If people knew the frightful risk they run of infection from unclean dentistry they would better realize the awful chances they take and what a mighty important factor cleanliness is.

No one has ever disputed the fact that there are no cleaner offices in Canada than ours. This is worthy of consideration.

KILLEN GETS PRISONER AT BLOOMFIELD

Arrests One Smith, A Nova Scotian, in Connection With Horse Case

Fairville Man and He Get After One Who Engineered Trade With Animal Said to Have Been Stolen—The Capture

Hampton, N. B., Oct. 25.—Elmer Smith, a Nova Scotian, was arrested this morning at Bloomfield by Detective Killen and brought to the jail here to await transportation to the city by the Maritime Express. The charge is horse stealing. As far as can be learned, the case originated at Eastport and, crossing the line he made his way as far as Fairville where he disposed of the animal to Willard W. Brunell, a livery man, for another horse and $2.

Detective Killen found a clue and following it, accompanied by Brunell came to Hampton last evening, and proceeded to Sussex on the midnight express. Finding he was ahead of his quarry, he returned to Hampton this morning and, securing a team, overtook Smith at Bloomfield and put the handcuffs upon him.

The horse had been hard driven and was badly used up. When the man was overtaken it was evident he had no suspicion of the approach of the detective, as he did not look back. Brunell ran to his team and, jumping into the wagon, threw his arms around his body and pinned him till Detective Killen came up and took him prisoner. Killen, Brunell and Smith will go to St. John on the Maritime express. The team will follow later.

Detective Killen returned to the city today from Hampton having in custody the man he went to seek, Charles Lorne Smith, who is charged with bringing into Canada stolen property, and also with stealing a horse here. Smith was arrested on March 28 last on a charge of breaking and entering the schooner Dominion lying at South wharf, and stealing clothing valued at nearly $50. He was committed to jail and allowed out on suspended sentence by Judge Forbes.

THERE'S A STIR IN REAL ESTATE IN COURTENAY BAY SECTION

Some Deals Reported Working—Plans of the "Heights" Prepared and Lots Offered For Sale

An evidence of the confidence of the citizens in the future development of Courtenay Bay, (St. John harbor east), is shown in the fact that it is practically impossible now to get an option on property in that vicinity, and also in the fact that already plans of some of the proposed "Courtenay Heights," back of Courtenay Bay, have been prepared and they are being offered for sale in lots for dwellings or factories.

A plan of some of the properties was shown a Times reporter this morning by Homer D. Forbes, who is acting in the interests of a client who owns a block of land there. The property has been divided off into lots on streets and forms the nucleus of a model suburban village. The lots are offered at various prices according to location and already a number of people are considering the purchase of land there. The property is situated about a quarter of a mile from Kane's corner, on the Croucheville road and runs back a considerable distance. A road has been laid out, running from the Croucheville road to Loch Lamond highway, with lots on each side and a number of streets, located at intervals. Owners of the property feel certain that in a very few years at least the land there will materially increase in value.

There are rumors of a number of property deals in the vicinity and this is likely to be a very active section in the real estate business for some time to come.

DECLARES IT SUCCESS

Season's Experiment of Shipment By Steamers From North Shore Ports to American Ports

With steamers plying in the coastwise trade from Bay, Chaleur to New York and other American ports, to the entire exclusion of sailing vessels, the experiment this year is declared to have been most successful and the statement was made today by one of the largest shippers that unless the sailing fleet was increased the steamers would take away all the business.

It was the lack of sailing craft offering, he said, that induced shippers to avail themselves of the service of the tramp steamers. The poor condition of the New York market was, it was said, the only thing that prevented the shipment by steam vessels from this port.

THE SCHOONERS.
Schooner Yarn H. Roberts arrived today from New York with a cargo of phosphate for the Provincial Chemical Fertilizer. After discharging she will go to Hantsport, N. S., to load. Schooner Lancelot is tied up for the winter.

All others stores must pay the manufacturer a profit and this profit must be paid back to them by their customers.

You can, readily understand, therefore, why every man who buys clothing outside of OAK HALL must pay two profits.

And in addition to this unquestioned saving and the undeniable excellence of the garments there is still another advantage in buying at OAK HALL, the advantage of choosing from a larger variety of new styles, fabrics and colors than are to be found anywhere else.
