off and threshing had commenced when I left on October 3rd. There are also grand opportunities for the rearing of horses, cattle, pigs, sheep and poultry, and from what I saw, I believe mixed farming would be the most profit-able. Horses are most easily reared. They are old enough to work. I saw horses rol-ling fat that had raised a colt each year and had not been in the stable one day in ten years. Cattle have to be sheltered through the winter. Their food in general consist of stow hay, wheat and oat straw, but they grow much faster than our cattle do when turged on the grass. Their cattle at two years of age are as large as the cat-tle in N. B. would be at three years of age, the to the piesure of driving one mile tie in N. B. would be at three years of aga. Their cattle at four years are as large as our largest oxen. I had the pleasure of driving over miles of fine grazing land while going to York-town with Levi Thomson, crown prosecutor for Eastern Assiniboia, who was attending court before Judge Wetmore. While there I met several gentlemen who had made con-siderable money handling cattle. Hogs are eagerly sought for by butchers at all times, and it is a wonder to me that there are not more of them raised when one takes into consideration how cheaply they can be grown. There is always more or less Sirun-ken grain, and some years frozen wheat, which can be bought for twenty cents per bushel. Experiments has proved that a tushel of frozen wheat will produce as many pounds of pork as a bushel of No. I hard. An Ontario gentleman passed through Wolseley a few days ago with three car-loads of live hogs. He was taking them to British Columbia. He said he could af-ford to feed his hogs (when finishing them for market) wheat worth sixty-five cents and go do porth sixty cents per bushel. If he could afford to do that in Ontario and market them in British Columbia, there must be a gool opportunity for these far-" 0 221/one hundred and twenty-five acres, you can have two hundred or three hundred and fity acres of crop each year. Another important point is that it costs nothing to winter your horses. You work them all summar, and when you are through turn them out to graze on the prairie. They will come through all right without any other food or shelter. I saw on Senator Perley's 'arm horses that had been used as I have described ten years atd wave still good, serviceable horses. Mr. Perley takes them up about two weeks be-fore he commences work in the spring, and gives them some oats, so as to get them hardened up. I believe the prairie grass is much better than our grass. Although an acre out there would not yield so much tood as an acre in New Brunswick, the quality more than makes up for quantity. I have driven hoses that got nothing but prairie hay that would travel at the rate of seven or eight miles per hour for twenty miles and not lay a hair. So you see that after a man has once learned the proper methods of farming in that country, he ought to make a living much easter than he can in this country. It was not so at first, when many a man lost thousands by not know-ing heast few years they have been most successful. Any one going to that country with the
