MRS. HALL IS DEAD

Late Secretary of Associated Charities Passes Away

Had Given up Many Years of Her Life to the Welfare of Others and Her Death is a Great Loss to The City

The death of Mrs. Jessie McDougall Hall, for many years secretary of the Associated Charities, occurred at ten o'clock this morning at her home, seven Brussels street, after an illness that extended over a period of several weeks. She was seventy-two years of age. During her illness she suffered greatly. She passed away quietly this morning surrounded by relatives. For more than twenty years Mrs. Hall had been working among the poor of St. John and she probably was better acquainted with their condition than anyone else in the city. Every application for assistance that came to the Associated Charities, while she was engaged with the association was sent to her, to see whether the applicant was worthy of assistance or not. She had intimate acquaintance with the poor and her keen executive abilities and great experience made her a most valuable official.

Born of Scotch parents, in Wickham, Quebec county, N. B., thirty years ago, the daughter of Donaldson Morton McDougall, Mrs. Hall came to this city when she was twelve years of age. During her early life in the city, she was a member of the Congregational church. Just a few years ago she had attended St. David's church, where she was known as a diligent and effective worker.

Mrs. Hall had been a member of the Associated Charities for many years and had filled the position of secretary for nine years. For the thirteen years, preceding she was secretary of the King's Daughters.

Her death will be regretted by every charitable worker, all of whom knew her value, as well as by all who had come in contact with her, not only in her visits to the poor, but in her social and religious work.

Mrs. Hall is survived by her husband, C. H. Hall of this city; her mother, Mrs. Annie McDougall, and one sister, Mrs. Annie Dunham, both of this city. Five nephews also survive. They are Rev. W. Dunham, British Columbia; Frank T. Dunham, and Norman A. Dunham of Rochester; Captain F. H. Dunham of Toronto and Roy W. Dunham of Detroit.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from her late residence in Brussels street. Funeral services will be at two o'clock.

PYTHIANS CARRY OUT DECORATION CEREMONY

Flowers on Graves of Departed Members — There Were 185 Contributors

This is the annual Decoration Day of the Knights of Pythias and the members of the local lodges visited the cemeteries this afternoon to decorate the graves of their brothers who have passed away. The graves in Cedar Hill and other outside cemeteries were decorated this morning by a delegation of knights. The parade this afternoon started at half past two o'clock from Castle Hill in Germain street. At the head of the procession were two large barouches, one of which was a large Pythian shield decorated with the colors of the order and with the letters P. C. B.

Behind the barouches was the 62nd Band and following them came a representation of uniformed knights from Victoria Lodge, No. 1, and Ogden Company No. 5, in command of Captain B. L. Sheppard. Then came the members of the three subordinate lodges, New Brunswick No. 1, in command of Chancellor Commander Walter H. Golding; Union No. 2, in command of Chancellor Commander Clarence Nixon; and St. John No. 3, in command of Chancellor Commander G. A. Morray.

The parade proceeded via Waterloo street to the Church of England and Methodist cemeteries, and thence to Fernhill. On returning the parade will come via Brussels, Spindley, King Square to Charlotte, King and back to Castle Hill. Altogether about 2,000 bouquets will be distributed among the graves. Last night a large committee was busy arranging the flowers in bouquets. The work of arranging the flowers in the barouches was also completed last night. In all there were 185 contributors of flowers this year and contributions came in from all over the province.
