Praise for the Sheriff

The new Sheriff of Carleton County is not only one of the most efficient peace officers in Eastern Canada, but he is also something of a diplomat. He demonstrated this when he arrested William Glenn, the slayer of Harry Wiley, a short time ago. Glenn had barricaded himself in his home and threatened death to all who dared molest him. There are some people who rush into places where angels would hesitate, but Sheriff Foster is, not one of that kind. He employed diplomacy in the case of Glenn, and rounded up his man without further bloodshed.

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing Frezzone, the other discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of Frezzone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, itching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so softened that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

The closing exercises of the Andover High School were held in the Specialty last Thursday evening. The evening being fine, the house was filled to overflowing with an audience that listened with pleasure to a pleasing program that gives much credit to the teachers, Misses Thomas, Rankine and Grant. E. H. Hoyt acted as chairman for the evening.

Diplomas were awarded to seven pupils, being the graduates for the year 1917. They were Blondie Matheson, Myrtle Crawford, Helen Spike, Dorothy Olmstead and Marion Kilburn, Donald Wiley and Sandy McAlary. Donald Wiley read the Valedictory and Miss Marion Kilburn gave the class prophecy, which was most amusing and deserves much credit for the clever manner in which it was given. A silver collection was taken at the door which amounted to $35.68, to be used for Red Cross purposes.

Mrs. William Gaunce and son, Mrs. Damaris Squires and Miss Annie Giberson of Upper Kent were in town by auto last Thursday evening.

Andover is saddened over the death of Mrs. J. S. McFadden, wife of Rev. J. S. McFadden, who died Friday after a two weeks illness of pneumonia at the age of thirty-two years. With great patience she bore her sufferings, all being done for her that tender nursing and medical aid could do. Doctors and nurses were untiring in their efforts to save her life but to no avail. The end came at 4 o'clock Saturday morning. She leaves to mourn, her husband and four small children, an aged father, one sister, three brothers, and a large circle of relatives and friends. Only a few months ago, a brother was killed at the front thus leaving the father doubly bereaved. The body was taken on Monday to Petitcodiac, her home, for burial. Much sympathy is extended to the mourning family.

Ralph Sadler of Perth is spending a few days in Boston.

Best Legal Aid in Glenn Murder Case

Woodstock, N. B., July 5.—As day after day passes and the time when he must stand trial for the murder of his neighbor, Harry Wiley, slowly draws nearer, William Glenn gives no sign that he realizes the seriousness of his position. Alway

AN OPERATION AVERTED

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I soon noticed a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. THOS. MCGONIGAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

sour and silent, this trait is accentuated amid strange surroundings and Glenn has little to say on any subject. He has not shown any desire to talk about his case and shows as little interest in that as in anything else. So apathetic was he that he took no steps towards his own defence at the preliminary hearing and since then he has displayed no anxiety on the subject. Members of his family have the matter in hand, and are endeavoring to arrange for the best legal talent that can be secured to defend him before the circuit court in October. After a life spent almost entirely in the open, in the woods with his traps and lines, the solitary confinement must prove a severe strain to the prisoner, but so far he has shown no sign that it is telling on him. He has made no complaint on this, nor on any other score and has even refused the opportunities accorded him for exercise.

SOLDIERS FUNERAL AT GRAND FALLS

The Victoria Co. News gives this account of a recent funeral at Grand Falls:

On Sunday morning, a very solemn service was held in All Saints Church in memory of Pte. Miles N. Dixon, who died at Birmingham, England, on the 13th ult., as the result of wounds received in France last November. The fact that the day was the fiftieth birthday of Canada, and a day set apart by the Bishop to remember those who have fallen, and that the service was conducted by Mr. Britton, Lay Reader, who saw much service at the front, seems particularly appropriate. The altar was hung with purple and white, on the pulpit was draped a Union Jack and on the lectern a Canadian flag. A stretcher covered with the Union Jack, and borne by four boy scouts, Masters Ross Glen, Reginald Chapman, Stanley Chapman and Rex White was carried into the church proceeded by Mr. Britton and followed by Master

Clayton Britton, Boy Scout Bugler. The form of service especially prepared for such occasions was read by Mr. Britton who preached a very touching sermon from the text "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend." The hymns were "Our Blest Redeemer," "The King of Love," "The Lord's My Shepard," and "Nearer my God to Thee." During the singing of the last hymn the stretcher was carried out and at the door Master Britton played "The Last Post." This was excellently done and was the first time that he has given it in public. The congregation was deeply moved as this last tribute to the heroic dead was paid, there being many present who have bear ones at the front. The service closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

In the Balance

"In acute disease or sudden injury the steady, constant drinkers' chances of recovery are diminished 50 per cent."—Professor Gilbert Barling, F.R.C.S., Vice-Chancellor of Birmingham University.

IT was at the bedside of a very sick man. The physicians gravely watched the struggle between Life and Death. All depended upon the heart. Could it cope with the crisis? Life hung by a thread. The thread snapped. The newspapers said he died of pneumonia, and so he did. But the physicians remarked, "Too bad he used alcohol, or he could have passed the crisis."

Yet this man was no drunkard—just a moderate drinker; he could "take it or leave it alone just as he liked" and all the rest of it; was a highly respected citizen, and a staunch supporter of "British Liberty" (to have his drop when he wanted it).

Here's the tremendous significance of his case: He always voted true to his convictions. Moderate drinkers form a large proportion of the vote upon which the Traffic depends for existence. In fact, in many communities the moderate drinkers hold the "balance of power."

Help to Enforce Prohibition

When, after the war, the people vote for or against permanent Prohibition the moderate drinker may turn the scale as he wills.

Prohibition is on trial. The moderate drinker of the class mentioned is needed in the fight for vigorous enforcement—the means to permanent victory—and who is more likely to be indifferent? Would that all the moderate drinkers in New Brunswick could thoroughly realize the seriousness of even slight acquaintance with John Barleycorn. Prohibition would be assured forever!

In the name of common sense, why will intelligent men vote for such a curse! Think of thousands of good citizens, being the Traffic's main political support by voting "wet."

Will the moderate drinkers take the responsibility of killing Prohibition after the war? We think decidedly not. But we want their help now—to enforce the laws and thus make freedom a certainty.

Use your influence with every moderate drinker you know. Help to enforce Prohibition.

The Red Cross Nurse says to you:—
"Alcohol, by lowering resistance, nine times out of ten, makes it just so much harder for the patient to recover."
