

In the Realms of Sport

M.C.C. HAD SUCCESSFUL FIELD DAY.

Under ideal weather conditions, a large attendance and well-contested events marked the annual sports meet of the Methodist Guards Comrades Association at St. George's Field yesterday afternoon. Despite the many other attractions, sporting enthusiasts turned up in their hundreds, and although the programme lacked somewhat at one or two intervals, still each and all were well repaid by the display of athletic skill that was witnessed. The Prime Minister, Hon. W. S. Monroe and Mrs. Monroe, under whose distinguished patronage the sports were held, arrived at the grounds at 2.30, and upon being cordially received by the Reception Committee, were escorted to special seats in the enclosure. Amongst the invited guests present were His Worship Mayor Cook and Mrs. Cook, Sir J. G. Crosbie and Lady Crosbie, Padre Nangle, and the officers commanding the city Brigades. The sports started at 2.45 p.m., and the various items were carried through with despatch, the committee in charge, under the capable supervision of Hon. W. J. Higgins, K.C., allowing no long waits between each contest. The different events proved most interesting, being very keenly contested, and great interest was shown by all present in the various contests. The Methodist Guards track team, comprising four sprinters and one middle distance runner, caused a big impression amongst the fans. The sprinters had no competition in the 100, 200 and 400 yard events, and resulted in the honors being pretty equally divided. The Heister, the 100-yard champion, held his previous laurels; in this event crossing the tape an easy winner in 10.45 seconds. Sam Parsons, who is rapidly developing into a runner of some promise, won the 200 yard dash in 26.8 seconds, flat, closely followed by Press; whilst the positions of the latter two runners reversed in the 1-4 mile, with Bob Oskley trailing close behind. The champion miler, Harvey Skirving, ably defended his title, when he defeated C. Stone and Gordon Perry in one of the prettiest races seen on St. George's Field. The strong westerly wind proved very bothersome to the runners, hence slow time was made. C. Stone's performance in the half mile, against Skirving, was very creditable indeed. The race was a big surprise, ending in a tie.

Three Mile Race.

Tommy Linegar, who is fast making a name for himself as a middle and long distance runner, captured the three mile turf race from a field of four. In the early stages of the race, Gower Stone took the lead, with Linegar running close on his heels. In the second mile Stone was still leading by a scant few yards, but once Linegar hit his stride properly he went out to the front and was never headed. In the last mile Linegar was running very strong and increasing his lead, romping home three quarters of a lap in advance of Stone, with J. Ralph one lap and a half to the rear of the latter runner. Linegar completed the distance in 17min. 4 1/2 secs., which can be considered very good under the conditions. He received hearty applause from the gathering for the excellence of his performance. The Cadet football six defeated the C.L.B. in the final football match, and were presented with a silver cup, and a fountain pen for each individual player. The comic football match was the most amusing event of the afternoon. The entertainment derived out of it brought forth much laughter and helped to enliven the proceedings considerably. The tug-of-war was a hard fight. The teams' aggregate weight did not exceed 1,600 pounds, and they pulled under the new regulations laid down by the N.A.A.A. The Guards won by two straight pulls, having a small gain, in each instance.

Mr. Frank Coesfeld gave an exhibition of weight and discus, throwing, unfortunately after the first throw, the only javelin on the field not broken, but the spectators saw enough to wish for more events of this kind. Three crews were entered in the Field Regatta, and an interesting race ensued. All the crews had several accidents on the course, but Baird's crew eventually won out.

The following gentlemen, who comprised the Committee of management, were in great measure responsible for the afternoon's enjoyment:—
Field-Captain—Hon. W. J. Higgins, K.C.
Chairman—James S. Ayre.
Starter—Stan Cullen.
Timekeepers—J. M. Tobin, C. E. Hunt.
Herald—C. Belbin.
Jury—Jas. S. Ayre, W. J. Martin, H. V. Glass, Major March, H. C. Hayward.
Reception Committee—H. J. Wyatt, T. W. Spence, H. J. Russell.
Football Referee—E. Churchhill.
Sports—Mr. D. Butler.

The following is the complete list of events and winners:—
100 Yards Dash—J. J. Horder; 2. S. Parsons. Time 10 1/4 secs.
Football Sixes—C.L.B. defeated

ANOTHER GOLFER IN HOLE-IN-ONE.

NEW YORK, June 7.—There have been many holes made in one stroke at Van Moshulu, during the last few years, but it is doubtful if any individual was more joyous over the occasion than was Robert Flandreaux of this city.

In a match with Frank Valentine and Stephen O. Jones at Moshulu recently he holed out from the tee at the tenth, a matter of 185 yards. Flandreaux used a mallet to do the trick.

JUNIOR LEAGUE FOOTBALL.

Irishmen Defeat Wesley. The best football game of the season took place at St. George's Field last night, when the Wesley and B.I.S. teams tried conclusions in the Junior League fixtures. The game was productive of good football, but it ended somewhat of a surprise, when the Irishmen defeated the Wesley team by 3 goals to nil. The attendance was unusually large and everybody present was highly pleased with the splendid exhibition. Referee T. Del-haunty called the players together at 7.35. Wesley winning the toss, elected to defend the western goal, taking advantage of the wind and sun. Play opened with a dash into B.I.S. territory, but the attack was repulsed, only to come on again. For the greater part of this period play was evenly divided. The Wesley forwards played well, but the halves of the Irish managed to repulse the greater number of attacks, though at times the goal was in great danger, and Kent was called upon to save the situation, which he did in fine style. On several occasions play was transferred to the Wesley territory, and the defence lines of this team were kept busy, but they were always in the right place at the right time. The teams kept up a determined fight, but half the game ended without any scoring.

Eventually the danger in that end was averted and the ball came down, when after a clever bit of play, the B. I. S. registered the first tally through Chase, who took a pretty shot. This had the effect of making both teams redouble their efforts and Wesley again had a try, but the leather was secured by Halley, who speedily looked down the field and passed across to O'Neil, who was waiting to register No. 2. From now on play was of a give and take nature and it looked as if scoring was finished, but about five minutes before the final whistle Manning again found the desired spot on a nice shot. This finished the scoring, and full time saw B.I.S. 3; Wesley 6.

The next match will be played between Holy Cross and T. A.

TO-NIGHT'S FOOTBALL.

The B.I.S. and Guards are the contesting teams in to-night's League football match at St. George's Field. Both teams will present their same line-ups as formerly. No doubt an exciting game will follow.

PUTTING KNOWLEDGE AT WORK.
Plato, as a recent magazine article pointed out, had very little knowledge compared to men now living. He had no language but his own. He knew no history beyond that of the third century before Christ. And because historians had been few he knew comparatively little of that.

He would have signally failed to qualify for entrance into any European or American university. Yet so ably did he use the scant knowledge that he did possess that his influence is still felt in the world and his work and his name will endure forever.

There are men profoundly versed in history, in literature, in philosophy and in the arts that would have found Plato a dull companion in any of their discussions.

Yet they achieve nothing. Their names are not known outside of their own small circles and their erudition makes no mark in the world.

Such men are like the man in the parable who buried his talents. The wealth he possessed was secure. But it was of no use to him or to anybody else.

People who become important in finance are those who know how to use their money. Usually they begin with far less of it than some of their neighbors possess.

But they understand the value of putting it to work—a process which not only enriches them but which benefits other people. It is the same with knowledge. A little knowledge is far from a dangerous thing if put to the right kind of use.

FORGING THE LUCK.

Second Golfer: "It was a very near thing, my boy, I topped up to see if I should go to the office or come here; and believe me, it took five spins before it came right."—Pearsons' Weekly.

COMMANDER SMITH'S PLANE WAS DAMAGED IN LANDING.

Peking, June 13.—Lovell Smith, commander of the United States Army's round-the-world flight, will be detained several days at Hue, French Indo China, where his plane was damaged in a forced landing, according to a wireless despatch picked up here to-day.

The despatch quotes Smith as saying he is unable to tell when he will be able to proceed, and says it is impossible to move his plane until a new motor is installed. The motor is now being sent from Saigon on a destroyer.

Such men are like the man in the parable who buried his talents. The wealth he possessed was secure. But it was of no use to him or to anybody else.

People who become important in finance are those who know how to use their money. Usually they begin with far less of it than some of their neighbors possess.

But they understand the value of putting it to work—a process which not only enriches them but which benefits other people. It is the same with knowledge. A little knowledge is far from a dangerous thing if put to the right kind of use.

Some of the most valuable men in history have been men of scant erudition, but who made very great use of all the information they had.

Lincoln knew little as compared to the modern college professor.

But he not only did his country an inestimable service, but he left an indelible impress upon literature as well.

Get knowledge if you can, for it is power. But make the best use of what you have, even if it is little, and perhaps you will outstrip the most recondite of your fellow citizens.
