HERE'S A SECRET

If you want to cure that skin disease of yours, you can only do so by using an ointment so refined as to be capable of penetrating to the root of the disease. Zam-Buk is capable of doing this, whereas ordinary ointments remain on the surface skin.

Besides its wonderful power of penetration, Zam-Buk is such a strong germicide that germs cannot live where Zam-Buk is applied. Thus, all germs, both on the surface and in the underlying tissues, are destroyed. Then the herbal essences, of which Zam-Buk is composed, promote the growth of new tissue, and a complete and permanent cure is the result.

Prove it for yourself. All druggists, 50c. box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

CASEMENTS TRIAL.

LONDON, June 26. Casement made a formal plea of "not guilty," that jury were selected and the Attorney General began his address, at the beginning of the trial to-day.

WILSON AND THE EMPEROR.

PARIS, June 26. A Madrid despatch to the Temps quotes the Imparcial as reporting that President Wilson will receive a message from the German Emperor in the same manner as King Alfonso. This statement is included in an interview which the representative of the Imparcial had with German naval attaché Von Krohn, who declares that the carrying of letters to the King of Spain by submarine could not affect Spanish neutrality which Germans respect. Spanish newspapers, the despatch adds, demand that the Government take measures to prevent a repetition of the submarine incident.

INCREASED ACTIVITY ON BRITISH FRONT.

LONDON, June 26. Latest British and German communications showing increased activity on the British front, are attracting attention here and receive unusual prominence in the London morning papers which also publish conspicuously the fact that King George received General Sir Williams Robertson, Chief of the Imperial General Staff, at Buckingham Palace last night.

BRITISH PRISONERS ON SHORT RATIONS.

LONDON, June 26. Lord Robert Cecil, Parliamentary Under Secretary of Foreign Affairs, told the Commons to-day that the British Government had received information to the effect that British civilian prisoners interned at Ruhleben were now being supplied with less than half the requisite amount of food. Dr. Kuyler, attached to the American Embassy at Berlin, learned that the German Government had reduced the rations of interned civilians. Lord Robert said. The American Ambassador at Berlin gave the information to the British Government of the reduction of rations being made. Lord Robert said that this was done, notwithstanding the fact that the Germans had been storing up money amounting to between $0,000 and $200,000 marks, which should be spent for food. The British Government had protested against this action through the American Embassy, pointing out that if Germany could not feed her prisoners she should release them. Britain also recalled her offer to release or exchange civilians over 50 or over 45 years, if unfit for military service, and proposed that all British civilians at Ruhleben should be released in exchange for a similar number of German civilians in England. Lord Robert declared, if the Germans did not accept this offer within a week, the British Government would be compelled to consider what course to adopt in regard to the rations of German civilians held prisoners in England.

SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR REFUSING DUTY.

LONDON, June 26. Twenty-four soldiers who are serving unwillingly at the Front, having stated that they entertained conscientious objections to military service, were sentenced to death recently for refusing to perform certain military duties, but the sentences were

LET US HAVE A PROGRAMME.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—The most remarkable phase of the Municipal election thus far is the absolute silence of the opponents of Mr. Gosling and his six candidates regarding their policy or program for the future in the event of their obtaining control of the City Government.

Mr. Gosling and his supporters propose to follow it elected. Their program is known to us. They have a definite policy. They know what they are undertaking on behalf of the city and they have made known to the citizens in no ambiguous terms the line of policy in the administration of the Municipal Government which they will pursue. The citizens, therefore, have an opportunity to decide for or against that policy. Mr. Gosling is not asking us to go it blindly and trust to his genius to devise a policy to suit all after he is elected. He tells us what he has been doing and what he intends doing in the future. The men on the ticket with him approve of him as a fit and proper person to finish the work now in hand, a man eminently qualified for the duties he asks us to entrust to him. They have had an opportunity to study his capabilities during two years of exceptional circumstances in the government of the city, and they assure us that under his chairmanship the civic interests of this city will be duly safeguarded and efficiently administered.

These men have no personal interest in boosting Mr. Gosling. They are all men of independent means and have no ulterior motives in obtaining control of the City Government. Their single aim is to do something for the betterment of civic conditions and towards this laudable object they have voluntarily sacrificed much time which their private business interests demanded, and that without any compensation from this city and in no small measure at expense of their private purses, for time is money to successful business men.

On the other hand, Mr. Kelly and the men opposing the Commissioners ask us to go it blindly and trust to luck.

They have no definite policy. No program to lay before the ratepayers for their acceptance or rejection. They ask us to turn out the men who have administered the city's affairs the past two years and give them control on no better grounds than a promise to "do their best if elected." But it is due the citizens of this city now, and more particularly at this juncture than ever before, to have a clear and unequivocal announcement of program from the men who aspire to the offices of Mayor and Councillors for the next two years. With one exception, Mr. Mullaly, the public utterances and private exhortations of the candidates are in condemnation of the policy and personnel of the Board of Commissioners. They base their campaign upon opposition to the program of Mr. Gosling and his fellow Commissioners. Their policy, therefore, will be in opposition to the program of Mr. Gosling and his Board, and that they will "do their best" to substitute, devise and put into operation a new policy along lines of which they themselves have not at present any conception. They are depending on the inspiration which power and new honors will bring them for the formulation of their programme for the future government of St. John's.

The only work of the Board which Mr. Kelly, candidate for Mayor, can find to strongly condemn is the installation of the side-drain sanitary apparatus known as "hopper." His campaign is based on this one performance of the Board. And incidentally I may say it is a very unstable foundation on which to rest his campaign, even if it is as deserving of condemnation as Mr. Kelly and his supporters say it is. They condemn it as a menace to the health of the citizens who live in the vicinity of these receptacles. But men whose opinions carry more weight than the men who condemn them, and who are better authorities on such matters than Mr. Kelly and those who favor his views, say they are a great improvement on old conditions, and instead of creating a danger to the city health undoubtedly remove a long-complained-of nuisance—the festering deposits in the cobble-stone side-drains. That, at least, is the opinion of medical men competent to judge, who can speak without prejudice, and approach the question from the vantage ground of impartiality. Not so those who buttress Mr. Kelly's opinion. Even though they may be equally qualified to judge as to the dangers or the relative advantages of the old and the new methods, they cannot do so impartially when they are active participants in the campaign for Mr.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Proudfoot and infant are in town on a visit to Head Constable and Mrs. Sheppard.

The sad news arrived on Saturday that Private Levi Verge, of one of the Canadian regiments, and a son of the late Joseph Verge of this town, was recently killed in action in France.

Privates James and Lawrence, two wounded and sick soldiers of this town, arrived by Saturday afternoon's train from England, via St. John's. A very large number of our citizens were at the station to welcome our soldier boys. It was our privilege to witness the first meeting of the soldiers and their mother—a scene that we will not soon forget. We welcome them home and hope they will both soon feel fully recovered from their experiences with the enemies of England.

The union services in the Kirk yesterday forenoon and in the Methodist Church in the evening, were conducted by Rev. F. S. Coffin, and were very heartily enjoyed by both congregations.

Miss M. Jutt, Principal of Victoria St. School, is at Island Cove acting as Supervisor in the C.H.E. Exams, now being held there.

Mr. George Tapp arrived from Boston on Saturday evening on a holiday trip to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tapp. George is a favorite with all his acquaintances, who are very pleased to see him in the enjoyment of such good health.

Mrs. Suzannah Murray, aged 84 years, a resident of Murray's Square, died suddenly yesterday morning. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon.

The s.s. Bloodhound, after discharging her coal cargo left again for Sydney early yesterday morning.

Mrs. John Taylor and two children arrived by Saturday's train from Pittsburg on a visit to friends. Mr. Taylor will come later and accompany them home. We wish them a pleasant visit.

Master Bert Munn also arrived by Saturday's train from Toronto and will spend his vacation here. —COR.

Forest Fires Quenched

From passengers who arrived by Saturday's cross country train we learn that all the fires in the interior of the country had been out, as a result of the recent heavy rain showers. We are told that a tremendous quantity of wood land, to the value of millions of dollars, has been destroyed by these forest fires, which are alleged to have been caused by sparks from train engines.

EARLY MORNING.

The early morning's glory has baffled all the poets; no one can chant its glory in comprehensive notes. And faint describe its splendor, but when I take my pen, I train a suspender, and give it up again. For 'e'en a bard of Avon might punch his golden lyre, until he grew a spavin, and felt his muscles tire—he could not do it justice; no bard can do that same, although his marble bust is perched in the Hall of Fame. A Milton or a Spencer might write majestic junk, and then methinks the censor would mark the product "Bunk." Some themes are far too lofty for mortal words, I think; and no one but a softly yell splatter them with ink. And when I see the morning, the slowly rising sun, whose first rays are adorning the landscape, green and dun; the never ending wonder that in the dawning lies, when Night's veil's torn asunder, disclosing gleaming
