The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

It was a perfect delight to take her on a picnic or an excursion because she simply bubbled over with enthusiasm every minute of the time.

She is grown up now. At least she thinks so. And I fancy myself that she is older now than she will ever be again.

I happened to be with her on a jolly little excursion the other day. Her ennu was pathetic.

"I remember when I was a little girl and used to come up here; what a fuss I used to make about going out on the lake in one of those wretched life boats," she reminisced in the manner of very old young folks.

"Why, now I'd want to be paid just to get into one of the dirty little things," and then, with an air of evident pride, "I've certainly outgrown my enthusiasm."

Her air of pride ought to have been an air of regret and sorrow, I think. There is nothing to be proud about in being bored. Absolutely the contrary.

"I've reached the age when one begins to prefer sherbet to ice cream, and orangeade and moxie to ice cream soda," a whimsical young man remarked to me the other day.

It was a rather clever characterization and I suppose it is symbolic of the attitude that most of us get into as we advance in our twenties.

But, oh! I love the people who don't—the dear folks who still childishly delight in ice cream and ice cream soda.

And I think the rest of the world loves them, too.

It laughs at them once in a while but just as it loves a child so it loves "that child's heart within the man's."

A half dozen children bound on one of those wonderful excursions whose chief feature is fairly ordinary lunch glorified into a feast by being partaken of under the open skies, passed us the other day while we were out walking.

"There, I remember I promised to take my boys out into the woods for a picnic supper soon," said the fresh, happy little lady, who is big sister and chum, as well as a most wonderful mother to her five boys.

"You poor dear," pitied the aesthetic lady, "you have my sympathy. How I do hate to eat out doors. You never know whether your food is going to be flavored with ants or spiders or pine needles or just plain dirt. I think you are a perfect martyr to those children."

"No such thing," rejoined the fresh little lady indignantly. "Why, I love to eat outdoors just as much as I did when I was a child. I think it's great fun. If I wasn't with you folks, I'd wish I was going with those children this very minute."

That's the kind of a lady who will always have more friends than she has time for, who will always be wanted wherever she goes, who will always be hailed as a delightful addition to any festivity.

Because she hasn't yet lost her enthusiasm for simple things.

I once knew a little girl for whom everybody liked to do things just because she enjoyed everything so much.

It was a perfect delight to take her on a picnic or an excursion because she simply bubbled over with enthusiasm every minute of the time.

She is grown up now. At least she thinks so. And I fancy myself that she is older now than she will ever be again.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a daily burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG,
SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good."

It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 50 stamps. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

A liberal use of hot soda water and a scrubbing brush will insure a clean sink for the tidy housekeeper. If the sink becomes black a bit of paraffin rubbed on will remove the stain.

To remove grass stains from children's clothes, rub the spots thoroughly with a little fresh lard a short time before washing. Then wash as usual and the spots should come out.

Don't pour water in which cabbage has been boiled down the kitchen sink while it is hot. If it is allowed to cool first the unpleasant odor that follows when it is poured will be avoided.

To make ginger and nut sandwiches, cut up one part of preserved ginger to two parts of nuts, moisten with syrup of the ginger or with thick cream and spread between slices of bread.

A novel ham sandwich is made thus: Chop very fine some lean, cold ham, mix with a little salad dressing or cream, season and spread between the slices of white bread, cut thin and buttered.

A good way to bleach linen or lace is to put it into a bowl of soapy water and set it out in the strong sunlight. If it is exposed to dirt and dust place a glass over the bowl.

Now that the apple has lost its best flavor by cold storage, it may be made into an appetizing salad with onions. Cut together in thin slices and serve on lettuce leaves with oil and vinegar.

The best complexion cream is buttermilk—several glasses of it drunk every day. Nothing that is smeared on the outside of the face will match it for cleaning and brightening the skin.

A charming bed cover can be made of soft, sheer, pineapple linen, trimmed with lace heading. Through this run ribbon and tie in big bows at the corners. The whole can be edged with Valenciennes lace.

Cambric petticoats will last much longer if a piece of wide tape is stitched flat on the hem of the dust ruffle. This will keep the hem from cutting at the edge and ravelling where the skirt first shows signs of wear.

Fruit jars are best marked with labels cut off passepartout ribbon. Use the white, heavily gummed ribbon and print the name of the fruit in black ink. Thus mistakes as to the contents of the various jars will be avoided.

Electric Restorer for Men.

A French Remedy

restores every nerve in the body to its proper tension; restores vim and vitality. Premature decay and all sexual weakness averted at once. PHOSPHONOL will make you a new man. Price $3.00 a box, or two for $5.00. Mailed to any address. The Scobell Drug Co., St. Catharines Ont.—mon.fri.

contents of the various jars will be avoided.

When the fingers of fabric gloves need mending, use the handle of the stocking darning to darn the holes in the tips. This will prevent the stitches from puckering and the mended holes will look nice and smooth when finished.

When filling fruit jars, care must be taken to expel all air bubbles from the syrup before sealing the jar. To do this, press a teaspoon, hollow side up, down into the fruit, going over the whole surface until the bubbles disappear.

Larding meat is a very simple operation and adds greatly to the richness and flavor of the dish. Get a larding needle and cut a piece of salt pork into strips a quarter of an inch thick and two or three inches long. Slip these one at a time into the larding needle and draw through the meat.

Botwood Notes.

Last Saturday at 10 a.m. the S. S. Triton arrived from England with Mr. and Miss Beaton and seven others or Grand Falls. The cargo consisted of coal and cattle. At 4 p.m. the S. S. Molina arrived with a general cargo for Botwood, Bishop Falls, Grand Falls and Millertown consisting of cement, machinery, builders' iron and furniture for Mrs. Grey's hotel at Grand Falls.

Mr. P. D. Park, Superintendent of Shipping, assisted by E. Oke, foreman of the Botwood Works, turned out a private car for Lord Northcliffe. It consists of a sleeper, dining room and kitchen. It has observation windows at the ends and is most elaborately fitted. It is called the "Shawnawethet," after a lake at Millertown.

Mr. Steel, the roadmaster, is a busy man lifting the road between Botwood and Grand Falls.

Capt. Storm who is in partnership with Mr. P. D. Park in the shipping industry, is also kept busy.

Wherever you look about the A. N. Co's premises you see it piled up with pulpwood, and there is also an enormous shed full of No. 1 paper.

Engineers are building tank engine, No. 4. It is about 40 tons weight. George Penney is putting her up under the direction of Supt. Park. It will be used as a relieving or emergency engine.

The Church of England women are starting sewing classes to get money for the new church which is projected.

Mr. Burt, the magistrate, is getting down to business in earnest in constructing a new church which is badly needed.

Vegetation is not very good, except here and there which has grown splendidly.

Rev. Mr. Fletcher is working hard fitting his mission which extends from Botwood to Millertown.

We were visited in his yacht by Lord Brassey. He was taken to Grand Falls by a special engine coupled up to the private car "Shawnawethet."

Worst Case Of Eczema

Cure only came when doctors gave up and DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT was used.

Mrs. Wm. Miller, St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"My daughter Mary, when six months old, contracted eczema and for three years the disease baffled all treatment. Her case was one of the worst that had ever come under my notice, and she apparently suffered what no pen could ever describe. I had three different doctors attend her all to no purpose. Finally I decided to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and to my surprise she immediately began to improve and was completely cured of that long standing disease. That was four years ago when we lived at Cornwall, Ont. and as not a symptom has shown itself since, the cure must be permanent."

The record of cures which Dr. Chase's Ointment has to its credit have placed it alone as the standard cure for eczema and all forms of itching skin disease. Do not be satisfied with imitations or substitutes, 50 cents a box; all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co. Toronto.

ROBIN HOOD FLOUR

IS DIFFERENT

IT HAS ROUSED THE CURIOSITY OF THE WHOLE WEST

"Do you really think," one housewife will say to another "that this new flour can be better than the flour we are using?"
Madam, there is no doubt about it.
But there is just one way you can be convinced. You must use it yourself.
Our claims will not satisfy you, but we back up our claims in such a way that you will lose nothing by trying Robin Hood.
Your grocer will tell you about our guarantee which gives you back your money if you are not satisfied.
