

The Foundation for Canadian Studies in the United Kindgom

The Foundation for Canadian Studies in the United Kingdom was established in June 1974 under the chairmanship of Canada's High Commissioner in London, Mr. Jake Warren; the present High Commissioner and former Secretary of State for External Affairs, the Honourable Paul Martin, became the Foundation's Chairman upon his appointment to London. The purpose of the Foundation is to provide a vehicle through which financial support can be mobilized to promote Canadian studies at institutions of higher learning in the United Kingdom. The Canadian Government contributed a third of the Foundation's initial endowment of 180,000 Pounds (approximately 360,000 Dollars); the remaining funds were readily obtained from British and Canadian private sources, "thanks largely to the efforts of Lord Amory", noted Mr. MacEachen. Viscount Amory is a former Chancellor of the Exchequer and was Britain's High Commissioner to Ottawa in the early sixties; he is presently Chancellor of Exeter University. The other original members of the Board of Directors are Lord Trend, Rector of Oxford University's Lincoln College, Mr. John Elton, Chairman of ALCAN(UK), Mr. H.L. Fawcett (Treasurer), Assistant General Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia in London, Mr. H.A.R. Powell, Board Chairman of Massey Ferguson Holdings and Mr. Alastair Down, Board Chairman of Burmah Oil. The Secretary of the Foundation is Mr. Clarence Devine.
