

DOMINION POLICE TO SEEK DEFAULTERS

Much Activity Is Looked for in This Matter This Week.

RECRUITS ATTESTED

Another Draft Leaves for Training Ground in the East.

On Saturday night a draft of about 100 members of the 1st Battalion, 1st Central Ontario Regiment, left Exhibition Camp to continue their training at a point further east. Two commanding officers were in charge. The draft was made of a number of the British-born men who came to Toronto from the United States and also some of the men recently called to the colors under the Military Service Act. Other drafts, including artillery and cavalry men, are expected to leave for eastern training points in the near future. No men were called to the colors under the service act on Saturday.

Much activity is looked for this week in the matter of rounding up drafted men who failed to report. It is thought likely the Dominion police will be called on to take part in the work of apprehending the military delinquents.

An order just posted announces the establishment of horses for horse and field artillery batteries. A field artillery battery complement will consist of 22 riding and 33 draught horses. A horse artillery battery is to have 30 riding and 55 draught horses.

Of 445 recruits examined by the Toronto mobilization centre during the week just ended 283 were accepted for active service. The latter included 205 infantrymen. Over 100 of the week's recruits were British-born from the United States.

Farewell to Members.
The evening service at the Western Congregational Church, Spadina, yesterday took the form of a farewell to William S. Stokes, Russell Hutchison and William Carrick, three young soldiers, who leave Toronto within a few days.

The following military appointments are announced:

Lieut. Charles Daw has been appointed to conduct a draft overseas from the 1st Battalion, 1st C.O.R. To be lieutenant (temp.) in the 1st Battalion, 2nd C.O.R., Lieut. F. Cawthorne.

WELL-KNOWN MANAGER IN TORONTO THIS WEEK

Malcolm Douglas of New York Here in Advance of "The Riviera Girl."

Malcolm Douglas, the manager of New York's most famous playhouse, the New Amsterdam Theatre, and the representative of the well-known firm of Klaw and Erlanger, has been in Toronto in connection with arrangements for the production of the musical comedy "The Riviera Girl," which is being produced by these theatrical producers. "The Riviera Girl" will be brought to the Princess the week of Feb. 4, following its immense success in New York at the New Amsterdam.

"It has been some years since I was last in this city," said Mr. Douglas yesterday, "and I am a partner of Palmer Cox, creator of the immortal Brownies, and a Canadian. Years ago at Massey Hall I directed a production of 'The Brownies in Fairyland' for Grace Hospital, in which many Toronto children took part.

"The Riviera Girl" has been the great success of the New York theatrical winter. We want Toronto to see it, for we think that bright, cheery plays with a trend to make people look on the sunny side of things are properly to be classed among the list of essentials, and they will have their important part in helping us to win this war. Since the United States went into it Klaw and Erlanger's activities in the way of making new productions and acquiring new theatres have constantly increased, for they realize that the people must be amused.

"I have every confidence that Toronto, like New York, will take to its heart 'The Riviera Girl,' which is the most beautiful and elaborate musical comedy that has ever yet been brought here. Big, meritorious theatrical productions have failed to attract substantial encouragement in Toronto. We shall let the public know in advance as much as possible about it in the advertising columns of the newspapers.

"We are going to bring to the Princess the same company of 80 artists engaged in the run of the production in New York. The success of 'The Riviera Girl' has been so great that Klaw and Erlanger could easily organize three or four different companies and play the piece with great profit in various sections of the country. Some managers have killed the goose that lay the golden egg by such methods. They have hurt the show business by foisting undoubted New York successes upon a deluded, out-of-town public with cheap and mediocre actors. The policy of Klaw and Erlanger with 'The Riviera Girl' will be to present it with the original New York company and no other."

KENT COUNTY COUNCIL

AWAKENING COMING TO CANADIAN WOMEN

Many Industries Will Require Women Workers in the Future.

SHOULD BE PREPARED

What Has Been Done in England
Indication of What Can Be Accomplished.

"Things are rather quiet now," said Miss Prentice, who is in charge of the factory, office and shop government employment department.

"It is the time of the year when girls are usually out of positions. Yes, we find that employers are looking more kindly on the girl munition worker than did a year ago. It is largely a matter of education."

Miss Prentice spoke of what she had seen in England of women workers in the industrial fields. In the factories and shops, the shipyards and the railroad shops, Miss Prentice said, the women of England are making good. One has only to look into their earnest faces to be convinced that the women have undertaken these new occupations in deadly earnest and mean to "stick."

Miss Prentice believes that a great awakening must come to Canadian women before the war is won. There will have to be a complete change in the thoughts and habits of women if the great reserve force which the womanhood of the country represents is to be made to serve the empire in the hour of need. "Women have made good in England in so many industries," said Miss Prentice. "Why not in Canada?"

Speaking of the street car conductors, Miss Prentice said they were a ready tried the women at this work, and in Moose Jaw, Sask., they have been on the street cars for over a year. That women should train themselves for these new opportunities is Miss Prentice's opinion, so that when the call comes they will be ready. The women will be more and more needed to fill the industrial positions as time goes on.

PLAYS, PICTURES AND MUSIC

JULES VERNE'S STORY SHOWN IN PICTURES

Famous Romantic Novel Was Written
Long Before Day of Submarines.

Jules Verne's wonderful novel, "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," being shown in pictures at Massey Hall this week, is a series of adventures. News is received in America of a great monster whale travelling the sea, and a French professor is asked by the Americans to go out to destroy it. The professor starts out on the expedition with the world's greatest harpoon, Abraham Lincoln, in a sailing ship. After some days' sailing they come on the wonderful monster, which really is a submarine invented and commanded by an Indian prince, Nemo. The harpooner prepares to harpoon it when it comes close enough, but the harpoon plunges off the submarine. Then the professor turns his cannon on it, but the shells also have no effect. Nemo submerges and rams the professor's vessel, on whom he takes revenge, and promises that they will not escape, makes them his guests.

Prince Nemo had built the submarine to carry out revenge on an Englishman, Dawson, who when traveling in India had done something which resulted in the death of Nemo's wife, and carried away Nemo's daughter, a girl of about four years of age, and cast her adrift in a boat near an island in the Indian Ocean.

An English lieutenant with his crew of three, in a balloon, gets out adrift and drifts for seven days over the sea. When they come near the island, they cut away the basket from the gas bag and fall to the sea, but one man is left hanging in the shrouds of the balloon. The three from the basket swim ashore, and the one left with the balloon jumps when the balloon is sailing over the island. The four come ashore on the island and entrench themselves against wild animals; in a cave by digging a pit outside. Next morning, to the surprise of the lieutenant, who is the awakener, he finds a young girl clad in a tiger skin in the pit.

Dawson, ever pursued by the ghost of the princess, sets out in an expedition to the "island" to recover this "child of nature."

Theda Bara in Cleopatra.
The life and loves of the "Siren of the Nile"—Cleopatra—are vividly portrayed in the magnificent film spectacle of the name, which is the attraction at the Royal Alexandra Theatre all this week, beginning this afternoon with daily matinees, and with Theda Bara in the title role. Cleopatra is a spectacular drama, but always there is the central figure of Egypt's vampire queen artistically and vividly introduced.

"The Willow Tree."
"The Willow Tree," the latest Cohan and Harris success, will be presented at the Princess Theatre tonight for an engagement of one week. This delightfully entertaining fantasy of Japan by Benrimo and Rhodes requires no introduction to local playgoers. Nor does Miss Fay Burrell, the dainty artist, who created the stellar role of the willow tree princess, in which she will be seen here, direct from a half year at the Cohan and Harris Theatre, New York.

"Which One Shall I Marry?"—Grand.
In "Which One Shall I Marry?" the wonder play to be presented at the Grand Opera House all this week with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday, the author has reverted to an allegorical period and has surrounded his love story with a series of satirical and mental foibles of a girl who is besought for matrimony. Drawing the character sharply the author has told the life of a girl who is a stonographer in the ranks of everyday life. The termination of this story and the answer of the eternal question, "Which One Shall I Marry?" furnishes one of the most interesting comedy dramas of the present day.

This Week at Shea's
Commencing with a matinee this afternoon the management of Shea's Theatre offers for this week an all-star bill headed by Maude Lambert and Ernest Ball, well-known musical comedy star and popular composer. Conroy and Le Maire will offer their newest comedy sketch, "For Sale, a Ford." William Saxton, surrounded by a capable cast, will be seen in "Kisses," while Jimmie Lucas' "Wild Ravings of 1918" contains much in laugh-provoking material. Jennie Middleton, a dainty violinist; "Maid of the Movies," vaudeville's supreme novelty; Kenny, Mason and Scholl; Chioy and Chioy, equalists; and The British Gaiety, complete the bill.

Loew's Theatre.
This week at Loew's Yonge Street Theatre and Winter Garden local patrons will have an opportunity of viewing a picture that has been a sensation on the screen. The principal roles are played by the famous local patrons who have an opportunity of viewing a picture that has been a sensation on the screen. The principal roles are played by the famous local patrons who have an opportunity of viewing a picture that has been a sensation on the screen.

The Hippodrome Bill.
For this week the management of the Hippodrome offers as the head-line attraction of a bill of all-star features, Mrs. Vernon Castle in the "New Production," a novelty opera, which is presented by eleven high-class singers. Bert and Hazel Skateler are class and clever entertainers on the rollers, and May Adams and Eleanor Stewart will be heard in a variety of songs and bits of nonsense. Welch, Mealy and Montrose are the purveyors of an original acrobatic talk-show. Other acts embrace Adele Oswald, in a clever sketch, "The Woman of the Year," "What Happened to Ruth" and Con Conrad, in his own original version of "A Musical Evening."

Tablet to Memory
OF LIEUT. H. E. B. PLATT
Major Kirkpatrick Recently Returned From War Prison Performs Ceremony

In the presence of a large congregation and representative military men and war veterans, a tablet was unveiled in memory of the late Lieut. H. E. B. Platt at the Church of the Epiphany last evening. Ven. Archdeacon Ingles conducted the service and Major Kirkpatrick, who recently returned to Toronto after being for two years a war prisoner in Germany, unveiled the tablet. Major Kirkpatrick referred to the fact that Lieut. Platt, who died of wounds received while leading a company of the 3rd (Toronto) Battalion into action at the taking of Hill 60, near Ypres, on May 5, 1915, had served under him as a private. He told of the high spirit of comradeship and loyalty which existed between Lieut. Platt and his men and of the great esteem in which they held him.

After Ven. Archdeacon Ingles and Rev. Dyson Hague had spoken in tribute to Lieut. Platt, the "last post" was sounded by a bugler, with impressive effect.

The late Lieut. Platt had resided for 15 years in Toronto and was a graduate of the University of Toronto, where he received the degrees of B.A. and M.A. The tablet unveiled yesterday was sent from France by his comrades of the 3rd Battalion.

"The Burglar," which, starring Carlyle Blackwell, Madge Evans and Evelyn Greely, will form the feature at the Strand Theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday, is a photo-play very much out of the ordinary. Carlyle Blackwell certainly makes the most of his opportunities in the part of this unfortunate hero, while dear little Madge Evans makes an altogether charming child-heroine of the story.
