DIAMOND HALL CHMS

"BY MAIL" RYRIE BROS!, Toronto. Gentlemen .- I wish to purchase Diamond and Emerald Ring for lady's wear, and your name has been highly spoken of in this

I enclose you herewith $100, for which please do the very best you can for me, as I leave the selection entirely to yourselves.

Yours very truly. We made the selection and sent him a ring that called for the following reply:

RYRIE BROS., Toronto. Gentlemen, -I received the Emerald and Diamond Ring which you sent me in reply to mine of a few days ago. It certainly is a beauty, and more than meets my ideas of style and value.

Any future wants I may have in your line you may be sure will be entrusted to you. Again expressing my great satisfaction I remain, Yours very truly

There's absolutely no risk. All goods marked in plain figures—strictly one price. We assume all risk. Money cheerfully returned if you are not perfectly satisfied. RYRIE BROS.,

As Harry Explained it to Him

John Wright, a plumber, testified that he had known Wells about three years previous to his death. Heard of the killing about 6 o'clock the same evening. Witness went to the warehouse the day after the funeral, and saw Harry Hyams there outside the office. Asked to be shown the fatal spot, and Harry went down with him. Harry told witness that Willie had been killed by the falling weight, and where he had found him lying. As Harry described it at that time the dead boy's head was found near the elevator shaft, and the legs stretched out in a south-easterly direction—John Greer (chairman), Thomas The Liberal-Conservative Association.

out in a south-easterly direction-Harry told him the weight had slipped and killed the boy-, Witness took hold of the pull-rope, and remarked that Willie must have been looking up the shaft with the right side of his head willie must have been looking up the shaft with the right side of his head uppermost, Harry showed him the position of the body as he found it, with the weight resting on the head, and told him that he had lifted the weight off and placed it by the side.

Witness had looked up the weight shaft, and thought he saw a small projection near the office floor. The box of the shaft did not run down to the basement floor, and the weight swung clear of the partition. Looking up the shaft, witness thought that it was about an inch larger all round than the weight. He put his hand on the floor beneath the weight shaft, but there was no unusual dent there; neither was there a buffer block. Examined the weight shaft right up to the wheel and saw nothing wrong with it.

To Mr. Johnston the witness said it
