broken. I saw over a dozen smashed pianos. Also on the public buildings the wrecks got hold of quantities of ink bottles from some stationary store and threw them all over the facades. This will be impossible to remove, as the stone is soft and the ink soaks in.' 'The same kind of wanton destruction is going on in all the towns from which the enemy is now retreating. What cannot be carried away is wantonly and systematically destroyed by these vandals who, while wielding the axe and the torch, are crying loudly for a peace conference in the interests of humanity. Not too quickly, but too sharply can the Allies tell Germany there will be reprisals for every act of vandalism, as well as the execution of punishment for every bit of damage in evacuated towns. Germany has not earned the right to a peace conference.

The Price of a Good Time.

Manager Mason says that never before has he had the pleasure of presenting so appealing a story as 'The Price of a Good Time.' Mildred Harris is perhaps the only person who could have played such a role, which has caused everyone throughout America and Europe to simply adore her. 'The Price of a Good Time' played the Magestic, Halifax to bigger business, many people went twice to see this feature. The story is one that grips you from start to finish. Just picture a rich young man and a poor shop girl. His wonderful offer of Six Arabian Nights and the great shining car, thinking to carry her away, one short week of unbelievable happiness and then, guiltless of wrong but with all evidence against her, the dream-seek crashes down into a sad tragedy at the altar of his would-be saviour. Gone are the six Arabian Nights with their pretty clothes. Gone, the stolen pleasures of golden thrills and restaurant, the glory of being a lady. Striving to save her benefactor, at least from coming vengeance, little Linnie meets an unexpected end. And the price is paid. A thing more touching has ever been acted—let alone filmed. A veritable wonder-play, from the master hand of Louis Weber—the Belasco of the Screen.

Mr. Mason strongly advises everyone to see this exciting play.

The Fuel Controller has made it clear that a reduction in the consumption of gasoline is imperative. This, added to the already great shortage of man-power, is placing a heavy burden upon the merchant. To overcome the man power shortage, he has, in many cases, introduced motor delivery, that more ground might be covered by available help. He is now met by the shortage of gasoline. Thoughtless consumers are the cause of much of this unnecessary consumption of man power and gasoline. From 61 to 75 per cent of deliveries are the result of unthinking house keepers, who do not set aside their household needs and, consequently, require several deliveries where one would suffice.

The delivery of parcels must be paid for by the customer. While not a direct charge, it is added as a percentage of the merchant's cost of doing business. It has been estimated that it costs 40¢ to 50¢ to deliver a parcel. This amount, of course, is not covered on small purchases, consequently, the more thoughtful customers pay for the unthinking ones. Merchants, in large measure, have the remedy in their own hands. They can specify the value of the order they will deliver free, also the weight or bulk, and make a direct charge for all others. This would at once reduce the volume of deliveries. The number of men unnecessarily employed in delivering and the consequent consumption of gasoline. Furthermore, it would have an appreciable effect on the present high cost of living.

To every home there comes a time when every thought, every hope, every prayer for the future centres on the recovery of one loved one. In that hour of anguish, every means to recovery is sought—the highest medical skill, trained nurses, costly treatment. Does the price matter?

It may be so great as to stagger the imagination—a sum beyond the possible.

But does anyone say, "Can we do it?" Money or no money, they do it. And somehow they pay.

They may mean doing without things they think they need. It may mean privations, sacrifices, hardships. They make unbelievable savings, they achieve the impossible, but they get the money to pay.

To-day in this critical period of our nationhood, there is imperative need for MONEY—vast sums of money. Only one way now remains to obtain it.

The nation must save, every community, every family, every individual Canadian must save.

If anyone says "I can't save" let him consider what extent he would pinch himself to relieve the sufferings of a loved one at home; and surely he would not pinch less for our fighting brothers in France.

Without suffering actual privations, nearly every family in Canada can reduce its standard of living, can practice reasonable thrift, can make cheerful sacrifice to enrich the life-blood of the nation.

You who read this, get out pencil and paper NOW. Set down the items of your living expense. Surely you will find some items there you can do without.

Determine to do without them. Start TO-DAY. Save your money so that you may be in a position to lend it to your country in its time of need.
