

Practical Talks and Plain Precepts for Farmers.

Edited for the Farmer readers of the MONITOR by an Annapolis Valley Agriculturist

A Good Outlook. In the last issue of The New England Farmer there appears an excellent review of the growth of agricultural production during the last half decade.

that the short crop has a larger value than ever before, with the exception of last year. This season's wheat crop represents a greater value to the farmer than any previous crop.

IN VIEW OF A SHORT CROP, ONLY REFERENCE TO THE HIGHEST TOTAL VALUE OF WHEAT AND OTHER STRAITS COMBINED GOOD FROM THE WHOLE COUNTRY—THEY OF THE FARMER.

The most progressive year in the history of the American farmer is drawing to a close. The harvest is practically completed, values are well established, and the general outlook is encouraging as to results of the farmer's labor.

Table with 10 columns: Values of Staple Crops and Live Stock for this year, 1901, compared with previous years. Also comparison of the preceding five year period. Includes rows for Wheat, Corn, Oats, Hay, Barley, Potatoes, Cattle, Hogs, Sheep, and Poultry.

What and How to Plant in the Fall. One of the puzzling questions which many farmers are contemplating setting out fruit trees, is what they shall plant in the fall.

It is a safe rule to follow, over a large part of the country, both east and west of the Alleghenies, to plant in the fall, and the stone fruits, the peach, plum and cherry in the spring.

Standard fruit trees are about right at twenty feet apart and dwarf at twelve to fifteen feet apart.

There are several good ways to lay out a fruit plantation, but the cheapest and easiest is the one in which horse power is used to as near as possible the same depth as it stood in the nursery and with the largest branches towards the walling, or inner, side, which comes from the so called over-ripe

Philosophy. A few weeks ago I published an article on bohemianism, in which I attempted to show that no pleasure is really gratifying

Dear Sir—Your article on bohemianism has done me a great deal of good, and has taught me how to live with my wife and two little children whom I dearly love.

It is the ambition of all boys to be men. Do they ever think what constitutes a man? The idea of most boys is that a man is one who grows in years and size, and free to come and go as he pleases.

My friend is right. If you want to be happy, make one happy and you will enjoy a good time. The love of a woman is to be had that way.

A pair of intelligent hares attracted the attention of a large crowd on Nassau street last week. They were attached to a heavily loaded wagon coming down the steep grade between Cedar street and Maiden lane.

Warts are Unpleasant. This is the reason no one is clamoring for a few more warts—make them fashionable and a remedy to grow warts would quickly be made a fashionable success.

Somerville, Mass., is lighting the use of cigarettes, by miles, and toll. The school board of that city has adopted a number of new rules, among them being one prohibiting the use of tobacco and cigarettes by scholars in the school yards or on the way to or from school.
