Industrial Rank of Canada Fixed.

FOURTH OR SIXTH AMONG THE

trial importance of Canada is contained in a recent decision of the League of Nations, according to information reaching the government at Ottawa. This decision was rendered under the authority of article 22 of the treaties of peace which declared that eight out of the 12 government seats on the governing body of the international labor office should be held by the countries of "the chief industrial importance" and that any question arising as to which were the boundaries of the chief industrial importance should be decided by the League of Nations council.

A special commission was appointed to consider the criteria to be adopted in this matter and it was agreed that the seven characteristics following should be utilized, namely:

1. Industrial population (including mines and transports). 2. Relation of industrial population to total population.

3. Length of railway track. 4. Relation of railway track to area. 5. Horsepower used in industry. 6. Relation of horsepower to total population.

7. Size of mercantile marine. Statistical information on these noints was obtained from the various countries comprising the League of Nations and calculations were made therefrom on two different bases. On one of these calculations Canada was ranked at the fourth state of "chief ndustrial importance" and on the ther calculations as sixth. Under the rst calculations the first eight countries were, in order of importance: Great Britain, Germany, France, Canada, Italy, Belgium, Japan and India. On the second the eight states of "chief industrial importance" were: Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Canada, Belgium, and Maine Potato Men Organize.

600 AROOSTOOK COUNTY GROW-

HOULTON, Me., Nov. 25,-Steps o organize the Aroostook Potato Growers' Co-operation Association were taken to-day at the conclusion of a meeting attended by about 600 farmers of this county.

An executive committee of 21 was appointed to arrange for the contract after the marketing plan and agreement had been explained by S. G. Rubinow of Kelispell, Mont., the or-

Five-Year Plan.

Under the proposed agreement, the members of the association agree to sell all their potatoes, except what is eserved for their own seed and local trade, through the association for a period of five years. To prevent gluting of markets and the falling of prices from that cause, the association would store potatoes wherever and whenever necessary and feed these to the market only as fast as they can

The association would grade every bushel according to its true grade, variety and quality, sell just as directly as possible to the most select trade, and advertise to expand, develop and create better markets. It would co-operate with all other state potato growers' co-operative associations now being formed.

A. R. Gould of Presque Isle, president of the Aroostook Valley railroad. one of the speakers, said that the year worst thing that could have happened for Aroostook county, and that the farmers have been looking for exorbitant prices ever since then. He said that Aroostook farmers were the that the association would eliminate this gambling.
