WILL CARRY ARMS

(Bulletin Special) Fort William, Oct. 2.—The strike sit action is more peaceable this evening though the trouble is by no means over There is still a little shooting and sev eral of the Italian and Greek agitators have been injured by shots from those defending the property of the C. P. R. An attempt has been made to force all classes of labor both in this town and Port Arthur, into the strike, but without marked success. Though a call has been sent in for the militia, they have not been ordered out. The men of the C. N. R. have also become involved in the trouble and there is great difficulty in controlling the Italian element. Employees of the railroad companies on night duty and any further attempts they could not add anything fresh to damage property will probably result in fatalities.
