

JOHN GATTO & SON

November Sale

Below we quote some special lines to be cleared out before the end of November. A distinct saving will be found in each.

Linen Towels

35 dozen Hemstitched Towels, 24x40, some plain huckaback, others with damask ends, and part damask centres, regular $5 to $6.50 per dozen, to clear, $4.50 per dozen.

Golf Vests and Jackets

Balance of our stock of Golf Vests (without sleeves), were $1.50 and $1.75, now 90 cents.

Balance of Golf Jackets (with sleeves), various styles, were $1.50 to $3, now $1.

Other styles, were $2.50 to $3.75, now $2.00.

Warm Shirt Waists

Fine French Flannel Shirt Waists, were $2.50 to $5, now $2.

An odd lot of Cashmere and Flannel Shirt Waists, were up to $3.50, now $1.

Sleeping Vests

A fine line of comfortable White Wool Sleeping Vests, all sizes, 50 cents each.

French Delaines

We are clearing the balance of our stock of French Printed Delaines; were 40c, 45c and 50c, now 35 cents.

Ideal Viyella Flannels

For day or night wear, nothing surpasses this admirable flannel, which possesses the proper admixture of cotton to prevent shrinkage; in many patterns and colors suitable for night-wear, shirt waists, wrappers, etc., extra wide, 60 cents per yard.

Dress Goods (Colored)

We have still left some dress lengths of this season's handsome Scotch Tweeds (heather mixtures), which are marked down to $3.50, $4, $5, $6 for the dress lengths.

Black Dress Goods

Special Herringbones, Wool Poplins, Panamas, Voiles, Serges, Canvases, Etamines, Sicilians, Lustres, Cashmeres, Albatross, Check Wool Tafetas, Mohair, De Chenes, Chevrans, Armures, etc.; very special 7-yard dress lengths, for $5.

Handkerchiefs for Xmas Presents

Ladies' Initial H. S. Handkerchiefs, any initial, A to Z, Irish hand-embroidered pure sheer linen, unlaundered, $1.25 per dozen; another line, $2 per dozen; extra fine, $3.50 per dozen.

Gents' Initial H. S. Handkerchiefs, any initial, A to Z, Irish linen, embroidered, fine pure linen, $3 per dozen. Extra fine pure linen, $4.50 per dozen. Mail orders carefully filled.

JOHN GATTO & SON

King-street-Opposite Postoffice, TORONTO.

Low Priced Yet High Quality

PURCHASE OF A XMAS GIFT here means satisfaction to both donor and recipient. In pearl jewelry our selections comprise rare designs, remarkable, too, for their price advantages and quality features. A popular 14k solid gold scarf pin, and having a pearl in centre, costs only $2.00.

We mention this as an example of our low prices—prices that are within everyone's ability to meet.

B. & H. B. KENT

Diamond Merchants 144 YONGE STREET TORONTO

THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE TELLS OF THE WORK HE DOES

Annual Banquet of Toronto Bar Association—A Galaxy of Speakers.

The dinner of the Toronto Bar Association and the County of York Law Association last night was a pleasant reunion of professional men of all grades and shades of opinion.

President Dyce Saunders announced the toast list with Hon. A. B. Aylesworth on one side of him and Justice Anglin on the other, and Mayor Coatsworth on the same side of the table.

Sir Aemilius Irving came in late, amid cheers, and sat there also with Hon. A. J. Matheson, Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright and one or two others.

R. L. Borden and Premier Whitney were unable to be present. Among those in attendance in the crowded room were N. W. Hicks, K.C., Corporation Counsel Fullerton, City Solicitor Chisholm, H. M. Mowat, K.C., Crown Attorney Drayton, J. W. Curry, K.C., J. G. Macdonald, K.C., George Watson, K.C.; W. B. McMurrich, K.C.; H. H. Dewar, K.C.; Nicol Kingsmill; E. D. Armour, K.C.; Eric Armour, K.C.; Alexander Macgregor, K.C.; Goodie Hall Literary Society; Frank Hodgins, K.C.; L. V. McBrady, K.C.; E. J. Hearn.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth was the guest of the evening, and spoke at some length. In beginning he referred to the death of the late Walter Barwick, K.C., his lifelong friend, the man who more than any other had contributed to the success of the association. As he proceeded Mr. Aylesworth became more and more affected, his voice faltered, and he quite broke down, wiping his eyes of flowing tears.

"Post tenebras lux" is the motto of the association, and he passed to other thoughts, desiring to cast no shadow on the evening's pleasure. He referred to the friendship he enjoyed with his profession, and possessing a man with whom he had practised in the days of early manhood whom he could not regard harshly by the nature and call of his friends (Applause).

Friends Who Divided. He had been accustomed to addressing bodies of a different character, but they could meet still around a common table with feelings of esteem and respect. It was, therefore, with pleasure he saw representatives of the other great party—the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

—THE— Heintzman & Co. —Piano—

(Made by the old firm of Heintzman & Co., Limited.) Your choice is a wise one when you select this piano.

Piano Salon: 115-117 King St. West, Toronto - Canada

represented in the parliaments of Canada than anywhere else, and the wholesome criticism of the members of the press was most salutary. He was aware that one of the gentlemen who were to speak (Mayor Coatsworth) did not hold a high opinion of the evening press of Toronto, but that was by the way.

Justice Anglin pointed out the anomaly of responding to the toast of "The Bar in Public Life" in a banquet of all men—was most removed from public life. Mr. Hodgins had confined himself to politics, but in old times lawyers had shown a military evenness of eye and temper, took with him his commission as commander-in-chief of his legion of the man who more than any other had contributed to the success of the association. As he proceeded Mr. Aylesworth became more and more affected, his voice faltered, and he quite broke down, wiping his eyes of flowing tears.

"Post tenebras lux" is the motto of the association, and he passed to other thoughts, desiring to cast no shadow on the evening's pleasure. He referred to the friendship he enjoyed with his profession, and possessing a man with whom he had practised in the days of early manhood whom he could not regard harshly by the nature and call of his friends (Applause).

Friends Who Divided. He had been accustomed to addressing bodies of a different character, but they could meet still around a common table with feelings of esteem and respect. It was, therefore, with pleasure he saw representatives of the other great party—the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

He traced the cause for the friendly feeling existing in the profession to the late Robert G. Dunning, master-in-chief, who had forced the bar of the province into a different practice by withholding costs on motions with no ground, and the mightiest of the great government of this country—the present administration of Ontario. He had no doubt, the disappointments of Premier Whitney was as keen as their own at his inability to be present, but he was well-represented in the esteemed and honored treasurer of the province.

W.A. Murray & Co. Limited

Business Hours Daily: Store opens at 9.30 a.m. and closes at 6 p.m.

SEE our DISPLAY of CHRISTMAS CALENDARS

Fancy Leather Goods Suggestive of Christmas at 25 per cent off

In our Trunk and Leather Department Goods we have placed on special tables fancy leather articles, as leather picture frames, cigar and cigarette cases, writing cases, music rolls, mirrors, leather ink stands, writing pads, etc., all very suggestive and just the thing for Christmas gifts—they are from the best English and American factories, and there is nothing cheap about them. As we obtained these goods from the manufacturer's agent at a special price, we are enabled to offer them to you at

25 per cent less than the usual prices

W.A. Murray & Co. Limited Toronto.

Beautiful Rugs for the Library

The library is where the household genius usually gathers the decorations and furniture of art and luxury. A library is hardly au fait these days, unless there is a rich Oriental Rug by the table, divan or fireplace. We have the largest collection in Canada of rare and beautiful antiques, in all sizes and at all prices.

For library purposes we are offering a very large assortment of fine Persian Oriental Rugs for $10 up.

Courian, Babayan & Co. Importers of Oriental Rugs and Novelties 40 King Street East, Toronto.

TO COMBAT CONSUMPTION. Ottawa, Nov. 23.—More effective measures for combating consumption are recommended in the annual report of the city medical officer. During the year 10 per cent of the total deaths in this city were due to consumption.

The total deaths from the disease were 104. The total births were 1709, and the death rate 16.02. Five years ago the death rate was 20.08, and when allowance is made for the marked increase of population in the meantime it is shown that Ottawa is a very healthy city.

THUGS IN QUEEN'S PARK HOLD UP TWO STUDENTS. Frank Blackall Arrested as Suspicious Character, Hiding in Lavatory.

Frank Blackall may or may not be one of a pair of "hold-up" men who operated in Queen's Park Thursday. Then, about midnight, a well-known member of the Undergraduates' Union went going to post a letter, was seized fore and aft by two men and told to deliver. Instead he struggled and got away. He secured a revolver and some assistants and did some scouting. They finally rounded up a stranger in the students' lavatory, but he could not be identified.

Last night the bearded, Robert Martin, while on the lookout located another stranger in the lavatory and picked up his gun. The man gave his name as Frank Blackall and a Huron-street address which was not confirmed. A revolver and cartridges were found in his possession, and Blackall was locked up. He is about 30 years of age.

PRESENT FOR HOSPITAL. Huron Old Boys Have Had Successful Year.

The annual meeting of the Huron County Old Boys, held at the King Edward last night, drew a large and enthusiastic attendance of members. The treasurer's report showed a substantial surplus and the members dedicated $50 as a gift to the new public hospital to be opened at Goderich about the first of December.

The date of the annual home was fixed for Feb. 15, the event to be held at the Temple Building. Another matter under consideration was the erection of a permanent structure on the exhibition grounds, to replace the tent which has been found inadequate to meet the demands of the thousands of those who called to register their names. A deputation was appointed to wait on Manager Orr and ask permission to instal the building.

These officers were elected: Hon. president, J. S. Willison, Ed. Floody and W. O. McTaggart; president, J. R. Lyon; vice-president, W. E. Grover; secretary, R. S. Crocker; treasurer, T. B. Soble; executive, E. H. Dunlop, K. McLeod, A. C. Bradwin, Dr. Belden, T. W. Scott, T. H. Rothwell, W. W. Sloan, H. Chisholm, J. S. McKinnon, J. C. Hyslop, W. T. Edgman, Dr. Stanbury, A. McLaren, P. S. Hick, W. B. Scott, H. L. Anderson.

IT RINGS IN YOUR EARS. That same cough is everywhere you go, deep and hollow because consumptive. First it was catarrh, which could have been cured by Catarrhose, Morral, never neglect a cold, never trifle with catarrh, go to your druggist and get Catarrhose. It's instant death to colds, cures them in a few minutes. Throat trouble and catarrh disappear as by magic. Catarrhose is the great throat, nose and bronchial remedy today. Thousands use it, doctors prescribe it—why, because it does relieve quickly and cure thoroughly. Two sizes, 25c and $1, at all dealers.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

"The Double Track Route" The International Limited

Fast Time Good Roadbed Daily leaves Toronto 4.30 p.m. Daily arrives Chicago 7.42 a.m.

Best of equipment; safe parlor car to London and Detroit. Buffet parlor car to London and handsome Pullman to Chicago.

For tickets and reservations call at City Office, Northwest corner King and Yonge Sts.

AMERICAN LINE. Plymouth-Cherbourg- Southampton

Philadelphia-Queensstown-Liverpool. Atlantic Transport Line. New York-London Direct.

Portland to Liverpool-Sheriff's Passate. Canada Dec. 9 Canada Jan. 12. Dominion Dec. 29 Dominion Feb. 2.

Devonian Nov. 28 Canadian Dec. 12. White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool.

White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool. Dominion Dec. 29 Dominion Feb. 2.

Devonian Nov. 28 Canadian Dec. 12. White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool.

White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool. Dominion Dec. 29 Dominion Feb. 2.

Devonian Nov. 28 Canadian Dec. 12. White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool.

White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool. Dominion Dec. 29 Dominion Feb. 2.

Devonian Nov. 28 Canadian Dec. 12. White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool.

White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool. Dominion Dec. 29 Dominion Feb. 2.

Devonian Nov. 28 Canadian Dec. 12. White Star Line. New York-Queensstown-Liverpool.