A scheme of insurance to indemnify exhibition associations against loss on account of rain, and the elevation of the rural fair by eliminating immoral attractions were the main suggestions offered at the annual meeting of the Fairs and Exhibitions Association at The delegation was composed of R. ithe city hall yesterday. Hore than this, ithe legislative buildings for an increase in the annual grant from $68,000 to $100,000.

H. J. Gould of Uxbridge, president in his address, emphasized the importance of amusing the patrons of falfairs, but it should be along educationa lines; nothing of an immoral nature should be put on the program. He was pleased that the government was alive to the necessity of suppressing gamb-ling devices and he believed that greater vigor would be exercised in this re-

The exhibits of cattle had been more satisfactory, but sheep had accreased materially, due to the fact that the dairy business had taken up the attention of eastern farmers, and to the ravages of useless dogs, which had compelled farmers to go out of sheep

J. Lockie Wilson, superintendent of fairs, speaking of the insurance proposition, said rain spoiled many of the fairs last year. He suggested that the province be divided into twelve districts with one resident director on the board from each. Twelve thousand would be needed for the insurance scheme and it could be taken out of the government grant. Loss to the fairs could be pai on the basis of the average gate re-ceipts for three years and the money would be sufficient to pay for 75 pe cent, of the average losses.
