

live and learn or to forget and fail. Let the Coalition which now prevails endure and widen and deepen. A coalition not to fight aggression, but to build peace. A coalition to construct comity from the consequences of conflict. That must be our new objective. Let us make it our next victory.