IT'S NO BLUFF, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE TO THE GERMANS

Spa, July 14.—(By the Associated Press).—Lloyd George received Dr. Walter Simons, German Foreign Minister, at the latter's request this afternoon and told him emphatically that the Allies were not bluffing.

FIELD MARSHALS OF BRITAIN AND FRANCE AT SPA

No Disposition by Germans to Yield to Allies' Demands re Coal Deliveries.

Spa, July 14.—Field Marshal Wilson of Great Britain, who was summoned here yesterday by the supreme allied council, after the German delegates suggested in the conference in this city had rejected the Allied solution of the coal delivery problem, is expected to arrive here tonight. He is expected to confer immediately with Marshal Foch of France, who also was summoned by the council, and with the allied premiers. In some quarters there is expectation that the Germans will make a fresh offer during the day.

Marshal Foch and General Weygand, his assistant, arrived here from Paris at 8.30 o'clock this morning, and, with the entire French delegation, called on Premier Millerand to present their respects on the occasion of the French National holiday. Later the delegates held a conference before going to the conference.

Konstantin Feinberg, German chancellor and head of Germany's delegation, suggested to the allied government ministers that they send a commission composed of ministers and experts to Essen to meet working men and their representatives for the purpose of talking over the urgency of increasing coal production. This proposal was made yesterday afternoon, but the premiers have not replied as yet.

No disposition was shown by Chancellor Feinberg and Dr. Simons this morning to yield to the Allies on the question of coal deliveries.

"The German delegation regrets that the conference may be dissolved without further agreement," said Dr. Simons to the correspondent, "but we have done as much as we could, and await the action of the Allies."

The Allied ministers appear equally firm in their decision that Germany shall deliver two million tons of coal monthly.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 14.—The Ottawa Citizen this morning declares that the right to rule over the Canadian people until it has been endorsed by the electorate in a general election. It quotes Hon. J. A. Calder's words last year on the resignation of Hon. T. A. C. C. saying that if Mr. Rowell, Mr. MacLean, himself and others resigned there would have to be an appeal to the people. All the resignations except Mr. Calder's have taken place. The citizen continues: "Government by consent of the governed can only be re-established in Canada by consulting the people. Until then Canada is being ruled by caucus dictatorship which differs only in degree from Soviet dictatorship."

BUCHAREST TO BECOME GREAT METROPOLIS

Wireless and Airplane Services Planned—French Policy to Connect East and West.

Bucharest, June 8.—(Associated Press Correspondence).—This city will become a huge communication centre for south Europe, both for wireless and aviation, if present French plans are carried out. The French wireless service in connection with the Eiffel Tower and other stations in France, or else permit the French to establish a tentative post service between Bucharest and Constantinople, which would handle business for their governments, or attempt to arrange a complete airplane service. The French propose to connect Paris, Vienna, Budapest, Bucharest and Constantinople, in a general way, by branch services, including Serbia, Bulgaria and Greece. It is hoped later to extend this service into Russia.

French army aviators began last summer to establish a tentative post service between Bucharest and Constantinople, connecting with the express train to Paris. This service is being now developed, but owing to its great cost it is felt necessary to have each of the governments over whose territory the airplane service will be conducted, to contribute a pro-rata share to maintain the service.

It is estimated that the cost averages $100 for each hour the machine is kept in the air.

In view of the poor conditions of the railway systems in South Europe, business men have generally given their support to these plans.

Due to the mountains of Central and Southern Europe and waters of the Black Sea, the Adriatic and the Mediterranean, practical aviation is constantly severely tested.

Flying into Russia does not present the same difficulties. Since the Armistice huge German machines, carrying passengers and contraband money, have been made frequent trips between Moscow and Berlin. Now and then, these machines come down, but it is generally because of motor trouble. During the Bolshevik regime in Hungary, frequent trips were made to Moscow, though the aviators had to cross the Carpathian mountains from Budapest.

From a passenger's point of view, such trips do not present any difficulty, once the passenger has overcome the preliminary apprehension of danger. This apprehension is much diminished by the new limousine type of machine, where the passenger suffers neither from cold nor wind nor motor noise.

The establishment of these wireless and airplane communications are a continuance of the French policy of keeping eastern and western Europe connected. It is due to the French that since the armistice express trains have been run between Paris and Warsaw, passing the intervening cities of Prague and Vienna, and also between Paris and Bucharest, and finally between Paris and Constantinople. These three cities are known as the Warsaw, Simion and Orient express, were first under French army control and are now under commercial control of the International Sleeping Car Company.

A RAILWAY WASTE.
Ottawa Reformer.—A recent bulletin issued by the Railway Association of Canada, formerly the Canadian Railway War Board, draws attention to a great source of waste that is estimated to have added something like $180,000,000 to the cost of operating the Canadian railways. In brief, it is the failure to load freight cars to the limit of their capacity.

Calling it a car when short of capacity repeated thousands of times a day, the thousands of loading points added 500,000 unnecessary car trips to the Canadian transportation program last year, each trip averaging 543 miles under load and 89 miles empty and occupying 14 car days. Thus, the bulletin points out, the constant service of 10,000 freight cars was devoted to unnecessary work instead of remaining in reserve to meet emergencies. 4,900 unnecessary trains were moved, and 8,000 unnecessary engines.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

GILBERT AND SULLIVAN OPERA ON TOMORROW

If You Like the Best Comic Opera Ever Written You Will Get It This Week.

The opening of the light opera engagement of the Boston English Opera Co. in Imperial Theatre tomorrow evening at 8.30, when the piece to be sung is "The Mikado," will revive in local minds memories of the Grazi, Jaxon, and other splendid operatic organizations who used to perform here. In fact since those days music lovers here have not been privileged to hear Gilbert & Sullivan operas by as good companies and certainly not as capable as the organization to sing tomorrow. St. John people already knew that the Boston English Opera Co. is the best.

Heard in grand opera and their successes in Gilbert & Sullivan works have been even more acceptable.

Tickets for the whole three nights of this week—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—are selling fast and good houses are assured. The performance of the unfamiliar G. & S. piece "Ruddiger" is exciting much interest as it has been a big hit in New York recently. "The Pirates of Penzance" on Saturday is also going to be well attended. Saturday's matinee will have as the bill a repeat of "The Mikado."

CHILDREN PLEAD TO ENTER THE PLAY SCHOOLS

Capacity Is Taxed, but They Are Persistent—Director Has Difficult Task.

(New York Evening Post.)
The hosts of children who have taken possession of New York's summer play schools, and some very friendly, who in this opening week have discovered them and are pleading, cajoling and applying every childish art to gain admission, give evidence of the place that the schools are filling in the city.

And all their troubles and takes a personal interest in each one.

But he also knows that the summer school has limitations, and the result is such that one wonders how he ever maintains his composure, and goes right on making impartial judgments.

The health play schools were organized four years ago by the Pediatric Society and they are still under the supervision of that society, but they are carried on by the separate organizations in whose buildings they are held.

These include the Hudson Guild, 438 West Twenty-seventh street; the Ethical Culture school, 83 Central Park West; Stuyvesant House, Stuyvesant and Madison streets; Emanuel, Sisterhood Headquarters, 820 East Eighty-second street; and the Park Community Council, 100 West End street.

The question of ferry approaches was then taken up and the Mayor said he had received a letter from the city which he had regarding the matter, which he contained as a virtually binding order.

Commissioner Frink said regarding the cost of dredging in event of wharves being erected at the solicitor said he was of the opinion that it would be added and a percentage charged. CIRCUS PARADE VERY FINE ONE

Old and Young Enjoy Big Day of the Year

Hagenbeck - Wallace Street Procession Enthusiases the Crowds with Fine Animal Display, Neat Appearance, Clowns and Music.

There is no other day just like circus day, when the day is fine and the circus a good one. Suburban places emptied themselves into the city this morning by train and steamer to see the parade and enjoy the circus. When the first notes of the bands floated along the streets the occupants of business establishments closed their eyes to the windows or poured themselves upon the sidewalk, to join the thousands lined up there, eagerly awaiting the coming spectacle. And they were not disappointed. Children especially were everywhere, but old and young jostled for place.

The best circus parade ever seen in St. John, is the way practically everybody spoke of the Hagenbeck-Wallace parade today. And there was a reason, for it was so superior to other parades given by passing amusement enterprises as to make it positively "different."

To begin with, there were the horses, the famed Hagenbeck-Wallace steeds that are beautiful, every one of them. They paraded along just as circus posters always represent them as doing. About 600 were in the line and they made a good impression. The riders were all garbed in costumes which appeared to be new, and the wagons and floats were newly painted. Everything in full was spic and span and the crowds were enthralled.

First came a very small clown on a bicycle. He was both bawled and funny, and the kids all followed him, forgetting that a parade was following him. After that was a band wagon, then came a long line of infants and ladies, beautifully garbed, after that another band wagon and then more animal wagons. There were elephants, camels, soudas, hyenas, lions, tigers, leopards, bears, deer, a huge hippopotamus, several emus, the yak, the sacred ox, monkeys, kangaroos, and in fact too many to permit of an accurate record being made in a hurry.

Clowns were everywhere, and their humor was of a wholesome sort. The bands were liberal with their music, which was not all of a "circus" kind. In addition to the bands were a large steam piano, something new in this part of the world, and the large calliope, which brought up the rear.

Special mention should be made of the cub bears and the mother pum and her two kittens. These attracted a great deal of attention.

The circus is a really big one and newspaper accounts from other cities accord it great praise for its notable manager, it's large number of excellent acts in the rings and other features. It is one of the real old-time circuses of our childhood days. It is well staffed with courteous officials.

The circus is showing on Clarke's field, Lunenburg, opposite the Provincial Hospital. The performance this afternoon drew a very large attendance and this is expected to be one of the best events of the season, when the fine weather and the circus lure are bound to draw crowds.

INVENTION HELPS BLIND TO READ
Typewriter Demonstrated by Austrian—May Revolutionize Systems for Sightless.

(Baltimore Sun.)
Dr. Max Herz of Vienna, Austria, produced a sensation among instructors for the blind, in convention at Overlea, Md., when he demonstrated his invention, the typewriter, which promises to revolutionize the teaching of the blind and place the sightless on a plane with sighted people in the fields of study and cultivation. The typewriter is a small machine by which the blind will read by sound rather than touch, the reading matter being ticked out from a disk.

"If the typewriter can be developed so results will be what Dr. Herz's demonstration promises, it will be the greatest single contribution to the blind since the discovery of Braille over a century ago."

Charles S. S. Campbell, assistant director of the Red Cross Institute for the Blind, said, following the demonstration, Mr. Campbell's opinion was entertained generally among the instructors, although they believe the invention must be further developed before it can come into use among large numbers of the blind.

Because of the expense and bulk of books printed in Braille libraries for the blind have been limited, the instructors explained when discussing the invention, and one of the difficulties in teaching the blind has been the fact that many textbooks are old-fashioned, some now in use having been written forty years ago.

A book in Braille costs anywhere from $5 to $25, and a small magazine is equal in bulk to two type telephone books. If Dr. Herz's invention is found practicable and cost much less.

Then he began work on the new system of reading built up on the principles of the Morse code and the phonograph. The machine which he used at Overlea, the two hundredth that he has made since he began work on the invention five years ago.
