To Take Action.

THORNHILL, Sept. 6.—(Special)—
The death of William Cox, one of the best known and highly respected residents of Markham Townsalp, took place suddenly this afternoon at the farm of George McDowell, a neighbor, while engaged in threshing.

Deceased was apparantly in his usual health up to the moment of his demise and was engaged in working in the mow when he suddenly feli over. A physician was hurriedly summoned, but pronounced life extinct and stated that death must have been almost instantaneous. Heart failure is attributed as the cause.

The sad news was conveyed to the wired greetings from his northern Robert and John, and a half-brother, George. He was twice married, his first wife being a daughter of John Smith of Unionville; and hie widow is a daughter of the late Peter Kline of West Toronto. One son, Frederick, lives at Normanton, Alta, while four daughters and three sons regide at home. Robert Cox of Thornnill is an uncue.

Few men in the western portion of Markham Township could count on a wider circle of warm personal friends than deceased. An enthusiast, horseman, his judgment in these matters was regarded as unerring. In his early days he win distinction as a plowman and was well known as an as foulture that immediate steps will be taken to great the whole matter of the sewerage.
