The first points to the exclusion of the text book-the only authorized basis of the instructions given.

The second proposes the entire elimination of the subject from the ex-aminations-the only test of the efficiency of the teaching, at least during the school life of the pupil. There must be some recognized authority, hence the necessity of a text book. We must have examinations to test the pupil's knowledge of this subject as well as others, because the status of the teacher and indirectly the remuneration he receives depends so largely upon the success his pupils achieve in passing their examinations, and while these conditions prevail, it is vain to hope that either teacher or pupil will give much attention to any matter that does not count on these

DOUGLASS-At Sackville, N. B., to Mr. and Just once Fitzsimmons touched the floor

Just once Fitzsimmons touched the floot, when he slipped down from a clinch at the end of a round. In the sixth round Ruhlin was slow in coming to time, while Fitzsim-mons jumped at his man. It was then a question of who would land a telling punch, as both men were much fatigued. Fitzsim-mons, always the quicker on his feet, was able to get around Ruhlin, and while the latter sent straight lefts for Fitzsimmons's head, Bob side-stepped safely and landed lefts on the body and right to the head. With a volley of lefts and rights to the head and neck and a fearful left on the solar rlexus Fitzsimmons sent Ruhlin in a heap PISHOP-CHASE—At Chipman, N. B., on Aug. 8th, by Rev. W. E. nine seconds of the count, arcse to his feet, sroggy from the effects of the solar plexus blow. As soon as Ruhlin got up, Fitzsim-mons rushed, sending two lefts to the face, and then shot his right with fearful force to the point of Ruhlin's jaw. Gus pitched forward as if struck with an axe, and fell on his face to the floor, where he was count-ed out and had to be carried to his corner. Wild scenes were then enacted in and about the ring. Fitzsimmons left the ring five minutes after he had delivered the winning punch, but it took Ruhlin twelve minutes to come around sufficiently to be able<sup>73</sup>to walk to his dressing room. Fitzsimmons was still a little bit dazed when he reached his room. He soon recovered his reason, and then indulged in a hearty laugh. "Well," he said, "I'm an old fellow and a has-been, eh? Well, I guess I was good enough for Mr. Ruhlin, and he was not so bad either. That was as tough a battle as ever I went through, but I'm still good one, and with a little more experience he will about do. He hit me some corking wal-lops, and although I did not realize it at the time, I can tell you he can punch a bit. I was very tired, but the further the bout went the more positive I felt that I could finish him. Towards the close Ruhlin grew very weak, and I knew I had only to steady my-self a little in order to get him. He gave me a good fight, and I can give him nothing but praise." Corbett, who acted as one of Ruhlin's seconds, also declared that Ruhlin was overtrained. Charlie White, when asked what he thought of the fight, replied: "It was a hard and fierce battle, in which both men fought fairly. Fitzsimmons clear-ly demonstrated that he is not a has-been and still has the punch that wins. THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS. Round 1.—They mest in the centre of the ring, both feinting. Fitz landed a light right on the ear and Ruhlin countered with a light right on the chest. Ruhlin rushed in, put-ting his left across the chest, sending Bob back to the ropes. Fitz broke ground and came to the centre quickly. He fell short with the left and right to the body. Fitz then hooked left to chin, and Gus came back with left and right to the body. Fitz bored in, but in a mixup Gus beat him off to the ropes with a left and right to the face. Ruhlin went at Bob with both hands to the head, cutting Bob's left eye, and Bob slipped to the floor. As he got up, Ruhlin, who did not hear the bell, swung on Fitz's face. Bob's seconds claimed a foul, but it was not allowed. Round 2.—Gus was the aggressor. Bob under and lefts on the face, and a ratiling exchange followed. Fitz hooked left to the how with left and right to the body, which made Gus wobble, and another rapid mix up followed. Bob bored in, but Gus met him with left to face. Both were fighting wildly. Fitz sent a hard left to the body, which made Gus wobble, and he clinched. Ruhlin sent a left to face and repeated the blow. Fitz shot left on the sar and brought his feet.
