

TORONTO, FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1880.

A NEW ISSUE.

A discussion is now going on between the advanced wing of the Liberal party and the Reform section of it, in which the former is carrying the day.

The whole case turns upon the question—shall we have protection and keep out of the Republic, or shall we have Union with Annexation?

It was tried for many years, and as now as in the past, the Ontario people, for they are faithfully observing the COMMERCE DECADE.

Now these advanced Liberals, being conscientious free traders, say the change ought to have taken the shape of a Zollverein.

The question has often been put to the Liberal party—What do you offer in place of the National Policy?

SOME DAYS ago the Sheriff was notified by the Department of State that in the case of ROBERT DE COURCIER, who is lying under sentence of death for the murder of his brother, the law would have to be carried out and the condemned man executed on the 16th inst.

THE CASE AGAINST THE SENATE. The case against the Senate is based on the most reckless assumptions.

THE CASE AGAINST THE SENATE. The case against the Senate is based on the most reckless assumptions.

THE CASE AGAINST THE SENATE. The case against the Senate is based on the most reckless assumptions.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

The subject is worthy of consideration, and the Government is always being urged to refer to the Colonies Department.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

It would be rather a shock to it to learn that the Governor-General was of opinion that the supervision of the Colonies Department was more necessary than ever over the legislation of the Colonies.

The Republican Nomination.

Sketches of the Nominees. This deadlock in the Republican Convention at Chicago terminated the nomination of a compromise candidate.

The tactics adopted by Grant's faction were opposed not only by the Republican electors, but by the other candidates, and balloting was continued with but little variation until it was thoroughly exhausted.

The London correspondent of the New York World states that the Conservative party has determined to adopt the caucus system of nominating candidates, realizing that such of the success of their opponents as due to their superior organization.

From the latest English papers it appears that the negotiations between the Mother Country and France for a new Anglo-French commercial treaty have proved abortive.

Despite the remarkable development of iron-bulk shipping, there still appears to be abundant opportunity for Canadian wooden ships to earn profitable freights.

While the Blake-Kansas pamphlet is doing its work in Canada, the General European Agency of the Northern Pacific railway, 20 Water street, Liverpool, has issued an eight-page handbook for circulation in the United Kingdom.

The facts above stated are quite true. Therefore the moral that we draw from them is that the farmers of England are in worse bondage than the Irish are in Egypt.

My mother was afflicted a long time with neuralgia and a dull, heavy inactive condition of the whole system.

A certain member of the last British Parliament was and is well known for his advocacy of secret societies.