Here It Is

A shipment of pure English Worsted Blue Suits that should have been here Oct. 1st, through some fluke or other never came until Thursday. They were bought to sell at $15.00. The allowance we secured on account of them being so late enables us to sell them at $9.95.

They come in two styles, single and double-breasted and raised seams. Before you come here see what you can get for $15.00 and then if they are not what you expect DON'T BUY.

The Overcoats are part of the 493 contract purchase we told you about last Saturday. They come in Auto, Military, Chesterfield, Box, and form-fitting styles. Melton, Frieze, Kerseys, Tweeds, with and without velvet collar, all lengths and sizes, some heavy and some light enough to wear under a fur coat; in the regular way the prices are from $12.50 to $20.00.

Now, then, for the man who intended paying $15.00 for an Overcoat come and see the lines we have on sale for $9.95.

You may scratch your head and say: "How do they do this?" All we have to say is, Come and see whether it is true or not. Then go back and look at the other fellow's Overcoats at $15.00; you will come back to The 2 T's.

We Wish to Make an Apology

Usually this store finds itself equal to any demand, however great, the public makes upon its resources, yet last Saturday proved to be the exception to the rule. The 2 T's apologize to the many hundred of clothing buyers whom we were utterly unable to serve on that occasion.

JOE KELLEY AGAIN WITH THE LEAFS.

Contract Was Signed in New York Yesterday—Schedule Meeting to be Held in Montreal on 4th of February.

JOE KELLEY HAS signed to manage the Toronto team. Kelley and President McCaffery have been attending the Eastern League meeting in New York, and the contract was signed yesterday in that city. Time and again it was said that Kelley was to be with the Orioles next season, but there apparently was no foundation for that rumor.

Kelley will try this winter to strengthen the weak spots in the Toronto team. He may do this by trades or by purchase. A catcher is needed to take Mitchell's place, and the Maple Leafs' manager is not going to run across an acceptable substitute for Mitchell at every turn in the road. Mitchell, of course, was not the best fielding backstop in the Eastern League, but his ability to swipe the ball made him tower head and shoulders over the other catchers. Vandergrift, contrary to the story that he was to covet on the Western plains, is still on the Toronto Club's reserve list. Of course it is possible the brick-topped player may be found trying to cut off base-stealers in that section of the country next year, but it is not probable. Toronto will not let him go until a better proposition is in sight.

One outfielder at least is needed to help out Lee, Kelley and Grimshaw. Weidensaul's stick work was so poor last season that it is a certainty that he will not be on the club's pay roll next season.

Mahling has been sold to Montreal. That may mean that Yeager is to become a member of the Kelley band, which would not be a bad exchange for the Maple Leafs.

DAHLEN IS MANAGER. "Bad Bill" Dahlen, it is announced, has been secured as manager of the Brooklyn team for the season of 1910. Charlie Ebbets, it will be remembered, wanted to get Bill early this year, but Boston citing to him, much to the disgust of both Ebbets and Dahlen. Bill went back in his play, and was benched after working half the season, while Brooklyn, with Harry Lumley as leader, fell all to pieces.

Dahlen is believed to have some little playing ability left, and ought to make a strong field boss. It is hard, however, to even imagine him, easy-going Bill in the role of a disciplinarian, and Brooklyn surely needs one.

Ketchel's Manager Makes Dice of Broken Molars.

While in Chicago recently, James W. Coffroth, in course of conversation, told a story of Willis Britt that, but for its tragic nature has a funny side that illustrates the eccentricities of the irrepressible Willis.

The night after the fight Britt proceeded to take in the town. Newspaper men and others were looking for him, and it was not until a late hour the boy manager was located. Finished with money and certain other things, taken to drive away the sorrow, Britt was the centre of attraction in a black room crap game.

"Just look at these lucky ivories," yelled Willis as he rolled a couple of small cubes across the table. "Let me use these and I'll shoot for a hundred." On picking up the dice that Britt was trying to ring in on the crowd, the gamekeeper found a couple of teeth. The ivories once had adorned Ketchel's smiling mouth. Britt had taken them from the floor of the Colma ring after Jack Johnson had broken them off clean in the last blow he landed on Stanley. Later that day and festive Willis had taken indelible ink and with the skill of an artist in such matters had marked off the spots, from ace to six.

WHY NOT GET "GUMSHOE BILL" STONE TO WHIP JACK JOHNSON.

United States Senator Stone, of Missouri, seems to have a fondness for thrashing negroes. He was arrested in Baltimore for slapping a buffet car waiter, and in St. Louis he punched a cab driver who tried to collect his fare.

BIG FELLOW WILL SIGN UP TO-DAY.

Jeffries Says He is Willing to Sign Articles, But Does Not Want Fight to Come Off Until April—Big Smoke Wants $5,000 Forfeit Posted.

(Associated Press Despatch.) New York, Oct. 29.—Unless an unexpected hinge turns up this morning, James J. Jeffries, retired champion, and Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight title holder, will have their signatures affixed to-day to a set of articles calling for a battle for the premier title of the fistie arena some time next April before the club offering the largest purse.

The two pugilists and their managers were scheduled to meet this afternoon at an uptown hotel to frame up the agreement and just before the fighters went into conference there was a gathering of sporting enthusiasts to witness the making of the match. While working on a medicine ball in a local gymnasium, Jeffries said this morning that the articles should be easily fixed up, as he did not know of any points on which there would likely be trouble.

"I'm ready to fight, and Johnson says he is," said the big boiler-maker, "and that's more than half of match-making.

I think we should arrange to meet in April; for that would give me three months to do a little stage work and let the public see my condition, and then I can have three months to train for the bout. I suppose the fight will be held in California. That at present seems the most likely place."

Jack Johnson was out of the city early to-day, flying around the city in a big touring car, and apparently giving little thought to the making of the match this afternoon.

"So Mr. Jeffries wants to wait till April," said Johnson, smiling. "Well, that's a long way off, but I'm willing if he wants to take that long, only I want a big forfeit put up. I should think about $5,000 would be right."

"I'll keep in trim through the winter by doing a little light training. Yes, California would suit me as well as any place to fight."

John L. Sullivan has telegraphed from Chicago, saying that he would referee the Jeffries-Johnson fight without charging a cent, and would guarantee the American public an honest and fearless decision.

A meeting of the central Y. M. C. A. junior harriers will be held tonight in the boys' parlor of Central Y. M. C. A.

S. S. CONVENTION.

Athletics and Amusements Are Not Harmful.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—The convention of the Ontario Adult Bible Class Convention was concluded in High Park Avenue Methodist Church yesterday morning, afternoon and evening. The principal themes of this session was the "Children's Rights" and "The Relationship Between the Sunday School and the Young People's Societies." This latter situation in Bible work was ably taken up by Rev. S. T. Bartlett, general secretary of Methodist Sunday Schools and Epworth Leagues. He said: "Athletics, physical culture and games contribute to the full growth of manhood, and so they are properly within the sphere of a young people's society and should be provided by the young people's societies. A boy should be taught to play for the glory of God, as well as for play for it."

The evening, which saw the close of the greatest convention in the history of the association, was taken up with a literary and musical programme.

NOT GUILTY.

Cornwall Jury Acquits Man Who Accidentally Shot Tormester.

Cornwall, Oct. 28.—Isaac Garlough was to-night acquitted by an assize court jury of a charge of murder. It was claimed that he had shot and killed Ross Beekstead on May 13, in the rear of Williamsburg township. Garlough and his wife both swore that they had been annoyed two or three times by parties throwing stones at their dwelling. On the night of the shooting, rotten eggs accompanied the stones. Something which they described as a bomb had been thrown through an open window in August, 1908. On Saturday, May 8, a dead hen was left at the door, and next day he borrowed a shotgun and some loaded shells from John Lewis. On the night of May 13 Mr. and Mrs. Garlough swore that they were aroused about 9.30 by stones thrown at the buildings, and looking from a window saw two men on the road east of the house. Garlough seized his gun, and going to the west side of the house, stuck the muzzle through a pane of glass and fired at random.

TWENTY KILLED.

Fatal Explosion in Coal Mine in Glamorganshire.

London, Oct. 29.—A score of miners were killed by an explosion in the Rhymney company's colliery at Glamorganshire, the most southeasterly county of Wales, to-day.

Manager Bowen and two companions, who attempted a rescue, were themselves overcome by the after damp and perished.

Romances and Divorce in the Rich Astor Family

MRS. JOHN JACOB ASTOR, FROM PRINCE TROUBETSKOY'S FAMOUS PAINTING, AND COL. J. J. ASTOR.

New York, Oct. 29.—There is a painting hanging in the wonderful Astor palace, in upper Fifth avenue, that just now holds a remarkable interest for society. It shows beautiful Mrs. John Jacob Astor, wife of one of the world's richest men, attired in ball costume, on her face an imperious look, telling better than words that she, and she alone, is leader of the 400.

A talented nobleman, the Prince Pierre Troubetzkoy, was the artist. As he worked over his canvas, busy with palette and brushes, he won the admiration of society's queen.

Then there came into the Astor family a divorce case. It was that of Amelie Rives Chanler, wife of John Armstrong Chanler, who is a cousin of John Jacob Astor. When she remarried, the bridegroom was the prince and painter.

What part did Mrs. Astor play in the romance as matchmaker?

And now Mrs. Astor herself has sued her multimillionaire husband for a separation. As leader of the 400, she refused to recognize some of the most prominent society women in the United States, because they had been divorced.

Will she now forsake society, having practiced what she preached against?
