"A VOYAGE AROUND THE WORLD IN THE U.S. FRIGATE COLUMBIA," Commodore G. C. Read: By the Rev. F. W. Taylor, Chaplain. This is the title of an interesting work, in two volumes, beautifully bound in one, and embellished with plates and engravings. From the high commendatory notices which it has received from many of the leading popular periodicals and journals, there can be no doubt of its repaying the attention of the reader. Price $2 per copy. T. A. Getchell Agent.

Pictorial—We still continue to hear the most disastrous accounts of the losses occasioned by the fire along the coast, between this place and River John. Mr. Donald McAlay, we are informed lost 19 sheep, and Mr. Alexander Faulkner 13. The Presbyterian Church partly finished, and a school house near it have also been burnt.

On Saturday afternoon, Sunday night and Monday last, the country was favoured with a succession of copious and refreshing showers. Though too late for effecting any improvement in the hay crop, which will be very inferior, it must have a very beneficial effect upon the grain and potato crop. It is to be hoped also that it will extinguish the fires which have been raging so furiously all over the country and destroying such a vast amount of property. —Eastern Chronicle.

MARRIED.

At Charleston, Mass. on the 13th inst. Mr. John McMath of that city, to Miss Lucy, eldest daughter of Mr. John Steele, of this Town.

DIED.

On the 29th ult. at Milltown, St. Stephen, after a lingering illness, which he bore with resignation to the Divine will, the Rev. JOHN CUMMINS, Parish Priest, in the 62d year of his age. Strongly attached to the doctrines of the Church of Rome, which he maintained and expressed, he had the happy skill to do it without offence, and his loss is as deeply mourned by members of other denominations as by his own people. In his former Parish of St. Andrews, where he resided for many years, will be long remembered, as one whose house and hand were ever open to the stranger, the poor, and the afflicted. —Com.

PROSPECTUS OF THE LANCET.

A New weekly paper, under the above title, will shortly be issued in St. John, N. B. by T. HILL, late Editor and Proprietor of the "Loyalist."

The LANCET will be about half the size of the ordinary weekly papers, and published every Saturday, in the quarto form; but although small, it will contain a fair amount of reading matter, as advertisements will be excluded, and it will be closely printed in small type. It will be devoted chiefly to politics at a distance.

In politics, the chief aim of the publisher will be to effect a union of the British North American Colonies, and to obtain a Constitution which shall secure to the United Colony power to regulate her internal affairs, and to enter into any trade arrangement she may deem necessary or judicious.

This the Publisher firmly believes is absolutely necessary to secure the allegiance and prosperity of British North America. The satirical articles will be written with a view to reform local and administrative abuses.

Terms.—Three pence per copy payable on delivery or ten copies sent to one address three months on payment of one pound in advance.

Subscription lists for St. Andrews will be found at the residence of Mr. Isaac Snodgrass, and at Mr. E. Phelan's Hotel.

Only the exact number of copies ordered will be sent to St. Andrews. They will be left in care of Mr. E. Phelan, and delivered to subscribers only at 2d. per copy.
