Commissioner next week --- W. BARCOCK Our Provincial Legislature is now in Ses sion, and we understand that the attendance is very full, although convoked at a most inconvenient season of the year for the majority of the members leaving their homes and business. The ample extent to which the causes have been discussed that led to the necessity of calling this extra meeting, has brought forward a great deal of heterogeneous matter and elicited some interesting lacis; but we doubt much if the tactics or sincerity of either side have quartially altered the position of the contending parties as they stood at the end of last essent and therefore we augur that unless some of those "lucky chances which off decide the fate of empires" should turn up, the whole after sill be resolved into a nullity and it ambers of the House of Assembly To their Constituents. > The first three numbers of THE PIETOS Bue have reached us and have impressed us with a very favourable opinion of the publication. 'In looking over them we were struck with an inaccuracy which it would be well for the Editor to be cautious of in future .-Whether Sir John Vanturgh was "a very corpulent man" or not, we cannot say, but the sting of the satirist was directed at the heavy style of his architecture and hence the epitaph acquires all its epigramatic force .-We desire that this remark may be taken in a right spirit, and we shall be happy to improve our acquaintance with the Bee.
