Guff From Gotham. Henry Allen to J. J. Dixon & Co.: To-day' market opened weak, with the liquidation of an account, said to have been made necessary the Field-Lindley failure, but prices did not say much. There is a feeling of unrest because o much. There is a feeling of unrest because of rumors that there are important interests involved in the Field-Lindley failure, but rumors on this account are vague and for the most part denied in circles said to be suspected. An interesting bit of current gossip represents that the real big bears on the Northern Pacific are the Villard crowd themselves. They are said to have sold out around 77 on early reports of troubles in Berlin and are now working to get the market down in order to buy back. This, if true, is not cheering for the holders of Northern Pacific. There are quiet rumors that Mr. Jay Gould has had another fainting spell.
