

POOR DOCUMENT MC 2034

ST. JOHN STAR, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1906.

SEVEN

CANON RICHARDSON ELECTED AS THE CO-ADJUTOR BISHOP

Elected This Morning on the Eleventh Ballot
After a Long Contest.

Synod Sat Almost Continuously from Afternoon Until Long After Midnight — On Motion of Archdeacon
Neales, Election Was Made Unanimous — Sharp
Dispute Over the Payment of His Salary.

FREDERICTON, Oct. 3.—After a prolonged session marked by a strong feeling between the supporters of the candidates for the position of coadjutor bishop, Canon Richardson was elected this morning on the eleventh ballot, when for the first time during the contest he obtained the necessary two-thirds majority of the clerical vote. Each succeeding ballot showed a steady drift in his direction and the process was continued in spite of repeated efforts to adjourn. After the last ballot, Dr. Richardson's election was made unanimous by standing vote.

When the Synod assembled this afternoon at 2 o'clock the regular business of the session was taken up. After prayers and roll call, the secretary presented the memorial from the Shubenacadie diocese protesting against the interference with any missionary funds in the diocese for paying the bishop coadjutor.

A. C. Fairweather from the standing committee reported that since the last meeting, on account of criticism and inquiries made the committee had interviewed the bishop to ask him if he could contribute towards the coadjutor's salary from the endowment fund. As a result of a conference his Lordship had placed at the disposal of the Synod the entire income arising from the local endowments, the sum amounting to $768.68 per annum.

The capital from which this income is derived constitutes the entire contributions of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia towards the Episcopal Endowment Fund of the Diocese of Fredericton. This makes the charge upon the mission fund reduced $768.68 leaving $433.32 to be paid from this latter fund. The committee still thought that the first proposition the best but accepted this as the best solution practicable.

Rev. C. M. Campbell on invitation of the Synod addressed the meeting as representative of the Foreign and Canadian Auxiliary Bible Society. Mr. Campbell gave a most interesting account of the progress of this great society during the past year. The total number of Bibles translated into 401 languages. The deficit had decreased from thirty-five thousand pounds to six thousand. But on account of the great work the income was not meeting expense and the society asked that the contributions should be increased by half again. The reason the society makes its appeal is the need to meet the great tide of immigration moving into the great West. Today there are appeals coming from west of Winnipeg for the Bible in sixty different languages. We must give to these people the living word of the living God. If the Bible is not distributed it means the lowering of humanity. We must either let them fall to the degradation which the absence of the Bible means or we must bring them up to our level. We must save the empire and save Canada. Your church members hold some of the highest offices in this great society and I ask your great church to assist the society in this work.

A most hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Campbell by the commissary for the eloquent and powerful address.

On taking up the consideration of the memorial presented by the Deanery of Shediac, Mr. Justice Hanington spoke earnestly and strongly. He regretted his Lordship's illness and all felt for him. He wished to raise his voice in the strongest language against the proposition to interfere with trust funds, and this Synod, he maintained, had no right to tamper with them. The money given to the Cathedral was never intended to go towards paying a bishop coadjutor's salary.

Mr. Justice Hanington spoke of the living word of the living God. If the Bible is not distributed it means the lowering of humanity. We must either let them fall to the degradation which the absence of the Bible means or we must bring them up to our level. We must save the empire and save Canada. Your church members hold some of the highest offices in this great society and I ask your great church to assist the society in this work.

A most hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Campbell by the commissary for the eloquent and powerful address.

On taking up the consideration of the memorial presented by the Deanery of Shediac, Mr. Justice Hanington spoke earnestly and strongly. He regretted his Lordship's illness and all felt for him. He wished to raise his voice in the strongest language against the proposition to interfere with trust funds, and this Synod, he maintained, had no right to tamper with them. The money given to the Cathedral was never intended to go towards paying a bishop coadjutor's salary.

Mr. Justice Hanington spoke of the living word of the living God. If the Bible is not distributed it means the lowering of humanity. We must either let them fall to the degradation which the absence of the Bible means or we must bring them up to our level. We must save the empire and save Canada. Your church members hold some of the highest offices in this great society and I ask your great church to assist the society in this work.

A most hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Campbell by the commissary for the eloquent and powerful address.

On taking up the consideration of the memorial presented by the Deanery of Shediac, Mr. Justice Hanington spoke earnestly and strongly. He regretted his Lordship's illness and all felt for him. He wished to raise his voice in the strongest language against the proposition to interfere with trust funds, and this Synod, he maintained, had no right to tamper with them. The money given to the Cathedral was never intended to go towards paying a bishop coadjutor's salary.

Mr. Justice Hanington spoke of the living word of the living God. If the Bible is not distributed it means the lowering of humanity. We must either let them fall to the degradation which the absence of the Bible means or we must bring them up to our level. We must save the empire and save Canada. Your church members hold some of the highest offices in this great society and I ask your great church to assist the society in this work.

A most hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Campbell by the commissary for the eloquent and powerful address.

On taking up the consideration of the memorial presented by the Deanery of Shediac, Mr. Justice Hanington spoke earnestly and strongly. He regretted his Lordship's illness and all felt for him. He wished to raise his voice in the strongest language against the proposition to interfere with trust funds, and this Synod, he maintained, had no right to tamper with them. The money given to the Cathedral was never intended to go towards paying a bishop coadjutor's salary.

Mr. Justice Hanington spoke of the living word of the living God. If the Bible is not distributed it means the lowering of humanity. We must either let them fall to the degradation which the absence of the Bible means or we must bring them up to our level. We must save the empire and save Canada. Your church members hold some of the highest offices in this great society and I ask your great church to assist the society in this work.

A most hearty vote of thanks was extended Mr. Campbell by the commissary for the eloquent and powerful address.

On taking up the consideration of the memorial presented by the Deanery of Shediac, Mr. Justice Hanington spoke earnestly and strongly. He regretted his Lordship's illness and all felt for him. He wished to raise his voice in the strongest language against the proposition to interfere with trust funds, and this Synod, he maintained, had no right to tamper with them. The money given to the Cathedral was never intended to go towards paying a bishop coadjutor's salary.

of the standing committee be adopted, carried, the vote standing 18 to 74. The synod then proceeded to ballot on the choice of a bishop coadjutor. While the scrutineers were counting the ballots Mr. Justice Hanington moved the following resolution: In a few appropriate remarks, which was seconded by Rev. Dr. Raymond.

Resolved, That the synod would impose upon the clergy and laity of the diocese the importance of a generous support of the British and Foreign Bible Society, through its Canadian auxiliary in aid of its good work, without which the missionaries of the church would be unable to carry on their work effectively.

The resolution was carried unanimously. The first and second ballots resulted as follows:

	First.	Second.
Clergy. Laity. Clergy. Laity.
Neales.	23	20
Richardson.	27	37
Farthing.	3	3
Tucker.	2	1
Newnam.	1	1
Williams.	1	1
Cowie.	1	1

The synod resumed its session at 7:30 when the third ballot was taken with the following result: Neales, clergy 20, laity 21; Richardson, clergy 25, laity 37. Others scattering. Total clergy vote, 53; laity, 62.

After the taking of the third ballot it became evident that balloting might continue indefinitely without any result being reached. Though Canon Richardson continued to gain, the gain was not sufficient to assure an election. It was at this stage that the Rev. Mr. Cowie moved a resolution which was accepted by the meeting, that the Synod adjourn until 9 o'clock and that in the meantime the clergy and laymen meet in separate conference to see if some solution of the difficulty could not be arrived at.

On resuming the session at 9 o'clock, the question of the election of a coadjutor bishop of this diocese, is given above, was born Oct. 30th, 1883, in Warwick, England, being a son of Rev. John Richardson. He came to Canada in 1887, and resided in St. John's College, Winnipeg, from which institution he graduated in 1895. He was ordained deacon the same year and priest in 1896, when he became rector of St. Luke's church, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, which until then he had carried on as a mission. In 1898 he received a call from Trinity church of this city, and entered upon his duties as rector in August of that year. Since coming to the city Canon Richardson has been prominently identified in the membership of the diocese and has given much valuable assistance to various societies that have for their object the uplifting of the people. In his church work he has been singularly successful, being an earnest and thoughtful preacher and indefatigable in his efforts among the younger element of the church.

Since he became rector of Trinity there have been large accessions to the membership of the church and he has flourished in every respect.

While rejoicing at his election to the high office of coadjutor bishop, his congregation here and the people of the city generally will regret that his acceptance of the appointment will make necessary his relinquishing of the rectorship of the church in which he has labored so faithfully, and his removal from the city.

Rev. John Andrew Richardson, whose election to the high office of coadjutor bishop of this diocese, is given above, was born Oct. 30th, 1883, in Warwick, England, being a son of Rev. John Richardson. He came to Canada in 1887, and resided in St. John's College, Winnipeg, from which institution he graduated in 1895. He was ordained deacon the same year and priest in 1896, when he became rector of St. Luke's church, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, which until then he had carried on as a mission. In 1898 he received a call from Trinity church of this city, and entered upon his duties as rector in August of that year. Since coming to the city Canon Richardson has been prominently identified in the membership of the diocese and has given much valuable assistance to various societies that have for their object the uplifting of the people. In his church work he has been singularly successful, being an earnest and thoughtful preacher and indefatigable in his efforts among the younger element of the church.

Since he became rector of Trinity there have been large accessions to the membership of the church and he has flourished in every respect.

While rejoicing at his election to the high office of coadjutor bishop, his congregation here and the people of the city generally will regret that his acceptance of the appointment will make necessary his relinquishing of the rectorship of the church in which he has labored so faithfully, and his removal from the city.

Rev. John Andrew Richardson, whose election to the high office of coadjutor bishop of this diocese, is given above, was born Oct. 30th, 1883, in Warwick, England, being a son of Rev. John Richardson. He came to Canada in 1887, and resided in St. John's College, Winnipeg, from which institution he graduated in 1895. He was ordained deacon the same year and priest in 1896, when he became rector of St. Luke's church, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, which until then he had carried on as a mission. In 1898 he received a call from Trinity church of this city, and entered upon his duties as rector in August of that year. Since coming to the city Canon Richardson has been prominently identified in the membership of the diocese and has given much valuable assistance to various societies that have for their object the uplifting of the people. In his church work he has been singularly successful, being an earnest and thoughtful preacher and indefatigable in his efforts among the younger element of the church.

Since he became rector of Trinity there have been large accessions to the membership of the church and he has flourished in every respect.

While rejoicing at his election to the high office of coadjutor bishop, his congregation here and the people of the city generally will regret that his acceptance of the appointment will make necessary his relinquishing of the rectorship of the church in which he has labored so faithfully, and his removal from the city.

Rev. John Andrew Richardson, whose election to the high office of coadjutor bishop of this diocese, is given above, was born Oct. 30th, 1883, in Warwick, England, being a son of Rev. John Richardson. He came to Canada in 1887, and resided in St. John's College, Winnipeg, from which institution he graduated in 1895. He was ordained deacon the same year and priest in 1896, when he became rector of St. Luke's church, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, which until then he had carried on as a mission. In 1898 he received a call from Trinity church of this city, and entered upon his duties as rector in August of that year. Since coming to the city Canon Richardson has been prominently identified in the membership of the diocese and has given much valuable assistance to various societies that have for their object the uplifting of the people. In his church work he has been singularly successful, being an earnest and thoughtful preacher and indefatigable in his efforts among the younger element of the church.

Since he became rector of Trinity there have been large accessions to the membership of the church and he has flourished in every respect.

While rejoicing at his election to the high office of coadjutor bishop, his congregation here and the people of the city generally will regret that his acceptance of the appointment will make necessary his relinquishing of the rectorship of the church in which he has labored so faithfully, and his removal from the city.

Rev. John Andrew Richardson, whose election to the high office of coadjutor bishop of this diocese, is given above, was born Oct. 30th, 1883, in Warwick, England, being a son of Rev. John Richardson. He came to Canada in 1887, and resided in St. John's College, Winnipeg, from which institution he graduated in 1895. He was ordained deacon the same year and priest in 1896, when he became rector of St. Luke's church, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, which until then he had carried on as a mission. In 1898 he received a call from Trinity church of this city, and entered upon his duties as rector in August of that year. Since coming to the city Canon Richardson has been prominently identified in the membership of the diocese and has given much valuable assistance to various societies that have for their object the uplifting of the people. In his church work he has been singularly successful, being an earnest and thoughtful preacher and indefatigable in his efforts among the younger element of the church.

Since he became rector of Trinity there have been large accessions to the membership of the church and he has flourished in every respect.

While rejoicing at his election to the high office of coadjutor bishop, his congregation here and the people of the city generally will regret that his acceptance of the appointment will make necessary his relinquishing of the rectorship of the church in which he has labored so faithfully, and his removal from the city.

Rev. John Andrew Richardson, whose election to the high office of coadjutor bishop of this diocese, is given above, was born Oct. 30th, 1883, in Warwick, England, being a son of Rev. John Richardson. He came to Canada in 1887, and resided in St. John's College, Winnipeg, from which institution he graduated in 1895. He was ordained deacon the same year and priest in 1896, when he became rector of St. Luke's church, Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, which until then he had carried on as a mission. In 1898 he received a call from Trinity church of this city, and entered upon his duties as rector in August of that year. Since coming to the city Canon Richardson has been prominently identified in the membership of the diocese and has given much valuable assistance to various societies that have for their object the uplifting of the people. In his church work he has been singularly successful, being an earnest and thoughtful preacher and indefatigable in his efforts among the younger element of the church.

Since he became rector of Trinity there have been large accessions to the membership of the church and he has flourished in every respect.

This Collar
Real Comfort

Here is the new soft collar that solves the problem of hot-day neckwear with real NECK-EASE and STYLE as well. THE LOUNGE COLLAR FOR MEN AND WOMEN. In plain white Oxford, mat cloth, or fancy—soft, yet shapely, smart, yet comfy. Just ready in any size from 12 to 18, and priced to please your pocket, just as this ideal summer collar will please your neck. Ask your good store and look for the brand in script.

These Sullivan and Ira Perry have been summoned, charged with the serious crime of breaking into a saloon early yesterday morning. The charge is made by William Pyne, manager of T. Cronin's liquor store on Gormet street. The affair was under investigation by Chief Clark last night, but was not finished. The suspended officers, however, affirm their innocence, and tell a story which decidedly puts another side to the case.

The story as told by Wm. Pyne is that about three weeks ago he arrived one morning and found a policeman's padlock on the door, and from the till there was missing $158. He hurriedly called the police and after 1:30 when footpads were heard and each of the doors was tried. Shortly afterwards again there were footpads, this time apparently of two men, and a dog came in scolding about the premises.

It was very long before again there were steps which, says Mr. Pyne, he recognized as the same as before. He had not. The latter was turned in walked two men. One of them struck a match whereupon Mr. Pyne saw the faces of the two men. He had not found the door open this time to which one of the policemen is alleged to have admitted the two men. Mr. Pyne thereupon told them he slept in the building now and left them.

Going out in the street in his bare head he told the driver of one of the slaughter house teams and informed him of the men being in the saloon. Later he met Sgt. Campbell and to him told the whole story.

Both officers feel that the position of Officer Sullivan says that he will immediately take legal action against his accuser. There seems little doubt, therefore, that the matter will be aired in the courts.

The officers' position may well be summed up by the report which they in regular course put on the police records yesterday morning.

"Between 2 and 3 a.m. we found the door of T. J. Cronin's liquor store open and the policeman on duty, Mr. Sullivan, manager, who secured same. Those Sullivan, Ira D. Perry."

Chief Clark when seen last night after the investigation said that the matter would get the fullest airing. The chief said that the accusation has been a great blow to him, as he has never heard any such complaint before in all his experience. The chief gives both men a good character.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

SENSATIONAL CHARGES MADE

Officers T. Sullivan and Ira Perry Accused of Burglary

Stoutly Protest Their Innocence, and Tell Plausible Story—Chief Clark Suspends Men and Begins Inquiry

These Sullivan and Ira Perry have been summoned, charged with the serious crime of breaking into a saloon early yesterday morning. The charge is made by William Pyne, manager of T. Cronin's liquor store on Gormet street. The affair was under investigation by Chief Clark last night, but was not finished. The suspended officers, however, affirm their innocence, and tell a story which decidedly puts another side to the case.

The story as told by Wm. Pyne is that about three weeks ago he arrived one morning and found a policeman's padlock on the door, and from the till there was missing $158. He hurriedly called the police and after 1:30 when footpads were heard and each of the doors was tried. Shortly afterwards again there were footpads, this time apparently of two men, and a dog came in scolding about the premises.

It was very long before again there were steps which, says Mr. Pyne, he recognized as the same as before. He had not. The latter was turned in walked two men. One of them struck a match whereupon Mr. Pyne saw the faces of the two men. He had not found the door open this time to which one of the policemen is alleged to have admitted the two men. Mr. Pyne thereupon told them he slept in the building now and left them.

Going out in the street in his bare head he told the driver of one of the slaughter house teams and informed him of the men being in the saloon. Later he met Sgt. Campbell and to him told the whole story.

Both officers feel that the position of Officer Sullivan says that he will immediately take legal action against his accuser. There seems little doubt, therefore, that the matter will be aired in the courts.

The officers' position may well be summed up by the report which they in regular course put on the police records yesterday morning.

"Between 2 and 3 a.m. we found the door of T. J. Cronin's liquor store open and the policeman on duty, Mr. Sullivan, manager, who secured same. Those Sullivan, Ira D. Perry."

Chief Clark when seen last night after the investigation said that the matter would get the fullest airing. The chief said that the accusation has been a great blow to him, as he has never heard any such complaint before in all his experience. The chief gives both men a good character.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

At the investigation, however, it is understood that the men in their defense had the fact that at the time when the doors were first tried and apparently also when the dog was let out, Officer Perry was asleep in his relief hour off duty, while Officer Sullivan said he had witnesses to prove that he was at the time at Market square.

The Globe CLOTHING HOUSE

Has opened today a fine stock of new

Boy's Clothing,

All new goods, cheap, with a large lot of Neckwear, White Shirts, Colored Shirts, Top Shirts, Underwear, in great variety.

Sox, Braces, Suit Cases, Umbrellas, Overcoats, Men's Pants, Boys' Pants,

With a lot of sample Dress Shirts and Colored Shirts, at 50c on the dollar, or one dollar Shirts for 50c

.....ALL AT.....

The GLOBE,
7 and 9 Foot of King Street.

DR. ANNAND IS NEW MODERATOR

Former Missionary Head of Maritime Presbyterians.

Retiring Moderator in Able Sermon in-terestingly Sketches Progress of Canadian Presbyterianism

MONCTON, Oct. 2.—The election of Rev. Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the first session of the synod of the Maritime Provinces convened at St. John's Presbyterian church this evening.

The election of Dr. Annand as moderator was the principal business transacted at the