Monday Morning, Sept. 14, 1885.

The Young Liberal Convention.

No politician has ever attracted more attention before the event than the convention of young liberals which opens here to-morrow.

As to the young liberals here to do, they wish to make a hit, to run the convention themselves, and to tackle first all those who the older politicians try to avoid.

A Practical Man's Opinion. On the subject of commercial union we have had nothing more to the point than the letter from Mr. F. W. Glen.

He is of opinion that no new industries would be established in Canada under such an arrangement by reason of the fact that the four-cent tariff of the market would cut off whenever our neighbors choose to terminate it.

For this timely utterance of his Mr. Glen deserves the country's thanks; but still it does seem to me that men of average common sense should ever have fallen into the delusion that we can manufacture for the Americans.

Let us consider, further, the enormous manufacturing capacity of the United States. In most important lines the capacity goes far beyond that of the market to take up the goods produced.

The Advertiser says that "London is the spot" upon which to hold the provincial exhibition. London is undoubtedly the good point for that purpose.

which it places its modicum of. That it is so is proven by the fact that when it shifts its quarters from London or Hamilton those cities do not feel the loss.

Volunteer Grants and Recap. Editor World: In answer to "Volunteer" I would say that I have no official knowledge that the government is going to give the man land grants or to give him a title.

The Government and Riot. From the Montreal Witness (Liberal). A great deal has been said in the Ontario papers and in some of our own about the supposed action of the government in granting a title of nobility to the Duke of Devonshire.

Grain and Produce Markets by Telegraph. New York, Sept. 13.—Cotton firm, up 1/8 to 1/4. Flour steady. Sugar 1/2 cent higher.

People in difficulty sometimes make a sale to raise the wind. The Genesis and the Puritan find great difficulty in raising the tide to make sail.

A contemporary speaks of our old legislative building as a pile. It is more properly a heap. But we would like to see the pile driver at work on it.
