

of the Ministry, and generous in your contributions to the Missionary work—give as God hath prospered you. Freely ye have received, freely give. Your Ministers have devoted themselves to God and you—they are pledged afresh to the cause, they have resolved to spend and be spent for God and his Church on earth—they have detached themselves from secular and worldly callings, that their undivided attention and energy may be devoted exclusively to the Church of God. Let then their temporal wants be liberally supplied, that unembarrassed and untroubled with worldly care, they may devote their all with undamped zeal, to the extension of Christ's Kingdom on earth.

We would affectionately press upon your attention the precious Sabbath day, with its duties, its privileges and blessings—hold up the hands of your preachers by constant attention to the means of grace with your households, never be absent unless necessity compels. Pray earnestly for the Preacher, that God may bless his own word in the conversion of sinners.—Hear with candour and in faith, be cautious in expressing your opinion of Preachers, in your family or among the unconverted. Remember the Prayer Meetings, and especially the Class Meetings, which form the strength and sinews of our Churches. If you be either Leader or Member, be punctual in your attendance at your Class Meeting. Be zealous, lively and pointed and short in all your public exercises, interest yourselves in all that concerns the prosperity of your little band—the poor, the afflicted, the absent, and especially those who have declined in the ways of the Lord.

And let us urge upon you the importance of family prayer, and reading the Holy Scriptures in your households, this practice, enjoined by your holy religion, will produce the happiest
