Husbands.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

A husband is the dream of maidens, the hope of single ladies and a stern reality with married women.

A husband is about one-eighth of a married couple. Being a husband is a serious business with most men and it requires most of their time and all of their money to make good on the job. Men become husbands at the age of twenty-one or thereabouts and continue during life or good behavior.

Being a husband is a great privilege and most men make several frantic efforts to go into husbandry during their early youth before they finally succeed. To become a husband one must acquire the unanimous consent of some girl. This requires, from ten minutes to ten years according to the amount of sense possessed by the girl. Some girls will spend four days picking out a husband and four weeks picking out a wedding dress. But girls of this sort are very apt to make several selections of husbands before finding a perfect fit.

The duties of a husband are to come home on time for meals; to pay the bills; to exterminate burglars at night; to go to parties and remain happily around until called for; to hook up dresses beneath his breath; to eat the tough end of the beefsteak at dinner; to go back to loves; to admire the latest misdeeds in millinery; to make his last year's overcoat do a few years longer; to put his collar in the laundry bag; to mail the earliest possible minute a letter written in answer to one received last year and to enjoy conversation served hot or cold at all hours. There are no perfect husbands and the usual success in accomplishing these duties is about 33 per cent. The husband business has as many failures as any other life work, but this does not deter callow youths from rushing blithely into it equipped for the job only with a good appetite and a firm determination to hold a rocking-chair down in its proper place.

There is a large demand for domestic or American-born husbands in this country. They are as a rule durable, easy to run and yield larger returns than any other brand. Women fond of luxuries, however, often

Vigorol

If you want to feel well, bright and cheery, full of ambition; be able to move about quick and smartly—VIGOROL, the Great French Tonic, will brace you up—it cleanses the whole system. If the manufacturers could only impress this upon every one who does not feel as they ought to, the world would owe them a great gratitude; but all we can do is to ask you to try one bottle and see for yourself. The change will be wonderful. You need a spring medicine—then take VIGOROL. Sold at all drug stores.

Colored silk binding is a new feature of some of the crepe de chine blouses.

Boom After War, Economist Says.

(Associated Press Correspondence) Paris, Nov. 26.—The answer of Paul Teroy Beaulieu, the French economist to the question "Will Europe be plunged into bankruptcy because of the war?" is "no, not even Germany."

Concerning the result of the present enormous spending of money by all the nations, and the conditions following the war he forecasts the end of the war a year hence, and after its end a remarkable industrial activity, with an international commerce rivalry leading to high tariffs in all the nations now at war, including free trade England, and yet higher tariffs in the United States.

He said: "While such a situation has never before presented itself in history and while, therefore, all opinions must be given with some reserve, I am confident that no fear need be felt for a universal collapse of world finance. The destruction in this war, save possibly in the lives lost has been exaggerated in the public mind. Not a single nation involved will be irretrievably ruined. The enduring power of accumulated wealth has been underestimated. It will take not more than ten or twelve years for the world to recover from its losses.

"I estimate that the war will have come to a close by next Autumn. Then there will set in a period of manufacturing activity, the like of which we have never known. This period has been made necessary by the physical damage done, by the diversion toward supplies of factories engaged in making cloth, and what not.

"During this reconstruction period we will work harder than formerly. There will not be the stagnation which paralyzed the southern states after the civil war.

"Another result of the war will be the increased taxes by each nation involved, and the raising of tariffs to collect revenues England will do the rest, free trade country though she is, and despite her comparatively less war loss. The United States, while it will not have to, will increase her tariffs."

All First Class Druggists Sell Salvia Hair Tonic

SALVIA destroys dandruff in ten days.

The roots of the hair are so nourished and fed that a new crop of hair springs up, to the amazement and delight of the user. The hair is made soft and fluffy. Like all American preparations SALVIA is daintily perfumed. It is hard to find an actress who does not use SALVIA continually.

Fads and Fashions.

Wool embroidery appears on neckwear.

Gold and brown is a good color combination.

There is no end to the uses for beads this season.

The fullest coats look best on the slimmest women.

Maire is particularly good for full straight skirts.

The newest feature in neckwear is the use of leather.

Fashionable women are wearing white from tip to toe.

Figured silks are revived to be used in the fuller and quarter models of dress.

Sleeveless velvet coats worn over chiffon blouses are most effective.

Boudoir jackets are tighter; they even follow the lines of the old-fashioned basque.

Some evening frocks boast the dainty caught-up draperies of the Watteau period.

Belts are again favor on children's coats.

Many things can be done with a scarf of tulle where the evening dress is concerned.

A great deal of silk or bead embroidery are used even on tailored velvet gowns.
