LEASE WILL RUN FOR EIGHT YEARS

City and Street Railway Get Together Regarding Springbank Park.

THEATRE REMAINS OPEN

Though the Company Desired to Close It in Theatre To Be Removed by Company at Expiration of the Lease.

At a special meeting of the water commissioners held yesterday afternoon, the agreement between the London Street Railway Company and the water commissioners relative to Springbank Park was taken up. Clause by clause by City Solicitor Meredith and Mr. C. H. Ivey, solicitor for the company. No radical changes were made. The new agreement containing different wording will be read next Wednesday, and if satisfactory will be signed.

Period of Lease.
The first clause related to the time the lease should extend. At a former meeting it had been agreed that the new lease should run for eight years, with a three-years' option. When the clause was read, Manager King asked that the time be as suggested, dating from 1911, rather than from Dec. 1, 1909.

City Solicitor Meredith objected to this, stating that the commission had no right to make a contract binding the board of 1911.
"I move we grant them the lease for nine years straight, dating from Dec. 1, 1909," said Commissioner Darch.
Mayor Stevely moved as a compromise that it be extended for eight years, with two years' extension at the option of the company. This was agreed to by the company.

Fare for Children.
Commissioner Darch asked about the fare for children, and was informed that under the present schedule, children paid a half-fare ticket on the down-town run, and two green tickets the rest of the journey. Under the new management they would have to pay 10 cents straight.
Mr. Darch figures out that in one case, children paid 25 cents, and in the other 10 cents.
"What about half fare?" he asked Mr. King.
"No chance," answered Mr. King, and the matter dropped.

There was nothing in the agreement that children under 5 years of age should not pay, and a clause to that effect was inserted at the suggestion of Mr. Meredith.
It was also decided that the street railway must operate any amusement device at least one season. This was to prevent the company installing an amusement device, operating it a short time to prevent others from getting the privilege, and then closing the affair up.

The Theatre.
It was the intention of the company to close the theatre, but to this Commissioner Darch objected strenuously.
"We never heard of that, until now," said Mr. Darch. "I will not consent to boxing in the theatre, and the agreement will stand until December before I will move."
"We cannot get any company to play in it under the present conditions," said Manager King. "What are we going to do?"
"Do as you have done in the past," retorted Mr. Darch. "The theatre must be left as it is."

May Remove It.
The theatre will not be boxed in, but the agreement provides that the company may remove the theatre at the expiration of their lease.

Some minor changes in the wording were made, and the two solicitors will confer before the next meeting, and present the finished contract.

FREIGHTER FOUNDERS WITH FIVE OF CREW

The Clarion Destroyed by Fire Off South East Shoal Last Night.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 9.—Information received here is that the vessel that burned off Southeast Shoal in Lake Erie last night was the freighter Clarion of the Anchor line. The first mate and one of the crew perished, and the captain and eleven members of the crew are adrift in a steel life boat. They have not been heard from since leaving the ship.

One of the victims froze to death and another was drowned. Six men were taken off the burning boat by the steamer L. C. Hanna, and are now on board that vessel bound for Buffalo. It is feared that some of the thirteen men adrift in the life boat will succumb to the cold.

REV. A. J. VINING REMAINS IN LONDON

Refuses a Call From Important Congregation in Hamilton.

At the regular monthly meeting of the congregation of Talbot Street Baptist Church last night Rev. A. J. Vining stated that he had sent a message to the deacons of the James Street Baptist Church of Hamilton, to the effect that he would not accept their call, but would remain in London.

As soon as Mr. Vining made his decision known those present sang the doxology.

Congregation Pleased.
Mr. Vining stays in London of his own free will. Naturally the congregation are greatly pleased at their pastor's decision to stay with them.

No influence was brought to bear on him in any way, and the matter was left entirely in Mr. Vining's hands to decide.

Individual Cups.
Fully 300 members were present at last night's meeting. A vote was taken on the question of adopting the individual communion cup. Only twelve

A BIG SUCCESS WAS THE BAZAAR

Held Yesterday to Raise Funds for the Children's Aid Society.

A very large measure of success attended the bazaar given at the home of Mrs. George C. Gibbons yesterday afternoon and evening, in the interest of the Children's Aid Society. The rooms in which the bazaar was held were filled with a constant stream of people, and the sympathy in which the motive of the bazaar was held, combined with the attractiveness of the articles offered for sale, was accountable for a very handsome addition to the funds of the society.

The rooms were very prettily decorated in the Christmas fashion, and formed a very attractive scene.

The front room was occupied by the West and North London tables, which were given over to a display of fancy work. In charge of this table were Mrs. Barker and Mrs. Gates, while assisting them were Mrs. T. H. Carding, Mrs. Wismer and Mrs. Emily Belton, Richardson and Alice Hyman.

In charge of the East London table was Mrs. Betts, who was assisted by Mesdames W. A. Young, C. N. Spencer and Miss Bullen. During the afternoon these ladies were assisted by Miss Florence Stevely and Miss Hague, and in the evening by Miss Leonard and Miss Labatt.

A very generous supply of olives for sale at this table had been donated by seven of the grocers of the city, Messrs. Rowat, Diprose, Rennie, McCormick, Harley, Denny and Scandrett Bros.

The fortune-telling booth was one of the most attractive features of the occasion, and provided no little interest and amusement. Those who supplied the foresight for interested inquirers were Miss Edith Scatterd, Miss Wolverson, Miss Harris, Miss Zimmerman and Miss Meta Macbeth.

The woollen goods table was in charge of Mrs. George C. Gibbons, assisted by Mrs. G. S. Gibbons and Mrs. Ernest Smith.

The ladies in charge of the Central London table were dressed in a very attractive costume, all of white and dainty caps. Mrs. Draper was in charge of the table, while assisting her were Mrs. (Dr.) Drake, Miss Edna Leonard, Miss Labatt and Miss Nora Moore.

The fish pond was another very popular feature of the bazaar, and presiding over it was Mrs. Adam Beck, assisted by Helen Gibbons.

The housekeeping table presented a very appetizing array of home-made goodies, pickles and other delicacies. In charge of this table were Mrs. J. W. Jones, Miss Regan and Miss Hardy.

Mrs. Frank Leonard and Mrs. Yarker presided over the tea room, assisted in the afternoon by Misses Moore.
