What compelled Don Alfonso to burst into words was the suggestion in the newspapers that the United States might be driven to recede from the stand taken by President Wilson and recognize the Huerta Government.

"Against the claim that the regime of Huerta is a constitutional government," said Senor Madero, "there is this unanswerable fact which seems to have escaped the attention of the American press: That when the Mexican Congress gave formal recognition to Huerta as provisional president is did so under force of arms. One thousand soldiers who Huerta knew would do his bidding, were stationed in the halls of congress, when Huerta sent Querido Oaxaca, to tell his colleagues that they would be given thirty-six hours in which to recognize the Huerta Government and make it constitutional."

"The message as delivered contained the threat that if Huerta's order was not complied with, he would shoot the president and vice-president, who had not yet been murdered, and every sennot yet been murdered, and every senator and congressman who voted against him. Every member of the congress whom I have seen since that out its own destiny—which she is able memorial session has verified this as- to do.

"First there is intervention, which is sought by selfish interests in this country. It was Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson's repeated threats of invasion—he was always telling my brother than he would have marines landed on so many hours' notice—that tied my brother's hands in his efforts to pacify Mexico. In this respect the burden of responsibility for the failure of the Madero administration rests heavily upon the American Government. Because Ambassador Wilson was retained at his post my brother believed that he represented the real attitude of the Taft administration. Some of the intervention advocates point to Cuba. They say if you occupy Mexico with the pledge to withdraw as soon as the country should be pacified, intervention would be received without opposition. That is a mistaken view of the Mexican people.

union had arrived, over 200 coming in the Cleveland party. It is expected that nearly 2000 will attend, more than double last year's showing.

The Exhibition Grounds present a lively scene as old acquaintances are being renewed on every side. A party of 14 came from Maryland.

The convention managers are sure of a favorable reception from the Torontonians. Previous conventions in Torontonians. Previous conventions in Toronton have been very successful. Convention res from the south frequently speak of Toronto's hospitality.

Chalrmam A. I. Ritchie says that the convention is for the purpose of encouraging Bible study: and an invitation is extended to all honest seekers after truth to attend the sessione. The association which was organized in London. England, is strictly unsectarian and thoroly loyal to the Bible as the word of God. Sessions will be held every day from 9 to 5, in the horticultural building.

Able speakers will discuss practical Bible study and proper Christian work. Some of the most up-to-date methods will be discussed. It is even hinted that some of the methods which have made the LB.S.A. the most successful acollection nor asked for money.

Toronto is Thanked.

City Has Two-Inch Pipe Fee ding Public Swimming Place at Rate of Six Gallons Per Second, But Just as Fast as Water Comes in It Filters Thru to Sand Pits.

Since Friday noon, when a two-inch water pipe was opened into the public bathing place at Willowvale Park, some six gallons of water per second have been poured into the sand basin, and the water is leaking away as fast as it comes in. This is in strange contrast to the general policy of the waterworks department, which calls attention to the Sarcity of water and to seriously considering placing meters in every house to guard against waste.

Willowvale Park is a depression lying just east of Crawford street and north of Bloor. About two-thirds of the low land is city property. From the other portion a private company is at present hauling and. For the past two years the city has maintained a public bathing pool on its property.

Since last summer, however, the Gar-

Dirty and Unsanitary.

This would have a most beneficial result in still another way. The present pool is in a most dirty and unsanitary condition. The floor is of mud, and city mud, too, not unmingled with garbage, and after the children have splashed about there for a while it presents a very unsavory appearance. At the south end the current has collected a fringe of yellowish, filthy scum. If lined with concrete, these features would be at once eliminated.

a private company is at present hauling sand. For the past two years the city has maintained a public bathing pool on its property.

Since last summer, however, the Garrison Creek sewer has been lowered eight feet, thus lowering the water level in the park by that much. It is owing to this change in the sewer level that the sand company is able to go on with its work, and its men have two pits dug out to some four feet beneath last year's water level. Both the sewer and the sand pits are south of the bathing pool, which latter is fed from the north, Accordingly, the water poured into the sand pits are south of the bathing pool is rapidly filtering thru to the sand pits and will eventually find the lower level of the sewer, which opens seem three hundred feet south.

When a World reporter visited the spot Saturday morning there was a foot of water in the north pit, and the floor is and in the south pit was guite damp, if the city intends to maintain its bathing pool with a water depth sufficient callow of swimming, it must first fill both sand pits, and also soak throly all the land between the pool and he sewer. Now, the question arises: Why did the city authorities spend $45,000 last year to drain the park by lowering the sewer if they intended to pour in water from the north end and drench the land again? With the present two-inch pipe spouting out water, about 25,000 gallons are being used each day. And it has been lowered eight for? What good was an autopen? I societies will be a great expense to the city, an inconvenience to the sand to swim.

"The one fact that proves beyond anything else that my husband was assassinated is that he was unclothed when he died, and that his clothes were carelessly left behind in the room where he met death, and those rooms were photographed immediately afterward. He had but the clothes he wore when arrested. They would not let me furnish him with others.

"I ask, is it likely that when a man is told that he is going to be taken to prison he would fail to put on at least his shoes, hat and one or two outer garments? They were left behind, as the photographs show."

Senora Madero also makes an attack on Huerta. She says he is unfit to be president of Mexico. She declares that, with several others, Huerta gave the orders to assassinate Madero and Suarez, the vice-president.

I was refused.

An Outline Plan of the Park and Boulevard in the Valley of the West Don.

The board of trade, thru represental tive members, will make a trip over the proposed new grand boulevard scheme, which includes the park system on the Humber River as laid out by Mr. Home Smith, and a newer and later development in connection with a park in the West Don River from the forks of the Don at the gates of Mr. Robert Davies' Thorncliffe farm, up the valley of that river to where it crosses Yonge street at York Mills, and for a farther distance up the valley, as may be decided later on; and connecting these two by a grand boulevard, running from the mouth of the Humber up the valley of that river to Lambton, thence by the Black Creek Valley northeasterly to the
