this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the "Act Respecting Extra-Judicial Oaths."
Declared before me at the City of London, in the County of Middlesex, this 29th day of Febuary, in the year of our Lord, 1892.
JOHN MACHERSON, a commissioner.

This sworn declaration Mr. Barr has supplemented, toan Advertiser representative on whom he called with the informa tive on whom he called with the informa-tion, that he is not the only victim. Several other supporters of Mr. Hyman were also summarily discharged on Saturday night, without a moment's warning, though their pay day was not till Friday next. It cannot be that the men were thus sacrifixed because there was no employment, because during the campaign Mr. Fitz-gerald, the chief proprietor of the factory, again and again asserted that under the "N. P."work was plentiful, and the pay of his workmen steady and good. Among those got rid of are two very old and faithful employes of the company—one Mr. Adam Sutherland, of South London, who has been for 21 years a workman in the factory, and Mr. John Mills, who has served the company for seventeen years. Mr. Suther and is one of the steadlest mechanics in the city, but he is known as a pronounced Liberal. Mr. Mills is an equally steady workman, being known and respected as a total abstainer. The case of Mr. Sutherland is particularly sad. He is a man with ten of a family. Seven of these are not able to do anything for themselves. Three earn barely enough to feed and clothe themselves. A while ago the furniture factory was put on short time, and that | Hard Times in a "Protectionist" Land. meant a loss to Mr. Sutherland which he has not been able to make up. To crown all, he cut his hand at his machine, and was off workers, 7,000 stone workers and 23,000

A Dinner Fill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of its like a ball of lead epen the stemach, and instead of leing a healty nutriment it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegeable Fills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, coen the secretions and conver the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion or Dyspepsia.

DASTARDLY ATTACKS.

Mr. R. Temple Struck with a Carling Ale Bottle

Thrown from the Conservative Rooms on Carling Street-Mr. Frank Smith Also Seriously Hurt,

A dastardly assault was committed upon Mr. R. Temple Saturday night. He was one of the mounted marshals of the Liberal procession, and when passing Carling's committee rooms a Carling pale ale bottle was hurled at him from a window. It struck him on the forehead with such terrific force that the thick glass was smashed by the contact. Mr. Temple was knocked from his horse. He was picked up by his indignant associates and carried where medical attendance was procured. Had it not been for his heavy hat the blow might have been fatal. As it was the hat was cut through, and the gash was a frightful one. Mr. Temple is doing as well as possible.

Mr. Frank Smith, foreman at J. Campbell's paint shop, also fell a victim to Tory ruffianism. While going through the Market Lane after the procession, some cowardly tough threw a stone at him, striking him in the temple. Mr. Smith was stunned for a time and had so be led to the office of Dr. Moore, the blood all the while pouring from a terrible gash in his forehead. It was found that the missile had cut his flesh through to the bone. He now lies at his residence suffering great pain. It will be some time before he will be able to resume his work.

MORE "CORRECTIONS."

Citizens Maligned by the Free Press and Their Flat Denials.

A Cock-and-Bull Story About Drunken Voters Being Enveigled Away-R. Hueston and John Lewis Falsified.

The Advertiser is called upon to correct another of the multifarious misstatements which have appeared in its local contemporary of late. Under the heading of "Decoyed Voters" it says that one John Bartlett, a brick-layer, was enveigled down to John layer, was enveigled down to John Lewis' hotel at 6 o'clock election morning, given drink until stupefied and then taken to a house and kept all day. "As far as I am concerned, the statemen is a deliberate falsehood," Mr. Lewis told is a deliberate falsehood," Mr. Lewis told a reporter. "I did not see Bartlett at all on election day; he got no liquor at my house, for none was sold or given away. It is a mean thing to attack a man's reputation and that of his establishment without first ascertaining the truth."

Mr. R. Hueston also desires to give a flat denial to another falsehood in the same article to the effect that his bus was used to convey "drunken voters" to the place of confinement. "None of my busses were out of the yard, nor were any of my vehicles used for any such purpose," said he. "It is a deliberate lie and I intend to make the Free Press contradict it."

—From late inquiries it is learned that Mr. W. J. McIntosh, who was struck by a sky-rocket during the procession Saturday night, is doing well—even better than his physicians had expected.

—In reply to an ADVERTISER representative, Mr. George Sherwood, whose name appeared in large fac-simile style as applying to be put on the list among the celebrated 230, states that he did not make any such application, and that it must have been made by some ardent solicitor on his own responsibility.

—An incident amusing to everybody but the principal occurred near the corner.

—An incident amusing to everybody but the principal occurred near the corner of Dundas and Talbot streets Saturday night. One of the processionists had his overcoat pockets full of pyrotechnics which became ignited. Rockets commenced to shoot hither and thither, making a grand scatteration in the crowd, while the poor fellow was surrounded with a brilliant fusilade that made him dance frantically. Somebody ripped the coat off his back tearing it into shreds. It was a necessary action. "Never mind the coat," he said, "there's lots more to be got," and onward he marched with the triumphant throng.
