Forty Years Ago

There was a Druggists Store on Yonge-Street with Daily Sales Amounting to $500.

One can hardly believe that 40 years ago there was a store on Yonge-street, and a branch store at that, where the sales amounted to $500 per day. Proof of this, however, is to be found in the papers now in possession of James Treadway of Highland Creek, Ont. and which were conducted by Thomas Hutchinson, nicknamed "Old King," and stood where the Panthecontheatre now is, on the southwest corner of Yonge and King-streets. The main store was on King-street east, where China Hall now is, and was called the Panthecontheatre. It was a general store, and had a primitive department store, but drygoods only were sold at the branch store on Yonge-street.
On Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1857, the sales in this branch store amounted to $15 in 59¢, distributed among the following salesmen:
1. Bradley, £25 10s 6d; Treadway, £12 7s 10d;
2. Bennett, £7 4s 10d; 3. 10s 10d;
