Toronto Swept by Great Fire. Business Centre of the City Destroyed -Greatest Calamity in the History of the City-Loss Fifteen Million.

Fire broke out at midnight Tuesday last in the heart of Toronto's whole sale business district, in the premises ers, 50 and 60 Wellington St. West. spreading to the east and south with fearful rapidity, devastating section after section of the business portion of the city. The Toronto Globe of Wednesday morning says:

"The fire of last night was the greatest calamity of the kind that has ever ned to this city. "The area swept at the time of go ing to press was not large, but it was factories, wholesale warehouses, chinery emporiums, publishing houses and other lines of commerce and industry. It was the neucleus of the most intensely business part of the city between Wellington Street and this place and between Yonge Street and Union

"It is difficult to form anything like an accurate estimate almost of the pecuniary loss in buildings and their contents, but it must approximate ten millions at this writing, with the fire

continuing its ravages.

There is much discussion as to the methods made to check the fire. Mr. Hocken, one of the principals of the Minerva Mfg. Co., round whose building one of the chief fights raged, maintains that the firemen did not pursue the wisest tactics. He said: "What they should have done was to have blown up with dynamite two or three buildings between this and Bay street. If they had done that when the fire If they had done that when the fire had reached the stage it had at one o'clock this morning, there would not have been half the damage there is."

As a matter of fact an effort was made to use a remedy. The regular force here was asked to send a corps of engineers from the barracks with historical and geographical works and has the highest credentials from leading edurationists in England. His election was unanimous, though four other names were before the Board. Roth dioceses were represented at the meeting.
