

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES
OF ST. JOHN

What The Boston Symphony Will Play

Very Cream Of Standard Programmes Chosen For St. John Concert On Friday.

A glimpse of the programme to be played by the Boston Symphony Ensemble artists at the Imperial this Friday night upon the occasion of their second visit to St. John sends a thrill of delightful anticipation through those who love good music. To begin with the Ensemble will play the charmingly fantastic overture to Weber's fairy "Oberon." The instrumental coloring of this classic, its brilliant atmosphere, tip-toeing of the fairy host and interwoven series of exquisite melodies make it a favorite always. It is one of the Boston Symphony's most asked-for "pop" concert numbers. Then comes the graceful measured andante movement from Schubert's ballet "Rosamunde," followed by the grandly weird passages of the fire-charm music from Wagner's Walkyrie, that famous leave-taking accompanied by the breaking out of the flames. This is a startling music-picture. In the Spanish suite "La Feria," by Laeone, the Ensemble has three numbers, typically the music of the bull-fighting country colored with irresistible dancing strains. In the second part of their concert the Bostonian musicians will play a special setting of the old English song "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes." Then Tchaikowsky's andante from the fifth symphony in E minor and the always-desired No. 1 rhapsody (Hungarian) by Liszt. There are eight grand numbers in the programme which will be interspersed with encores and double encores, no doubt. The afternoon programme will be in lighter vein though equally pleasing.

A Laughing Tour Through Old London

The Imperial's super-comic picture, "Me and My Gal"—adaptation of a famous English play and song—which began its four-day run this afternoon, will afford the rarest kind of amusement for the people of this city. It has been a riotous success in Montreal, Toronto and in the western cities, being held over for extra weeks. In this film the best of England's stage fun-makers appear. The Imperial is using this as an anniversary tid-bit, same as the Boston Symphony Ensemble. It is sure to be a huge success here as elsewhere. Moreover its an entirely new phase of the picture form of entertainment—real British comedy, intelligent natural fun.

CLOSE CALL NEAR KANE'S CORNER

The prompt action of motorman H. Cochran in stopping an East St. John street car saved the life of Vincent Bowes, who had fallen across the track at a point about 400 yards from Kane's corner, on the Red Head Road. The motorman saw what he thought was a man's coat lying on the track and brought car to a stop just as the fender struck him. The ambulance was sent for and the man taken to the hospital where it was said he had been drinking. He had two wounds, one on the forehead and the other on the side of the head, but they were not considered serious.

From the Record of the Anasias Club.
"I get so tired of sitting so long," said the motorist, "so I rather enjoy a puncture or blow-out now and then for it gives me a chance to get out and get a little exercise."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

LEAGUE HAS 52 VARIETIES.
(Philadelphia Public Ledger)
A Cuban has been chosen to preside over the deliberations of the League of Nations. Of the six nations which have not sent delegates to Geneva this year, five are in South or Central America. The selection of the Cuban may serve to emphasize to his own country and to the Latin American countries the particular importance to these lands of the settlement of disputes by arbitration instead of at the edge of the machete. There are fifty-two countries in the league, and their population is three-quarters of the entire number of the earth's inhabitants. Young as it is, the league represents a public opinion too considerable to ignore.

Next Monday is the opening date.

WOMEN OF TURKEY GET MORE FREEDOM
Now Arrange a Countrywide Movement to Win Ballot in 2 Years.

Constantinople, Sept. 12.—Turkish women seem destined soon to enjoy the same freedom and privileges as women in the United States. Mustafa Kemal has promised them the vote and they are now beginning to shake off the fetters which have kept them to domestic bondage since time immemorial. A great women's political congress will be held here shortly and a country-wide suffrage movement inaugurated. Women possessing diplomas of higher or secondary education may appoint delegates.

One of the leaders of the new movement says the object of the Turkish women is to obtain the vote peacefully within two years. Meanwhile the first step in this direction was won recently when the women elected a Turkish woman teacher on the Council of Primary Education. Women voters appeared at the electoral assembly in greater numbers than the men, and this was interpreted as showing modern enlightened Turkish women's keenness in social matters.

Mrs. Mark Bristol, wife of Admiral Bristol, the American High Commissioner, is active in Turkish social and civic societies and has given the Moslem women leaders much useful counsel based upon the experience of American women in political and public life. Ninety per cent. of Turkish women are illiterate. Their education extends little beyond a memorization of parts of the Koran (Turkish Bible) and a certain acquaintance with household and maternal duties. Their husbands regard them as merely convenient mediums to minister to their needs and pleasures.

GOVERNMENT OF EGYPT.
Egypt is an independent kingdom, with a King—His Majesty Fuad I, G.O.B. as its ruler. Formerly under the nominal suzerainty of the Sultan of Turkey, but controlled by Great Britain from 1882, and was made a British Protectorate on November 18, 1914, at the outbreak of the Great War—and the Khedive of Egypt became the Sultan of Egypt. When the Sultan, Hussein Kamel, died, on October 9, 1917, he was succeeded by his brother, Ahmad Fuad, as Sultan. Egypt was declared an independent kingdom in March, 1922, and on March 16, 1922, Fuad was proclaimed King of Egypt.
