Shut Out by Cholera.

HAMBURG, April 29.—The steamers plying between Hamburg and South American ports will, until further notice, cease calling at Lisbon, owing to the prevalence of cholera in the Portuguese capital.

May Day Processions Forbidden.

VIENNA, April 27.—The Government has forbidden May Day processions throughout Austria, and employers have notified their workmen that absence from duty on that day without permission will be regarded as a breach of contract and will subject the offender to dismissal.

Cholera Stalking Through the Land.

VIENNA, April 27.—Cholera prevails in East Galicia; 28 cases and 11 deaths. At Kona in Russia there were 55 cases and 33 deaths in one month, and at Ploek, 6 cases and 5 deaths. Cholera also prevails in the Province of Finistère, France.

At Lisbon a medical commission has been created by royal decree to act with the civil governor in the adoption of a measure to check the spread of cholera. One death from cholera was reported there to-day.

Scottish Home Rule.

LONDON, April 27.—In the House of Commons to-day the Scotch Local Government Bill was introduced by Sir George O. Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland. The Government accepted an amendment offered by Mr. Renshaw (Con.), which provides for the selection of fifteen non-Scotch members of the committee, the aim being to create a committee representing as closely as possible the balance of the parties of the whole House.

Mr. Trevelyan's motion to include all the Scotch members in the committee was adopted, with Mr. Renshaw's amendment, by a vote of 232 to 207.

Disestablishment in Wales.

LONDON, April 27.—Mr. Asquith's remarks in introducing the Welsh Disestablishment Bill last evening, referred to the fact that twelve parishes in English dioceses would be disendowed and disestablished, but on the other hand fourteen Welsh parishes in the diocese of St. Asaph would be transferred to some English diocese. The treatment of a number of boundary parishes involved delicate questions, and would be considered therefore by special commissioners. If a bill should be passed in the present year it would become effective on Jan. 1, 1895. All public and private rights in patronage would then become extinct. No Welsh bishops would sit in the House of Lords, ecclesiastical law in Wales would cease, and the courts would be deprived of their power. Existing doctrines and ordinances would continue, although without the force of law. The power to hold synods would be preserved, and the church would be empowered to appoint a body to hold property in its behalf. The Government proposed to appoint three permanent commissioners to carry out the provisions of the bill.

Terror-Stricken Towns.

ATHENS, April 27.—A heavy shock of earthquake was felt here at 9:20 this evening. It lasted 15 seconds. The weekly Epiphany procession was in progress and the cathedral was crowded. The windows of the cathedral rattled ominously, and several objects fell to the floor. Women screamed and somebody shouted that the building was falling. A terrible panic was excited only by Premier Trikoupi's presence of mind. He addressed the congregation calmly, saying that there would be no danger if they would only leave the cathedral slowly. The congregation dispersed without disorder.

Dispatches received up to 11:30 o'clock indicate that the early quake was felt throughout Greece. The town of Athalanta, 3,000 inhabitants, which had been but slightly injured by previous shocks, was nearly leveled to the ground. Two-thirds of the buildings were reduced to heaps of ruins and the rest badly damaged. The destruction of Thebes was complete. Not a house is left standing. In Iania acres of houses were rendered uninhabitable. Part of the prison collapsed and about 60 convicts were caught in the wreck. The number of dead and injured is not known. Larissa, Volos, Chalcis, and Patras were shaken more severely than was Athens. Stone walls were split in hundreds of buildings in the four towns. Terror reigned in the island of Syra and Zante. Repeated shocks have been felt there in the last two days. Small villages have been half ruined and hundreds of families have been driven to live in the fields unsheltered and unprotected. The towns of Zante and Syra have not been damaged greatly, although a few buildings in each were partly destroyed.

ATHENS, April 28.—The list of dead by the earthquake now numbers 300 persons who lost their lives before the shocks of last evening. The destruction of life and property has been far greater than in Zante last year. The exceptional calmness of the weather has done much to increase the misery of the people.

Lake Erie to Europe Direct.

TOLEDO, Ohio, April 28.—Eight Canadian vessels are being loaded here with corn for direct shipment to Europe. The fleet will return for another cargo immediately, and in all about 3,000,000 bushels of corn will be shipped abroad this way during the spring. In the early summer it is expected about 5,000,000 bushels of wheat will be taken to Europe in the same way.

227,000 MINERS ON STRIKE. COLUMBUS, O., April 27.—The following estimate of the number of miners now out in the strike given out by President McBride this morning shows that the miners are gaining strength. Total, 152,000.

In this estimate McBride does not include the accessions in the Indian block field and in Illinois. The principal addition is made in Pennsylvania, where he estimates 65,000 men are now idle.

SETTLED. CHICAGO, April 27.—The plumbers' strike is settled and 1,800 journeymen plumbers of Chicago will return to work Monday morning.

NO VIOLENCE. TOLEUCA, Ill., April 27.—The miners' meeting has peacefully broken up. No violence was attempted. This was mainly due to the precaution taken by the authorities in closing the mines and in dispersing the 4,000 miners who assembled here by providing free transportation to their homes.

A FLAG CIRCUS.

Big Row in Winnipeg Between Two Branches of the Militia.

WINNIPEG, April 28.—A big fuss has been stirred up in Winnipeg military circles. At Thursday night's charity ball in the drill shed, among the decorations were several American flags. These gave offense to Major Coutlee, commander of the Winnipeg Field Battery, and he ordered them down. The committee refused to obey this order, and Major Coutlee called upon the deputy adjutant-general to demand that the flags be removed. The latter, however, sided with the ball committee, and ruled that they should remain up. This made Major Coutlee so furious that he threatened to call upon a detachment of Sons of England to pull them down. Then the deputy adjutant-general placed a detachment of infantry on guard to see that the decorations were not interfered with, and they were not. Hence all the trouble, the end of which is not yet.

It consisted of six coaches and a baggage car and carried 243 passengers.

Finishing Up.

Closing Hours of the Ontario Legislative Session.

The Ship Canal and Aqueduct Bill Withdrawn—The Iron Mining Bonus Bill Passed—A Skirmish Over the Registration Measure.

TORONTO, April 27.—In the Legislature to-day most of the time was devoted to finishing up various bills and doing the work that accumulates at the close of a session.

The supplementary estimates were all passed and a large number of bills were read a third time.

The Ship Canal and Aqueduct Bill was withdrawn after a very determined opposition from the Hon. Mr. Fraser, who succeeded in getting in an amendment providing that the canal and aqueduct may not enter a municipality without the individual consent of that municipality, an appeal being allowed from the municipality to the Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. Hardy's resolution to aid the mining of iron ore in the Province to the extent of $25,000 a year for five years was passed.

Mr. O'Connor's bill to exempt gas mains and electric companies' plants, etc., and tax only their income, was so badly amended that it was withdrawn.

EVENING SESSION.

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS, TORONTO, April 27.—The bill respecting registration of manhood suffrage voters was taken up in committee.

Mr. Meredith saw in the bill some attempt on the part of the Government to secure a party advantage.

Mr. Oliver Mowat said he didn't see how any intelligent man could arrive at such a conclusion. He instanced London in support of his contention where the bill was instituted by the bill was composed of three Conservatives, one Liberal and two judges, both strong Conservatives, one being personally obnoxious to the Liberals; the Master in Chancery, another Conservative, and the police magistrate, who, though a Liberal, did not take any part in politics.

Mr. Meredith said the bill cast a reflection upon the young men in Toronto who had very recently had their names placed upon the voters' list. Under its provisions property-owners and house-holders would not have to register, while every manhood suffrage voter was required to do so. He moved an amendment that every man who was not on the list "qualified as a manhood voter" could have the right to come before the registrar and have his name added. At the same time the agent of either party could challenge the names of any man supposed to have been improperly inserted.

Mr. Clarke (Toronto) opposed the bill in its present form.

Mr. Tait maintained that the system of registration was the only method by which an honest list could be secured. If a man wanted to vote he would find time to register.

Mr. Hardy said that Mr. Meredith wept crocodile tears for the workmen who would not have time to register, while the fact was that the bill was the outcome of suggestions made by workmen. The laboring mechanic classes were distinctly in favor of it.

Mr. Balfour thought that as the anticipated lists would be prepared on the eve of a general election there would be no difficulty in getting men to register.

The amendment was rejected. Mr. Meredith then moved another amendment, to the effect that if a young man (properly qualified as a manhood suffrage voter) was unable through illness or absence from the city, to present himself in person for registration, and proves his right to a place on the list, his name should be inserted on the lists.

Mr. Mowat objected to the addition.

Mr. Meredith's amendment was voted down—32 to 20.

SIR WM. HOWLAND TESTIFIES.

Sir Wm. Howland has testified before the Fees Commission in favor of the present system of payment and appointment of Government officials. He thought registrars and sheriffs should have the right to appoint their own deputies. When questioned as to the payment of both he answered in favor of a well regulated system of fees. He thought sheriffs should receive fees to the extent of about $3,000, and registrars $4,000, and the Government should see that their subordinates were not unjustly paid. The fees outside of this should be funded. Erasmus Jackson, of Newmarket, ex-warden of York county, also favored strongly the present system.
